

Damrosch and N. Y. Symphony Orchestra Coming

One of Most Notable Orchestral Organizations in the World to Give Three Concerts Here, Direction Steers-Coman.

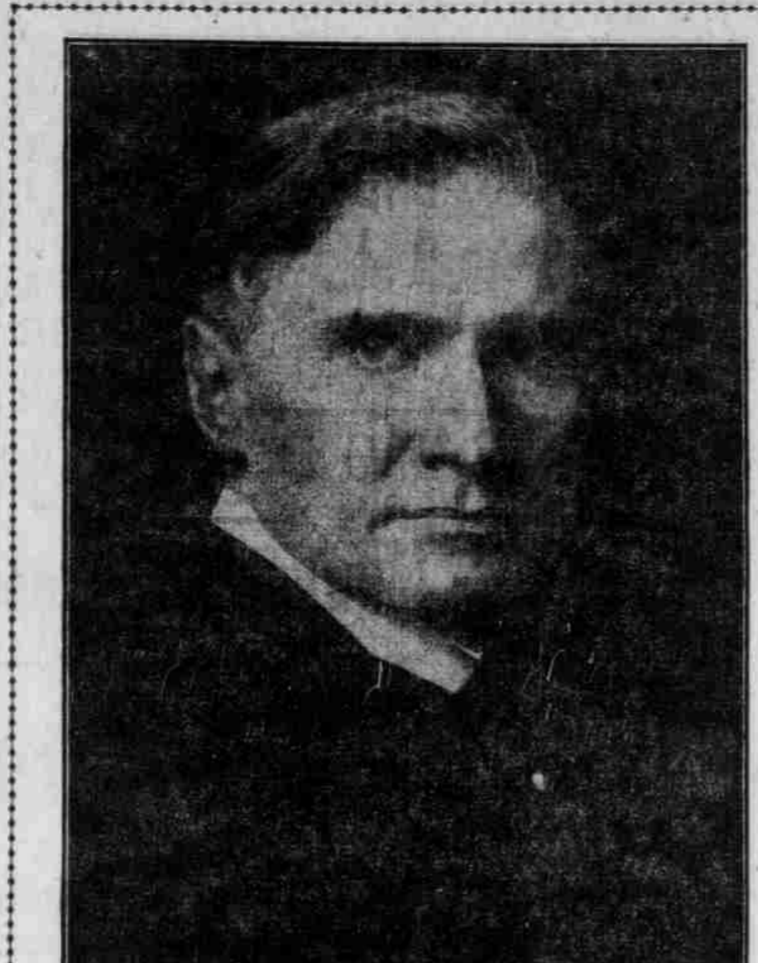

THE announcement that Mr. Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony Orchestra are to appear during the Rose Festival week has created great interest in musical circles. Music lovers generally appreciate the importance of this engagement, for the orchestra ranks with the best symphonic organizations of the world, while its leader, Walter Damrosch, is probably the most distinguished musician in America.

From every viewpoint, musical, educational, social, the three concerts will be the most important events of the entire musical season. This is the first time in the history of the New York Symphony Orchestra that it has ever undertaken such an extensive tour, its many Eastern engagements keeping the men so busy that a Western tour had always seemed impossible. The management, however, made such a strong bid for the Damrosch organization, and arranged so extensively and completely a tour for them that many of the extreme difficulties attendant upon the moving of so many men were reduced to nothing in the way of an obstacle, and Damrosch and his orchestra will visit every city of importance in the entire Northwest.

Programmes of greatest excellence, that will appeal to all classes of concert-goers are promised for the three orchestral concerts here in Portland, the first of which will be on Wednesday evening, the 24 of June, a matinee on Thursday and a final performance Thursday evening, June 4, will complete what is undoubtedly the most important musical event ever given in the Rose City. Mr. Damrosch will bring his orchestral soloists, and beside that, he will have with him the famous young soprano, Miss De Moss, engaged especially for solo work on this tour. The concerts will be given in the Armory, which will be transformed for the occasion into the most comfortable and artistic auditorium. The tour of the Damrosch orchestra is under the sole direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman.

THE WEEK IN PORTLAND THEATERS

Monahan, the phenomenal skater, and all the others.

Next week, beginning Monday, another all-star aggregation will occupy the boards. The programme will be found to contain nine numbers, and assurance can be given that there will be no lagging of interest. In some respects the new show is superior to the one just drawing to a close. There will be two features, the most noteworthy, being the appearance of Frederick Makmuri, the celebrated violinist. Makmuri was billed for two weeks ago, but was suddenly taken ill, thus being unable to appear until this time. He is a player of rare ability, and invariably causes a liberal flow of tears from those affected by the music of a master hand. It is a musical treat not to be overlooked.

Carter and Waters in the new and merry comedy, "The Wise Mr. Conn," is the other feature, and it is a worthy one, the cast being composed of competent people. There is many a hearty laugh in the act.

Axtell and Heine have a novel comedy turn known as the "India Rubber Man and His Acrobatic Dogs." It is another vaudeville treat. Pauley and Healey in "My Friend From India." This is the first time he has been seen here since he was a star at the Marquam. Perkins is an original comedian who is in a class of his own.

"Too Many Darlings" is a lively comedy which will be offered by those purveyors of fun, Gardner and Madder. Their act is so clever and amusing that it will be the special added attraction. Katherine Nugent will present a singing and comedy number. Miss Nugent was the original Flora Wiggins in "The College Widow," and when she was here at the Heilig she was one of the special hits of the performance. Miss Nugent is a rare comedienne and her specialty is reported as being a very humorous affair.

Golden and Hughes are a brace of comedy boomers and will have as their vehicle "Sisera's Visit to the City." In this the young woman will have a sort of Sis Hopkins part, in which she is considered the rival of Rose Melville. The only and original Trolley-Car Trio of eccentric acrobats will be on the list of many features. This is of the Belle Poule, and afterwards rose to the rank of captain in the merchant marine, and had retired years ago, when he went to reside at Toulon.

Creates Scene at Funeral.

PARIS, April 4.—(Special.)—Jean Maturin, who was thought dead, was about to be buried at Oran the other day, when he suddenly woke and enlivened the mourners by uttering all sorts of threats against the undertaker. Before the law, however, he is a dead man, and has to make an application to be resuscitated.
