

The Oregonian

Subscription Rates: Daily, Sunday included, one year, $10.00; Daily, Sunday included, six months, $6.00; Daily, Sunday included, three months, $3.50; Daily, Sunday included, one month, $1.25; Daily, without Sunday, one year, $8.00; Daily, without Sunday, six months, $5.00; Daily, without Sunday, three months, $3.00; Daily, without Sunday, one month, $1.00; Sunday, one year, $5.00; Sunday, six months, $3.00; Sunday, three months, $1.75; Sunday, one month, $0.50.

Portage Rates: Entered at Portland, Oregon, Postoffice No. 100, Second-class matter, authorized by Postoffice Department, October 3, 1907. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Act of October 3, 1917, authorized by Act of October 3, 1917, authorized by Act of October 3, 1917.

Eastern Business Office: The C. Reynolds Agency, New York, rooms 45-50 Tribune building, Chicago, rooms 810-812 Tribune building.

Keefe on Sale: Chicago, Auditorium, America, Pacific News, New York, West, Empire News Stand, St. Paul, Minn., N. H. Star, Commercial.

Approaching Crisis in Japan: The course of events in the Far East will be studied with unusual interest in the coming year, for whether it is warranted or not, there seems to be a world-wide feeling that the crisis is ripe for an upheaval, followed by a striking readjustment of territorial lines.

THE OREGON PRIMARY ELECTION.

The most obvious consequence of the primary election Primary is that the Democratic side is enormously strengthened in their dominant position in Oregon politics. There has been a victory for Statement No. 1, since Republicans care nothing more for party and are determined that there shall be no party in Oregon except the Democratic party.

What has happened in the state at large has been the nomination of a number of candidates for the Legislature who have subscribed to Statement No. 1, and of numerous other Republican candidates who have taken no such pledge and who refuse to accept the principle of the Statement as a guide or rule of action for themselves in the Legislature.

A NARROW VIEW.

Mr. C. H. Walker may be a competent adviser on some matters not yet exploited, but when being appealed to by a friend as to the best course to which to send his son, Mr. Walker mentioned as his first choice one for which he has a warm feeling, because of his own youthful associations, his second one that awakened missionary associations in his mind, and his third one for which he has a feeling of local pride as being near his present home.

foundation, that the aim and purpose of all opponents of the Republican Party is to show the senatorial election back into the Legislature in the old way and subject to all the objections and corruptions of the old method.

But no matter. Republicans by their action have abdicated the right to require Republican members of the Legislature to vote for a Republican for Senator and have expressly authorized them, or such of them as have signed Statement No. 1, to vote for Governor Chamberlain, a Democrat.

But no matter. Republicans by their action have abdicated the right to require Republican members of the Legislature to vote for a Republican for Senator and have expressly authorized them, or such of them as have signed Statement No. 1, to vote for Governor Chamberlain, a Democrat.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

An interesting point of law has just been decided by the United States Court of Appeals at St. Louis. An injunction sought by the Burlington State Railroad Commission from Attorney General Clegg to restrain the railroad from charging rates in excess of those authorized by the act of Congress.

THE OUTLOOK FOR MR. BRYAN.

Intelligent observers of the signs of the times entertain little doubt that Mr. Bryan will be the nominee of the Democratic party to succeed Mr. Taft in the White House.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

of the Heavens, the emotions of Europe were sustaining the Inquisition. Upon the whole, were we given the choice of living in a world governed by pure reason or pure emotion, would it be demonstrably wiser to choose the former?

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

An interesting point of law has just been decided by the United States Court of Appeals at St. Louis. An injunction sought by the Burlington State Railroad Commission from Attorney General Clegg to restrain the railroad from charging rates in excess of those authorized by the act of Congress.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

territory which Mr. Bryan is likely to conquer this Fall. The states which he carried and which Judge Parker, the idol of the plutocrats, lost were Colorado, Montana, Missouri, Nevada and Idaho. It is possible that all of these may become Bryan states again, but hardly probable.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

An interesting point of law has just been decided by the United States Court of Appeals at St. Louis. An injunction sought by the Burlington State Railroad Commission from Attorney General Clegg to restrain the railroad from charging rates in excess of those authorized by the act of Congress.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

territory which Mr. Bryan is likely to conquer this Fall. The states which he carried and which Judge Parker, the idol of the plutocrats, lost were Colorado, Montana, Missouri, Nevada and Idaho. It is possible that all of these may become Bryan states again, but hardly probable.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

An interesting point of law has just been decided by the United States Court of Appeals at St. Louis. An injunction sought by the Burlington State Railroad Commission from Attorney General Clegg to restrain the railroad from charging rates in excess of those authorized by the act of Congress.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

HELIOS DALE.

In New York, about sixty miles south of Buffalo, there is a village with the romantic name of Lily Dale. It is said to be a charming spot embosomed in fertile farms and blooming orchards, with a population scantily endowed with worldly wealth and credulous imaginations.

CONCERNING INJUNCTIONS.

The main standing of the modern view of the injunction is to deprive accused workmen of a jury trial and imprison them by arbitrary procedure. It is this feature of the matter which excites the wrath of the unions.

THE ORDER OF KNIGHTS TEMPLARS

IT HAS been thought that a sketch of the origin of the Knights of the Temple, and of the adoption of the symbolism derived from the order, for use in Speculative Masonry, should be offered on this occasion. Necessarily, for this purpose, the sketch must be brief.

Other orders of Christian Knighthood existed long before that of the Knights of the Temple was created. That of the Knights of the Red Cross of Rome and of the Knights of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem, and the Knights of St. John, and Knights of the Grand Cross, were of much earlier date than the Knights of the Temple order.

For the space of seven or eight hundred years the Pope exercised sovereign authority over the various orders of Christian Knighthood. These passed into secular and gradually they withdrew from the Crusades and gave rise to the great orders founded in the 13th century for defense of the Latin Kingdom of Jerusalem.

The Templars were black men with white crosses, the Templars white men with red crosses and the Teutonic Knights white men with black crosses. The spirit and purpose that gave rise to the Templars was the same as that which animated the other orders of Christian Knighthood.

VERSE

To make this condition, your poet begs The peopled yellow of two hard-baked loaves. Two boiled potatoes, passed through Kitchen-sieve Smoothness and softness to the salad give.

CHILDREN MUST BE PAID FOR

Sweet is the sound of infant voice; Young innocence is full of charms; There's not a pleasure half so choice, As tending up a child in arms.

FROM A WOMAN'S JOURNAL.

Many people are like impressionable pictures, lovely and lovable, but when the Marriage is the act with which man invests his sweetheart of today against his sweetheart of tomorrow.