MAYOR RETURNS TO THE ATTACK

Lane Writes Again to People on Subject of Municipal Lighting.

ASSAILS POWER COMPANY

Declares City Pays Too Much for Its Street Lights, Considering Service Furnished—Sees Solution in Municipal Ownership.

Mayor Lane yesterday issued another letter to the people of Portland on the subject of municipal lighting, in which he reiterates that the cost for electric lights is excessive and that some means must be found to cut the expense down. He holds up municipal ownership of a generating and distributing plant as the only salvation. He asserts that public administration of this utility has been largely successful, notwithstanding the statements to the contrary by President Josselyn, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. The Mayor concludes by saying that, insofar as his power extends, he will protest against such a "strangle-hold," as he declares the corporation has upon the people.

Mayor Lane's letter is as follows:

To the People of the City of Portland: In the matter of the public lighting of the city there are some points which are worthy of your serious consideration at this time. [illegible]

[illegible]

...of these expenditures the interest of the people, by right, is first to be considered.

I have no wish to do injustice to the rights of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. It is entitled to all which belongs to it, but to nothing more. The people of the city, too, have their interests, and they reach out into the homes of many persons. Their interests are as important to them and just as sacred and worthy of careful consideration and respect as are those others. The bulk of such expenditures are borne by them, and their rights may not, in justice and decency, be usurped or juggled by any one. And insofar and just so far, as it lies within my power, I shall protest against the fastening of such a "strangle-hold" as this upon them.

Respectfully,
HARRY LANE, Mayor.

MAKING HIT WITH HIS BOYS

Sunday School Teacher Finds a New Way to Keep Up Class Interest.

A New York Sunday school teacher on the upper West Side has a class of boys who are all at the age when to sit in the upper gallery at a burlesque theater is the most delightful sensation in the world except going to the circus. It didn't take the teacher long to discover the inclinations of his boys, and being a diplomatic sort of teacher, he didn't scold them and tell them how sinful it is for little boys to go to the theater, and especially to sit in the gallery where only naughty little boys go.

No, the teacher made an appointment with every boy in the class to meet him the following Saturday afternoon, each boy to wear his Sunday clothes and be equipped with a bag of peanuts. At the hour set the teacher found that every boy had been on hand an hour ahead of time.

He led the way to the nearest burlesque house and bought tickets in the gallery for himself and his party. The theater never had a more appreciative audience, and the Sunday school teacher won't soon forget the afternoon's experience.

It took six months of Sunday school lessons to wipe out the memories of that afternoon, and the teacher then made an announcement that gave him absolute control of every boy for life and stamped him as the best Sunday school teacher who ever asked if any little boy had memorized the golden text. The teacher merely said that inasmuch as he believed that every boy ought to know how to defend himself he had arranged to have the entire class admitted to a "really truly" pugilistic contest in a nearby athletic club.

The teacher carried out his promise, and the very next Sunday each boy went to Sunday school accompanied by three new boys. It is one of the few cases on record in which a Sunday school class developed healthy growth out of the Christmas, Easter or picnic season.

GALLING TIES CUT

Two Unhappy Wives Freed From Husbands.

COURT GRANTS DIVORCES

Adaline Stevens Says Spouse Was Cruel and Jealous—Addie L. Fairchild Deserted After Year of Married Life—Court News.

Two unhappy wives were relieved from galling matrimonial bonds in the state Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. Adaline Stevens was granted a divorce from Aaron L. Stevens because of cruelty and unwarranted jealousy. Addie L. Fairchild was given a divorce from John F. Fairchild because of having been deserted.

Forty-two years of matrimonial trials and tribulations, with few hours of sunshine in the entire period, had been the lot of Mrs. Stevens, according to her testimony before Judge Gantenbein. She said they were married December 18, 1866, at Bronson, Michigan, and that her life has been rendered miserable ever since that eventful day. Notwithstanding dawning old age, and the fact that they have two grown daughters, both married, Stevens has been very jealous of late years, Mrs. Stevens said. Only a short time ago he shadowed her when she was on her way to church one Sunday night, and when she stopped to visit for a few minutes with a friend Stevens accused her wrongfully of having met some man. Further than that, she has been left almost entirely dependent upon her two married daughters for several years, she said.

Mrs. Fairchild married John Fairchild in Portland, October 29, 1904. He deserted her in little more than a year, and has never been back.

SUES RAILROAD FOR TRUNK

Mrs. Maxwell Avers It Contained Property Worth $815.

After trying for three months to recover a trunk containing her Sunday clothes and jewelry, Mrs. Leila C. Maxwell, of Clatskanie, filed a suit in the Circuit Court yesterday against the Astoria & Columbia River Railway Company, which she accuses of having allowed her effects to be stolen.

The complaint recites that following a Christmas visit among friends in Portland, Mrs. Maxwell returned to her home at Clatskanie. In her trunk she left her jewelry, diamonds, pearls and gold trinkets galore, all valued at $815. It is alleged that someone broke into the baggage room at Clatskanie while the entire station force was away getting dinner and stole the trunk aforesaid. The railway company having refused to settle in full, as per itemized list of contents of trunk, Mrs. Maxwell asks the court to try its hand at collecting.

ATTACK WALTON INFORMATION

Lawyers for Highwayman Question District Attorney's Authority.

A motion to strike from the Circuit Court records an information against "Babe" Walton, the notorious young highwayman now awaiting retrial, was presented before Circuit Judge Cleland yesterday and taken under advisement. As in many previous cases where informations have been returned direct by the District Attorney, his authority to take such action is questioned. Briefs will be submitted in the case.

Walton held up a streetcar and shot Patrolman Nelson four years ago. He was tried, convicted and given a lengthy term in the penitentiary. Making use of a technicality, Walton's lawyers appealed to the Supreme Court for a retrial on the grounds that Walton was never arraigned previous to his trial and did not plead. The Supreme Court held this oversight sufficient to warrant the new trial and ordered Walton released from the penitentiary and given over to the Multnomah County authorities.

Gets $2000 From Phone Company.

Damages in the sum of $2000 were awarded J. J. Brown against the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company by a jury in the Circuit Court yesterday forenoon. Brown asked $5000 for damages to his knees sustained in falling over a telephone pole which had been left in the street by the defendant company. On the first trial of the case Brown was given $3000 damages. Appeal was taken and on the retrial, just concluded, his damages were cut to $2000. The jury was out only a short time.

Non-Suit in Cooper vs. Paquet Case.

Non-suit was granted yesterday afternoon by Circuit Judge O'Day in the action of Mae Cooper against Joseph Paquet, to recover $10,000 damages for personal injuries. Mrs. Cooper occupied a three-story house owned by Paquet at East Morrison and East Water streets in 1906. One night the place caught fire. Inasmuch as there was no fire-escape on the building, Mrs. Cooper was compelled to jump from the third floor. She dislocated her hip and sustained other injuries, for which she asked $10,000 as compensation, maintaining that Paquet was responsible by reason of not having rendered the place reasonably safe.

Dairyman Sues Partner.

H. P. Torrey filed suit against his partner in the dairy business, H. P. Kimball, in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. Torrey says Kimball sold the personal effects of their farm in Clark County, Washington, for $2500 without consulting him. He asks for a dissolution of partnership and an accounting.

Thief Given Indeterminate Sentence

For the theft of $24 from Ora C. Baker several months ago, C. O. Strong was given an indeterminate sentence yesterday. He will accordingly serve from one to seven years in the penitentiary. Larceny was the charge and the sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday afternoon.

STUDY PORTLAND METHODS

Montana Boosters Come Here for Ideas in Promotion Work.

C. B. Roberts and Evan C. Day, of Kalispell, Mont., are in Portland as a special delegation representing the Kalispell Chamber of Commerce, to study the methods of advertising in vogue by the Portland Commercial Club and the Oregon Development League.

Kalispell now has a population of about 6000, and is an active and progressive town, depending principally upon the products of the farm and its timber resources. Discussing the large shipments of grain from Portland to foreign countries, Mr. Day said:

"Portland will be under greater obligations to our section of Montana than she has been in the past, for while you have succeeded in handling more than one-half the grain produced on the Pacific Coast, when the Great Northern comes down the North Bank of the Columbia, it will bring us closer together, and our grain, like that along the Harriman lines, will find its outlet down the Columbia.

"We have a great country and we have a good town, but we want to make the country better and the town greater. We are down here studying advertising plans, and have gotten a good deal of information which we will apply when we get home."

Both Mr. Roberts and Mr. Day expressed great gratification at the prosperity they noted in Portland.

Premier to Make Seven Speeches.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 18.—It is semi-officially announced that Premier Sir Wilfrid Laurier will deliver only seven speeches in British Columbia on his proposed trip to the Coast this year. He will not go to Prince Rupert. His addresses will be at Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo, New Westminster, Kamloops, Nelson and Cranbrook.

GOVERNOR MAKING READY

CHAMBERLAIN PREPARING FOR HIS CAMPAIGN.

Tour May Be One of Spellbinding or Not, According as Opponent Sets the Example.

SALEM, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—Immediately after the primaries, Governor George E. Chamberlain will begin an active and aggressive campaign for popular endorsement for United States Senator. Whether it will be a stump-speaking campaign or a still hunt, will depend largely upon the sort of campaign the Republican candidate may put up. If Fulton should be nominated and should return to his duties in Washington, Chamberlain would probably not engage in a stump-speaking campaign, though he would, undoubtedly, make a few speeches—perhaps as many as Fulton has made in the primary campaign. If Fulton should remain in Oregon, or come back here later and tour the state, Chamberlain will undoubtedly take the stump and make things as warm as possible for the Republican nominee.

Should Mr. Cake be the nominee, it is certain that the campaign would be one of oratory, for Cake would probably take the stump at once in his own behalf and Chamberlain would map out a tour for himself. Chamberlain's campaign, as indicated by his recent address before the Jeffersonian Club in this city, will be an indorsement of those National policies advocated by Roosevelt and also, in the main, by Bryan, and particular stress will be laid upon tariff revision, timber reservation, river and harbor improvements and reclamation of arid lands. Of course, popular election of Senators will be the feature of the Chamberlain campaign. If Cake should be the nominee, there will be no issue between the Republican and Democratic candidates upon this question. If Fulton should be nominated, Chamberlain will press Senator Fulton for a definite statement of his attitude upon the question whether the Legislature should elect the people's choice.

But whether the Chamberlain campaign be one of stump-speaking or not, it is certain to be an aggressive one. W. N. Gatens, the Governor's private secretary, is a political worker of considerable experience and an organizer of forces. His organization in the last campaign had a very important effect upon the result of the Gubernatorial election. By many political workers Gatens is credited with political sagacity second only to that possessed by the Governor. He will be in charge of the headquarters of the Governor's campaign and will keep something doing all the time. With a 20,000 majority to overcome, he will try at least to let the voters know the Governor is in the race.

Driven From School by Fire.

POULTNEY, Vt., April 18.—About 150 boys and girls were driven from a five-story brick dormitory of the Troy Academy today when the structure was suddenly enveloped by fire. The young people all escaped, although one boy was hurt by jumping. The loss is estimated at $80,000. The school is maintained by the Methodist Episcopal Church.
