HOLMAN KEEPS FAVORITE HORSE.—Dolly,

the horse driven for so many years by ex-Battalion Chief Holden, will spend the remainder of her life on the farm of Mr. Holden, near the toll gate on the Mount Hood road. On many a stormy night and day Dolly has taken Mr. Holden to dress on both sides of the river, and one of the reasons Mr. Holden could not be relieved was that the animal should be turned over to him, which was granted. The ex-Chief knew that Dolly had served her day in the fire department and feared she might fall into the hands of some one who would treat her badly.

A new era of development is promised the Hood River Valley this week through the action of the Stanley-Smith Lumber Company, which has been granted a license to clear the forest in the fertile foothills close to town and now available to investors and settlers, and the extremely moderate figure at which they are offered will mean that thousands of young orchards will soon dot these hills. The tract is being handled by Mac Rae & Angus, 421 Commercial, and by Frank Davidson, Sr., in the valley.

COMMENCING April 12 and continuing every Sunday during the summer season, the Portland Railway Light & Power Company will let off passengers going westward in Washington street, between Second and Twenty-third streets, from 1 to 7 P. M., use double doors and reading "No stops east of Twenty-third and Washington streets." An extra service will be given on Washington street to accommodate persons desiring to go a few blocks up Washington street, or to the City Park.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE BROWN.—Mrs. Sarah H. Brown, who lives at 6 East Fourteenth street, North, has just received word of the death, April 22, of her mother, Mrs. George Brown, at Eagle Point, Jackson County. Mrs. Brown was a pioneer woman. Ten children out of a family of 13 are still living. She was born in Yorkshire, England, June 11, 1822, and settled in Jackson County in 1860. The funeral was held in Jacksonville, Friday.

EFFICIENT MAY 1. All cars of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company within the city limits of Portland and its suburbs, including St. John, will stop only at the main transfer points, and no longer being done at railroad intersections. Conductors of the Portland Railway Division are instructed to permit passengers to get on and off cars at forward vestibules, when desired, and on forward vestibule of Portland Heights cars.

PEOPLE'S FORUM TOMORROW.—The Army Appropriation bill, the Hunsley corrupt practice act and the proposed amendment to the Oregon Constitution to increase the pay of members of the Legislature will be discussed tonight at the regular meeting of the People's Forum in Seaside High school, Tenth and Washington streets. A. R. Coulter will make the principal address with general discussion to follow under the rule of the forum.

REPAIR WORK IS DELAYED.—Although it has been over a month since the contract for the East Twenty-eighth street reinforced concrete bridge over Sullivan's Gulch was let, nothing has been done toward starting construction. Realists and property-owners are asking the cause of this delay, the weather being in every way favorable for the prosecution of the work.

BAR TO ATTEND FUNERAL.—The members of the Bar Association will attend the funeral of C. A. Cogswell, which will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at the Portland Crematorium, under the direction of the Portland Lodge of Masons. Mr. Cogswell was a prominent lawyer, the eldest son of John Cogswell, a pioneer, bound for the city last Friday morning.

NOTE THIS JOHN C. WELCH.—John C. Welch, son of Dr. John Welch, and president of the John Welch Dental Depot, desires the public to know that he is not the John C. Welch who figured in the Police Court recently. The latter is said to be driver of a laundry wagon.

MRS. DEFOUL WILL SPEAK.—Mrs. L. S. Defoul, of Hood River, will address the United East Side push clubs, at the meeting in the Sargent Hotel, Grand and Hawthorne avenues, next Tuesday night. Her subject will be, "Opportunity of the Hour."

THE OREGON ART STUDENTS' LEAGUE announces classes in painting, drawing and composition under Frank Vincent DuMont, beginning about May 1 continuing six weeks. Information can be had by addressing H. P. Wentz, Art Museum.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

County Convention Tomorrow in the Taylor-Street Church.

The convention of the Multnomah County Sunday School Association will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Taylor-street Methodist Church. There will also be a session at 7:45 o'clock, when officers will be elected and a report rendered by the financial committee. Marion Lawrence, of Chicago, general secretary of the association, will deliver an address at tomorrow night's session. Rev. W. C. Morrill will be the speaker at the afternoon meeting and Professor E. O. Excell, of Chicago, will conduct the song service. Mr. Lawrence and Professor Excell have come to Oregon to attend the state Sunday School convention, which will meet in Forest Grove Wednesday night. It is expected that every Sunday school in the county will be represented at tomorrow's sessions.

Mr. Lawrence will speak and Professor Excell will sing at the mass meeting to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the White Temple. At 7:30 o'clock they will participate in the services in the First Congregational Church.

Following is the programme for the sessions tomorrow in Taylor-street Church:

2 P. M.—Song and Praise Service, Professor E. O. Excell, address, Rev. W. C. Morrill; song, round table: "Ask Marion Lawrence," announcements, song and benediction.

7:45 P. M.—Song and Praise Service, report of nominating committee, election, report of finance committee, address, A. H. Cross; address, Marion Lawrence, general secretary; installation of officers, Marion Lawrence; prayer and benediction.

START CLOSING MOVEMENT

Consumers' League Wants Stores to Shut Doors Saturday Evenings.

At a meeting of the Consumers' League held yesterday afternoon in the Unitarian Church, plans were considered for the inauguration of a movement to secure the closing of stores Saturday evenings. After considerable preliminary discussion it was decided to extend an invitation to all the churches, commercial, industrial and civic organizations to co-operate with the Consumers' League in bringing the Saturday night closing question before the public. The organization will be asked to send three delegates to attend a general meeting to be held in the Unitarian Church parlors, Monday afternoon, May 4, at 2 o'clock, when a definite programme will be outlined.

It was the sense of the meeting that every effort should be made to secure the co-operation of the business men before appealing to public sentiment. Yesterday's meeting was largely preliminary, for the purpose of ascertaining the attitude of the various organizations toward the question under consideration.

Brief addresses commending the movement were made by Mrs. Sarah Evans, market inspector; Mrs. F. Sargent, president of the Women's Club; Miss Constance McCormick, of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe, R. A. Harris, of the Labor Press; James Bell, of Olds, Wortman & King; Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher and Dr. R. S. Muckley. Mrs. M. R. Trumbull presided.

CHARITY BALL BIG EVENT

PREPARATIONS HAVE BEEN ON ELABORATE SCALE.

Chorus of 25 Voices Will Sing at Party in Masonic Temple Thursday Night.

The executive committee having in charge the grand charity ball to be given by the Knights Templars next Thursday night at the new Masonic Temple, West Park and Yamhill streets, in aid of the Baby Home, is much gratified at the success which has been so far achieved, and the sale of tickets which guarantees a large attendance. The two committees, one of which is composed exclusively of Knights Templars, and the other of women connected with the Baby Home, have spared no pains in making the arrangements for this great charitable and social event a success in every particular, not only financially, which, of course, is of prime importance, but as well for the enjoyment of those who participate.

At a recent ball given under the auspices of the assembly, those who were present are enthusiastic in their praise of the splendid ballroom in the Temple, which has been pronounced by many to be the best on the Pacific Coast.

The dance programme has been arranged with great care, embracing several numbers of new dance music which Professor Fray has recently received from the East and which his orchestra has been assiduously practicing for the occasion. Wilder's harp and string quartet has prepared a special programme, which will be as follows:

Adagio cantabile (Sonata pathétique) (Beethoven), Meditation sur preludio di (Bach), Il Solitario (Kocher), Fantasia ("Carmen") (Bizet), Melodie in F (Rubinstein), Appassionata Eligia (Graziani), "Chimes of Normandy" (Planquette), "Sing, Sing, Sing" (Gounod), Intermezzo ("Cavalleria Rusticana") (Mascagni), Les Campanilles (Boethoven), Nurt Bolle (Mazzucato), Le Reve (Ancarani), Serenata (Donizetti).

While it may at first seem an innovation to introduce a chorus at a ball, the committee has, at the earnest request of a large number of friends, arranged for the appearance of a male chorus of 25 voices, who will sing in the ballroom at 10 o'clock, in the ballroom at 11 o'clock, but for only a few minutes each time, while persons are resting between dances.

The general manager of the Portland Hotel, H. C. Bowers, has spared no pains to make the refreshment end of this entertainment a great success, which means that it will be one.

The reception committee will be composed of the eminent commander, the officers and members of Oregon Commandery No. 1, all of whom will use their best endeavors to make people feel at home and insure them a most enjoyable night.

Friends are urged not to postpone the purchase of their tickets until the last minute, but to procure them as soon as possible, thereby assisting the committee in its labor. Tickets are on sale by J. Cooper, secretary, 814 Chamber of Commerce building; W. S. Macrum, recorder, at the Merchants National Bank, and Woodard, Clarke & Co.'s, Fourth and Washington streets.

ENDS SEASON AT THE STAR

French Stock Company Receives Its Friends After Matinee.

After an excellent performance of "How Baxter Butted In," at the Star Theater, yesterday afternoon, the stage was cleared and the company appeared to meet and entertain the women and children of the audience before leaving Portland to fill an engagement in Seattle.

Mrs. French, wife of the manager; Miss Davis, Miss Taylor, Miss LaFlore, Miss Grahm and Miss Seaward received their guests in gracious manner and after the stage was well filled and greetings exchanged, the guests were served with ices and cake, the men of the company filling the roles of waiters.

Expressions of regret were heard on every side that the talented players had terminated their engagement, and well wishes for their future success heartily expressed. The company, who is no stranger to Portland theatergoers, having played here in 18—well, no matter—since the present engagement of his company, has renewed former friendships and has made hosts of new ones. He is quite proud of this organization, and has good reason for feeling so. The company, who is no stranger to Portland theatergoers, having played here in 18—well, no matter—since the present engagement of his company, has renewed former friendships and has made hosts of new ones.

VISIT THE ROOF-GARDEN

The Roof-Garden at the Nortonia Hotel Is Now Open.

The fine weather of the past week has made the spacious roof-garden at the Nortonia Hotel most beautiful and it is a sight worth going a ways to see. From the roof garden one can look over Portland and well into the suburbs, and the mountains as well can be seen in the distance. The visitors to the city of Roses are welcome to call at the hotel and take the elevator to the roof and obtain a bird's-eye view of Portland. The garden consists of beautiful green grass, shrubbery, vines and flowers of all kinds.

This evening for the Sunday dinner Herr Bettman has arranged one of his fine musical programmes, which has attracted many to the dining-room of the Nortonia Hotel. The programme of choice selections follows:

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.
March, A Little Cozzy, by F. Peters.
Overture, Light Cavalry, by Suppe.
Selection, Tannhauser, by Wagner.
Woodlawn Whispers, by Calliope.
Intermezzo, Don Corradino, by Lalo.
Selection, Parlied, by Lalo.
Cello solo, by Lalo.
Chanson Sans Paroles, by Tchaikovsky.
Aragonesa, by Liszt.

NEW IDEAS

Everything New

Did you attend the opening Saturday of our New Jewelry Store at 246 Morrison street? If not, call this week, for we have a great many new jewelry novelties to show you, besides we want you to enjoy our new home with us. We appreciate the patience our customers have had, as our opening should have taken place last September, but on account of the bank being unable to move into the new Corbett building sooner, we had to wait. In our new home we intend to carry on the same business policy as in the past, to which we attribute our success, which has enabled us to open our new store.

WE HAVE ADDED TO our stock a very large line of Jewelry, Cut Glass, Diamonds, Silverware, Watches, Clocks, etc., besides opening one of the most modern and up-to-date Optical Departments on the Coast, which will be in charge of an expert optician.

Our New Location Is 246 MORRISON STREET, Between Third and Fourth, Formerly Occupied by the Security Savings Bank.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Foresters and other societies, together with all carnival committees, will hold a general meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of the clubhouse on Morris street.

EXHIBIT OF ART FURNITURE

DISPLAY AT TULL & GIBBS' ALONG HISTORIC LINES.

Elaborate Showing in Seventh and Morrison-Street Windows True to the Periods Represented.

There is exhibited in the show windows of Tull & Gibbs a display of exact copies of the best types of recognized periods in early English history in lines of high-art furniture. Included in these are examples of the Elizabethan, Jacobean, Charles II and William and Mary periods, and in three copies of the Georgian reigns there are those notable productions of Chippendale, Sheraton and Hepplewhite. The Seventh-street windows contain these types, arranged in artistic display, representing interiors, which elicit expressions of admiration from all who stop to examine the beautiful exhibition. In addition to this display of high-art furniture, there are rugs, draperies and wall fabrics of designs in keeping with the various periods represented in the furniture pieces.

In the Morrison-street windows of the big establishment sets are in place representing the Colonial period, of mahogany, and interspersed on both sides are "occasional" chairs and other objects in almost all traditional carvings and upholstery. Mahogany dining suites, bedroom suites in Circassian walnut of the Louis XVI period and in the ornamental pieces are Pompeian, Gothic and Chinese reproductions which are a delight to the eye and are true to the best authenticated examples extant.

On the first floor, or main salesroom, there is installed a wealth of quaint furniture of arts and crafts, made by L. E. C. Stickley, and in leather goods may be found imported Morocco chairs by William Birch, of London. A particularly attractive piece is a chair of Chinese manufacture in Chippendale, with the old-style finish, there being no varnish used. This is but one of many quaint and artistic pieces seen.

Here also are to be seen types of the different French periods—Louis XIV Regence, Louis XV, Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette and the ancient periods as well.

The great fifth floor, covering 100x130 feet, is said to be not only the finest and most complete display of furniture ever seen in Portland, but surpasses in extent that of any city in the country. The window displays are intended to direct attention to this great collection, and it is here that everything in the furniture line, made in the highest style of art manufacture, is to be found arranged in suites, while woods of great beauty and the highest cost are found employed in the manufacture of these articles of household adornment. Here are the marvelously beautiful violet wood, French and Italian walnut, Circassian walnut, first exhibited in this country at the St. Louis World's Fair; ornamentation in high light and ornate or mosaic gold.

The display of furniture at Tull & Gibbs furnishes a study in art equal to a visit to one of the great museums of the country. The more recent additions to the already large stock carried by the house have made the collection complete in all details, and patrons who appreciate correctness coupled with elegance are in luck to have their desires in this direction fully met in this establishment.

When required, the house is amply prepared to carry out the decorative scheme of any of the periods chosen, so as to produce a harmonious whole employing furniture, draperies, wall decoration and floor coverings in the general scheme absolutely correct in reproductions.
