Cline, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Daniel Webster and Mrs. James Austin Gleason.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvord Lindsey Blichynden, of Shanghai, China, who are on their wedding journey, arrived in Portland last week and are guests of Mrs. A. B. Cox. Mrs. Blichynden was formerly Miss Clara Louise Marye.

Earle E. Grant returned last week to spend the summer vacation, after having completed his sophomore year at the University of California. The annual meeting of the Society of Graduates of St. Helen's Hall was held at the hall on Saturday, May 15, opening at 11 A. M. with a service read by Bishop Seadding. Prior to the serving of luncheon an informal reception was held by the faculty and this year's graduates. After luncheon Miss C. S. Jackson, Mrs. William Mackenzie and Miss Katherine Arnold spoke interestingly of their school. As it was and "As It Is." Later a musical programme was given by Miss Margaret Boot, Miss Allen Weber, Miss Gwendolyn Lloyd and Miss Eustace. In addition the seniors gave enthusiastic school songs. Many of the alumnae were present, including out-of-town girls.

Mrs. Edward Carpenter Mears has been extremely ill at her Everett-street residence.

At the Baby Home tea to be given next Thursday, Mrs. Rosecoe Rush, Pittner and Mrs. E. M. Bergen will pour tea, assisted by the Misses Ruth Sterling, Hazel Tiehner, Nellie Hemenway, Lena Simpson, Mildred Vall, Elmer Rothermel, Lois Scott, Verne Bergen and Leoti Deaver. The candy table will be in charge of Miss Malda Hart, assisted by Misses Milla Westinger, Celotia Parker, Ise Koehler and Ruth Church.

The St. Helen's Hall gymnasium was taxed to its capacity when the members of Miss Custer's oratory class presented "The Chaperon," composed of an all-girl cast. On Monday afternoon Miss Ella Stephens entertained with seven tables of bridge. Her honor guests were Mrs. George F. Russell, Mrs. Lewis Russell and Mrs. S. R. Johnstone, who leave within the next month for Europe, and for Mrs. Leroy W. Parker, who has just returned from abroad and several months' visit in the East. Miss Carson and Miss Katherine Sifton assisted Miss Stephens in serving.

Thirty-six of the Hobart-Curtis guests just Saturday evening were hosts to Judge C. E. Wolverton and Mrs. H. C. Eckenberger, whose birthdays fell on the same day. The affair was a complete surprise, and took the form of a dinner, one-half of the entire third floor being arranged with table-d'cote tables. Felicitous speeches were made, and the honor guests were showered with all manner of humorous presents, accompanied by appropriate verses or jingles. Collectively, a present of a miniature bungalow and lot, with grass, flowers and trees, was presented with a drawn deed from the Hobart-Curtis Association.

Mrs. R. R. Hogue on Wednesday afternoon asked about 50 to hear her 13-year-old daughter, who for her age is a brilliant pianist, a pupil of Mrs. Emma B. Carroll. Her work is characterized by style, dignity and finish, showing brilliant technique and execution. Worthy of mention is her wonderful singing tone.

Mrs. T. W. B. London on Friday afternoon was the hostess at six tables of bridge in compliment to Miss Latta, of Dumbarton, Scotland, who is a guest of her brother, John Latta. The prize-winners were Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. John Latta, Mrs. Gordon Verches, Mrs. George F. Russell, Miss Latta and Miss Lizzie Myrick. Again on Tuesday evening Mrs. T. W. B. London was the hostess, entertained with bridge, prize-winners on this occasion being Mrs. Alma D. Katz and G. G. Gammons.

On Tuesday Miss Myrtle Schaffer entertained at bridge for Miss Grace Nicholson and Miss Helen Brigham, popular prospective brides. Dogwood, Scotch broom, Jacquenot roses and hanging baskets of pink sweet peas were the decorations for the drawing-room. Prizes were French bell-pina, and the hostess' little nephew, Grennell Green, attired as a Cupid, admitted the guests. Present were Miss Grace Dalrymple, Mrs. Ben Gadsby, Mrs. Anne Ditchburn, Mrs. Henry Frank, Mrs. George Peters, Miss Eleanor Rothermel, Miss Ethel Wentworth, Miss Maud Dunne, Mrs. William Harold Staiger, Miss Lou King, Miss Irene Higgins, Miss Aileen Davis, Miss Sophie Beck, Miss Latta, Howell, Miss Mabel Howe, Mrs. David Jordan, Miss Margaret Boot, Miss Mary Gray, Miss Jeanie Gray, Mrs. F. Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Walker have left for San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Rosa Carnival Concert on the evening of Monday, June 1, at the new Masonic Temple, corner West Park and Yamhill streets, promises to be a great musical treat. Henry T. Hanlin, the noted basso, will sing, as will Mrs. Kofoid, dramatic soprano, and Miss Harriet Johnson, contralto. There is to be a trio of chorists with the dainty frocks of the girls carrying the favors of the cotillon. Palms and ferns interspersed with incandescent lights were the decorations.

One of the prettiest children's parties of the year was given on Friday evening at Murlark Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas for their daughter, Miss Jeanette. There were between 60 and 70 guests, and the scene at its height was artistically and daintily fringed by the girls carrying the favors of the cotillon. Palms and ferns interspersed with incandescent lights were the decorations.

Mrs. J. A. Brown and Miss Fannie Brown have gone to Seattle to see the fleet, as have Mrs. R. H. Hoge and Miss Sansbury.

Mrs. Blanche Irbe Kofoid, the dramatic soprano, is spending a week in Seattle as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Hanlin. While there Mrs. Kofoid will sing with the dainty frocks of the girls carrying the favors of the cotillon. Palms and ferns interspersed with incandescent lights were the decorations.

A pretty informal tea was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Frances Wilson for Miss Ruth Dannenbower, of New York, who arrived on Thursday. Tea was poured by Mrs. S. B. Lanthicum.

Great enthusiasm was shown on Tuesday evening at the opening of the first annual exhibition of the Arts and Crafts Society, which was held at the Art Museum on Fifth and Taylor streets. The display of local handicraft work, as well as that of Eastern contributors, is both interesting and creditable. John Nelson Wisner, who conducted the Arts and Crafts School last winter, in one of the buildings of the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds, has possibly the largest collection. Notably artistic and original are his beautiful bowls of various metals, which nothing from the Eastern craft shops surpass in beauty of design or execution.

Miss Mildred Watkins, of Cleveland, who taught the art school here last summer, has sent from Ohio a collection of Persian boxes, silver and turquoise matrix composites, bracelets, rings, silverware, necklaces and jeweled pendants. Of the Eastern workers, none attracted more attention than the articles that came from Marblehead, the walnut and metal inlay by Arthur J. Hennessey, and the silver articles sent by Seth Elk and Arthur Smith, of Boston.

The Ruffia Club has a collection of baskets, showing the original method of the workers who endeavored to do all of their own coloring, and as far as possible, to use native materials. Among those contributing wood carving are Mrs. Edward Cookingham, Miss Belle Ainsworth, James Fordan, R. C. Geer, G. A. Walker and C. W. Johnson.

Among the varied collection are a porringer, executed and lent by Miss Kathleen Burns, a belt pin by Lavella Humason, a brass bowl, by C. E. S. Wood, an attractive Mazuzah case and scroll and a silver bowl by Miss Clementine Hirsch, artistic jewel work by Miss Marion Ogden, original work in copper and silver by Miss Roma McKnight, clever stencil work of Miss Winella Knight, hall seat and bellows executed by Miss Belle Ainsworth, original basket work by Mrs. E. B. Coman, Mrs. E. A. Lightner, Mrs. L. M. Taylor, Mrs. and Miss Brookings, Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. A. H. Brown, and Mrs. Alla F. Tyler.

Particularly artistic is a piece of illuminated text on parchment, the work of George F. Holman, which is faithfully carried out and is a difficult piece of workmanship. The loan exhibition, shown in the inner gallery, contains many fine antiques. Mrs. W. B. Ayer has contributed an old Florentine leather screen mounting by Yandell, of New York, of particularly lustrous and charming color. Some handsomely bound books have been loaned by C. E. S. Wood. Beautiful Venetian things are the property of Edgar M. Lazarus, including trousseau boxes, jewelry boxes, a Florentine ecclesiastical chain and an Italian bronze knocker. The local craftsmen are Mrs. James Mel. Wood, Mrs. O. A. Lyman, Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley, Miss Beulah Nichols, Graham Eukhardt, R. C. Geer, Miss Louise Cary, Miss Helen Eastham, Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Lavella Humason, Miss Margery Hoffman, Miss Marjorie Noble, Miss Helen Harmon, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss Evelyn Rigler, Mrs. Lee Hoffmann and H. F. Wentz. Among the contributors to the loan collection are Mrs. Lee Hoffman, Mrs. M.

A. M. Ashley, Mrs. R. H. Lamson, Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Mrs. Charles E. Curry, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, W. B. Ayer, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. John Latta, Mrs. Edward Ehrman, Mrs. J. K. Gamble, Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Mrs. E. F. Tucker, Mrs. Charles F. Beebe, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mrs. Edwin Caswell, Miss Kathleen Burns, Mrs. Mary Frances Isom, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss Mal Hirsch, Dr. James Collin, Mrs. Henry F. Jones, Mrs. Hoyt Wilson and Mrs. Herbert Nichols. NANCY LEE.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

To the A. B. C. girls of Albany falls the distinction of having given the most elaborate and successful social event given here for years. This was manifested on Friday night, May 15, when they gave their May dance at the skating rink, which has been converted into an ideal place for dancing since the skating season closed.

Music was furnished by McElroy's orchestra, of Salem. Never in Albany at any similar function has the beauty and elaborateness of the decorations been so notable, and no expense was spared to make the dance the success that it was. Along the sides of the spacious hall and overhead heavy green fir boughs transformed the scene into a bower, while adding to the charming effect produced was the arrangement of yellow poppies in brass jardiniere about the hall, in the center of the room pendant from the ceiling.

ENGAGEMENT OF PENDLETON GIRL IS ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Merton Hays, daughter of Mr. James R. Hays and Mr. Francis Willard Bond, of Pendleton, Or., was recently announced at a reception given at the home of Miss Hays' sister, Mrs. Charles H. Lewis. Miss Hays belongs to a well-known Oregon pioneer family who originally took up a donation land claim near Oregon City, and is popular in the younger set, where she has many friends.

ing was a basket of Oregon's famous red roses. Punch was served from one corner of the hall, and another corner was occupied by the handsomely gowned patronesses, who are representative ladies of the city, and include: Misses E. W. Langdon, O. Woodworth, E. A. Wallace, William Fortmiller, J. C. Hammet, George Simpson, William Pfeiffer, J. K. Halght and W. B. Stevens.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the grand march was led by the president of the A. B. C.'s, Miss Vest Wallace, and Mr. Wayne Stuart, of Los Angeles, followed by Miss Welch, vice-president, and Mr. Chester Cox of Salem. Miss Wallace wore a charming gown of pale yellow crepe de chine, made empire, and Miss Welch appeared in a creation of white net over taffeta. There were many other handsome gowns in evidence, and altogether the affair reflected much credit upon the girls who by their untiring efforts made it a success. About 100 couples were present, many out-of-town guests being among the number.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. A. A. Bailey with Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Crofton as hostesses. Roll call was responded to by impressions received from the year's study. Miss Packard, of Los Angeles, was then introduced and guided her Haters on a most delightful ramble through the beautiful lake district of England, visiting the homes of Cole-ridge, Wordsworth, Southey and others, lingering on the shores of the placid waters where the sweet echoes of their songs seem yet to be heard. Many personal experiences were related, giving a distinctive charm to the occasion. Miss Robeson caused much merriment and received well-merited applause for her clever relation of "Sally Annie Experience." A vocal solo, "Little Boy Blue" was given by Mrs. Marry Vorse, who kindly responded to an encore with "My First Love." Mrs. Vorse possesses a clear, beautifully modulated voice, to which it is a delight to listen. A finely executed piano solo by Miss Grace Von Greenwaldt completed the programme. Refreshments were served by the
