U. S. BUREAU OF FISHERIES, JAN. 10, 1907.

The Department sees no reason for advocating the elimination of fish wheels from the river, as there is no evidence to show that this form of apparatus is particularly destructive to salmon.

Talbot and made plans for the season's work.

"It was agreed that it is not the best policy to construct new lines beyond the Hillsboro extension during the present season," said Mr. Talbot. "It is desired to complete the Hillsboro line and get that and the Salem road in the best possible physical condition before attempting additional construction. This will require the remainder of the season.

Will Await Outcome of Election.

"Furthermore, it was thought best to await the outcome of the election, for if the compulsory pass bill passes, it would probably retard the development of our property seriously, for the reason that our line runs into Salem, the state capital, and is projected into a number of county seats in the Willamette Valley. For this reason, the Oregon Electric would have to carry a large proportion of its traffic free of charge if the bill passes and is held to be constitutional.

"Again, we have had serious problems to deal with in securing rights of way and necessary franchises, and if such action is kept up, it will make the development already outlined practically prohibitory. Therefore, we have decided to let matters rest temporarily to see what action will be taken by the people.

"The Eastern directors, while in the city, expressed great faith in the future of the country and in our property, provided the people will be fair and reasonable with us."

The country store was the scene of a busy throng anxious to secure an opportunity of purchasing some one of the few remaining articles on the shelves for disposal, and before 10 o'clock Andy Weinberger, the general proprietor, was compelled to mount one of the counters and announce that there was not even one lone cake of soap left for sale.

STANFORD, Cal., May 30.—(Special.)—My letter of 1886, concerning salmon, was based on Professor Gilbert's report. I have no copy, but suppose it referred to the fact that immature male salmon running in the rivers are valueless for breeding as all die. These with other fish are caught in fish wheels. I believe fish wheels and all stationary traps are especially pernicious to the salmon industry and should be everywhere prohibited for reasons stated in my recent letter to Mr. Rosenberg.
