

GET DOUBLE DOSE OF PROTECTION

Factions of Fishermen Can Hardly Catch Any Salmon Legally.

BOTH HAVE WON VICTORY

But That Means Defeat for Both and Legislature Must Unravel Whole. Both Bar-Fishing and Tangles Are Now Prohibited.

SALEM, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—The adoption of the bills at the recent election has given Columbia River salmon more "protection" than the most ardent advocate of restrictive measures had ever hoped for. Each of the bills was prepared with a view to prohibiting fishing of a certain kind in portions of the Columbia River, and since both have been passed, they become operative. They do not conflict in their provisions, for they apply to different portions of the river and both will become effective as soon as the vote has been canvassed and the result proclaimed by the Governor.

The adoption of the two measures will undoubtedly compel the Legislature to enact a reasonable and effective law for the protection of salmon. It is generally agreed that the two laws adopted by the people are more restrictive than is necessary.

Provisions of Two Bills.

The bill proposed by the lower Columbia fishing interests prohibits absolutely fishing in the Columbia or its tributaries above the mouth of the Sandy River, or in the Sandy River itself, by any means except hook and line. This bill goes into force August 25, 1908.

The bill prepared by the upper river interests will go into effect September 19. It absolutely prohibits fishing for salmon in any commercial navigation channel of the Columbia within the jurisdiction of the State of Oregon between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise. Since most of the fishing is done at night, this practically means no fishing in the navigable channels of the Columbia. It prohibits absolutely fishing in the Columbia at any place between October 1 and December 31. It prohibits fishing for salmon in any place in the Columbia west of the west line of township 8 north, range 9 west, which means west of a line crossing the Columbia north and south of Astoria. As most of the fishing with nets is done below Astoria, it will practically put the gill-nets out of business. It prohibits the use of nets longer than 150 fathoms or deeper than 4 1/2 fathoms, diminishing the size of the nets about one-fourth. It prohibits fishing for salmon in the Columbia on Sunday.

Factions Must Get Together.

The two bills together put the wheels out of business on the upper Columbia, stop all fishing in any place on Sunday or between October 1 and December 31, keep the nets out of the channels at night, stop all fishing below Astoria, and cut the nets down one-fourth in size.

Neither of the bills affirmatively declares that it shall be lawful to fish at any place, so that the prohibitory provisions of one bill do not conflict with the exceptions of another and all the clauses making certain classes of fishing unlawful in certain places.

Since both upper and lower Columbia fishing interests have been hard hit by the enactment of the two laws, it is quite likely that they may try to get together on some reasonable compromise before the Legislature convenes. If they do not, the Legislature will have a hard task before it. In any event, the new Master Fish Warden will have his hands full enforcing the laws after they take effect.

PUPILS ERECT MONUMENT

GRANITE SLAB RAISED ON SITE OF FIRST SCHOOLHOUSE.

Impressive Ceremony at Rickreall in Polk County—Three of First Students Attend Services.

DALLAS, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—Representatives from every school district in Polk County assembled at Rickreall yesterday and celebrated the unveiling of a monument erected on the site of the cabin where the first school ever held in this county was opened in the year 1845.

The monument consisted of a plain granite slab with the following inscription:

Erected by the school children of 1908 in honor of the first school ever held in Polk County. This marks the site.

The funds for the purchase of the slab were raised by contributions of one cent each from the school children in every district in Polk County.

Only three of the original sixteen pupils who attended the first school were present at the ceremony of unveiling. These were: Dr. T. V. B. Embree, Marcus Embree and Mrs. T. J. Hayter, of Dallas.

Among the distinguished guests who were present were State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman, of Salem; George H. Himes, Secretary of the Oregon Historical Association, and Mrs. H. L. Veazie, of Portland, a daughter of John E. Lytle, who taught the first school. Mr. Lytle afterward took an active part in the founding of the La Creole Academy in Dallas, bequeathing a considerable sum to the endowment fund of that institution at the time of his death.

ALL WANT TO BE FIRST

CANDIDATES SEEK TO GET ADVANTAGE ON THE TICKET.

Washington's Primary Law Fails to Define Method of Listing Names for Nomination.

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 6.—(Special.)—Some plan of filing declarations of candidacy under the direct primary law that will be satisfactory to all candidates will have to be devised by the Secretary of State.

All the candidates want to be first in the list of men running for their respective offices and some are already trying to devise schemes for circumventing their rivals.

It seems to be the general opinion that the man whose name heads the column under each office head will have the advantage over his opponents. It is figured that there will be a great many electors who will have little or no choice among some of the aspirants for nomination and will vote for the first name that attracts their attention.

Several candidates have already submitted declarations of candidacy and asked the Secretary of State to hold them until the proper time for filing. One candidate, Attorney-General Insley, has filed his name in the order in which they were received.

The filing day will be July 9, or 60 days before the date of the primary election.

The Secretary of State has declined, so far, to receive any declaration of candidacy, but says he will adopt some plan that will give all the candidates a fair show and notify them what it is in ample time.

The period fixed by law for official filing of declarations is at least 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the primary. Present indications are that every candidate will have his declaration ready to present on the 60th day before the election.

The fee required of candidates for filing declarations are $10 for any office where the salary is $1000 or less, and when the salary is more than $1000 an additional sum of 1 per cent on such excess is charged.

Thus, it will cost $60 to file a declaration of candidacy for the office of Governor or Supreme Judge, $30 for Attorney-General, Treasurer, Auditor, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Land Commissioner and Auditor; $12 for Lieutenant-Governor and $75 for Congressman.

With eight candidates for one Congressional place, five for Governor and from one to six for each of the other offices, the fees will run into several thousand dollars.

INDEPENDENCE PARTY

The Independence party is being organized and is growing in every state of the Nation.

It is the party of the people, not the politicians.

The politicians represent themselves all the time, and the people some of the time—when expedient.

The Independence party seeks to give all the people representation in government all the time.

That is what the founders of the Nation intended.

That is what the people are not getting through the old parties.

The old parties have fostered instead of destroying the evils that have grown up in our Government.

The words "Republicanism" and "Democracy" symbolize only the vehicles for getting office—and then turning the offices created by the people against the interests of the people.

The word "Democrat" defines no doctrine. The word "Republican" expresses no principle.

Isn't it about time for a National party that will represent you, all of you, all the time?

The declaration of principles of the Independence party has been characterized as the embodiment of the best political thought of the decade.

Some of the things the Independence party advocates and that the people want have been promised by the old parties—before election—and forgotten—after election. Join the National movement that will follow promise by performance.

Hugh J. McIsaac, Pacific Coast Organizer of the Independence party, is at the Portland Hotel and will be pleased to have you call or write.

Ex-Sheriff Bradford Loses Mind After Execution of Washline.

HILLSBORO, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—County Judge Goodin has received word that ex-Sheriff W. D. Bradford, recently consigned to the asylum, is improving physically, but not mentally. A few years ago Bradford was sent to the county poor farm and from there to the asylum.

AN OPPORTUNITY, NOT A CHANCE.

This opportunity is the most wonderful that has been offered the public since the day United Verde sold few 10 cent shares, which are now worth $300 per share. The Fidelity Copper Company offers greater things, from the fact that the ore runs an average of over 15 per cent, while United Verde only ran 6 per cent, and the holdings of the Fidelity Copper Company are 518 acres, with the tunnels and ore bins within one-half mile of the railroad. Tunnels are open, showing high-grade ore, and as soon as shipments are made (which will be by September 1) dividends can be paid on the stock at par $1, and from the showings this stock has a future of several dollars per share.

A small block of this stock is now on the market at 15 cents per share, and as soon as this is subscribed a block will be offered at 25 cents. Get your subscription in now, before it is too late, as this means much to you for a few dollars invested. Write or call 607 Couch building, Portland, Oregon.
