It is believed Mrs. Cooper committed the murders and then killed herself. She was once confined in an asylum and for some time has been broading over the fact that

Fred Cooper was still alive when found. Just before he died he said:

Mrs. Cooper Isst night took all her children to a vaudeville performance.

She hargained with the girl ticket-seller to admit the entire family for 50 cents.

The seller said she would do so, but that it should not be considered as a precedent.

"You will never need to again," replied drs, Cooper, "because none of us will yer come here after tonight." She treated the children to candy and peanuts and then marched up and down the streets after the show, all in a happy mood, Mrs. Cooper being cheer-ful. They went home and the killing evidently followed shortly afterward.
