MRS. W. C. HOLMAN AND MRS. LAURA DARDEN PRIZE WINNERS IN THE RECENT FLORAL PARADE

MISS ELEANOR MACDONALD, WHO IS TO APPEAR IN THE TITLE ROLE OF 'VALANCE' IN THE COLLEGE PLAY

WITH Summer now a matter of fact, rather than a prospect, everybody is looking over his or her wardrobe, preparatory to trunk and grip packing and the heira countrywards.

Miss Besse Mills, of San Francisco, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey. Miss Mills has visited here several times previously, and her presence is invariably the motif for many informal hospitalities.

Owing to the demoralization of the railways on account of the Kansas floods, Miss Ruth Hawkins has postponed her departure for the East until tomorrow. Miss Hawkins is a woman of great charm and brilliant intellect.

At the Golf Club Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Muir gave an extremely pretty dancing party, asking Mr. and Mrs. Morton Insley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vincent Du Mond, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. J. A charming visitor is Mrs. Oscar Meyer, of New York, who has come to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mayer. Mrs. Meyer received many attentions last Summer, at which time she came West for the diamond wedding anniversary of her father and mother. Mrs. Meyer is a sister of Mrs. Solomon Hirsch.

Under entirely new management the Rock Island Club has been in readiness to be the rendezvous for many jolly affairs during the Summer. Friday evening, however, was decidedly the most successful thus far, and was marked by a number of dinner parties. Dining with Mr. and Mrs. William Warrens were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, Chester G. Murphy and Edward Grelle. The guests rode to and from the club in Mr. Murphy's launch, the Sophia, going later to the Muir dance at the Golf Club.

Mrs. Gay Lombard entertained Friday informally with a luncheon at the Rock Island Club, taking her guests in her launch. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Stubbs gave a dinner at the club. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Page were bridge hosts Thursday evening at their attractive place on Portland Heights. Great brass bowls were placed in the reception hall and dining-room and filled with long-stemmed snapdragons, while Caroline Testout roses were arranged in one drawing-room, and American beauties in another. Those accepting Mr. and Mrs. Page's hospitality were: General and Mrs. Charles P. Beebe, Major and Mrs. James Canby, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. B. London, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. L. Prescott Cookingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cookingham, has returned from Princeton.

On today's page is given a picture of Mrs. W. C. Holman and her sister, Mrs. Laura Darden, who won the first prize, a smart child's size trap, at the recent floral parade for the most artistically decorated contrivance. The trap which they drove was completely covered with lovely specimens of Caroline Testout roses, combined with maiden hair fern and fifty bows of shifton and tulle. Both Mrs. Holman and Mrs. Darden were gowned in effective frocks of pink worn with lingerie frocks elaborately trimmed with pink satin ribbon.

Miss Genevieve Thompson has returned from a visit in San Francisco and Los Angeles, where she was the guest of Mrs. J. C. Bryant at St. Stephen's Cathedral. Miss Ethel Rogers, of Greenfield, will arrive tomorrow to be a guest of Miss Thompson for a month.

Miss Helen Rudy, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ramsdell, was married quietly Tuesday morning at St. Stephen's Cathedral to Rev. H. M. Ramsey, Rector of St. Stephen's. Rev. John Simpson officiated. A luncheon followed at the Ramsdell residence.

Major and Mrs. W. P. Gould are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ramsdell.

Misses Evelyn and Caroline Wilson, daughters of Dr. George F. Wilson, have returned from St. Margaret's School at Waterbury, Conn.

Mrs. William Bernard, formerly of the Baker Stock Company, who has been extremely ill in Los Angeles, is recuperating. Miss Dot Bernard has recently received a telegram to appear with the Belasco Company for the next two years. Mr. William Bernard has sailed for Rio Janeiro and Buenos Ayres, where, with James Neil, they are to take a theatrical company.

Mrs. David C. Lewis sent cards out for a reception Thursday afternoon.

In view of the worthy cause, the Day Nursery fund, the baseball game this coming Saturday afternoon is attracting much attention, and the tickets are selling rapidly. The game is to be played on the Multnomah Field between the doctors, lawyers and bankers.
