IRISH PATRIOTS PROFIT

CHARGE POLICE EXORBITANT SUMS FOR USE OF VEHICLES.

Prisoners Arrested for Cattle-Driving Ride to Jail at Expense Truly Astounding.

DUBLIN, June 13.—(Special).—The counties of Galway and Roscommon have been presented by the constabulary authorities with exceedingly large claims in connection with cattle driving and the claims are entirely for car hire when prisoners have been arrested and had to be conveyed to the nearest town where a resident magistrate could be found, or to prison after the prosecutions. In the case of County Galway, the chairman of the County Council, at the meeting of which body the constabulary bills were brought up for consideration, stated that the total claims amounted to $3500 for car hire. Strong exception was taken to some of the items. The chairman referred to one where $280 was charged for conveying prisoners from Derrynon to Woodford, which worked out at $55 for each prisoner.

The chairman said that patriotism was a great boast with some people who shouted and cheered at meetings, but who gladly let their cars to policemen at exorbitant prices. Some people said that they would be boycotted if they hired their cars to the police, but when big prices were offered they went to the League and said: "Are you going to keep $75 or $80 out of our pockets for driving a few prisoners to Galway?" Mr. Griffin remarked that the people of Ballinasloe were very patriotic when they charged $5 a mile for driving prisoners. Mr. Cosgrove said even if we have to pay, we should not condemn the cattle drivers.

The chairman read a telegram which he had received from Mr. Burke, who represents the Gort division, stating that half the parish had been arrested for cattle driving. The chairman suggested that the should wire back saying: "The prisoners arrested should walk into jail, as we are after paying $3500 today for the conveyance of cattle drivers."

At Roscommon County Council the secretary laid before the meeting a number of police charges for conveying prisoners, and pointed out that whereas the charge for the March quarter last year was only $43, this year it was $42. The secretary referred to one instance where $170 was charged for the conveyance of 12 prisoners. A committee was appointed to go into the items.

KILLS UNDUTIFUL SON

Spartan Father Objects to His Marriage Beneath Station.

BERLIN, June 13.—(Special).—A romantic love story has ended in a terrible tragedy at Lichtenau, a suburb of Baden. Some time ago Major Bauer, a retired army officer, received a letter from his son, who was undergoing his military service at Freiburg, in which he stated that he had fallen in love with the beautiful daughter of a railway brakeman and that he intended to marry her. The father wrote indignant letters threatening to cut him off without a penny if he should make such a mesalliance, but the young man's decision could not be shaken, and he obtained leave to go home to see his father. A stormy scene took place between the two, the young man declaring he would gladly give up name and position for his sweetheart. At this the father drew a revolver, and, exclaiming that death for both was better than a dishonored name, he shot his son, and then sent a bullet through his own head.

HUSBANDS ARE OVERFED

Noted German Physician Calls Doting Wives to Task.

BERLIN, June 13.—(Special).—Professor Carl von Noorden, one of the greatest medical experts in Europe, has uttered an emphatic protest against doting husbands. Addressing a number of prominent scientists on the subject of "Food and Nourishment," Professor von Noorden declared that the reason so many men begin to get fat immediately after they have married is because their wives give them their favorite dishes on every possible occasion. In order to keep slim, said Professor von Noorden, persons should avoid butter, cream and sweets, and eat bread and ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—(Special).—Details have been received here of a terrible affair at Elizabetopol, in the Caucasus. It appears that a young Armenian who had returned from the United States where he had made considerable money, fell in love with a Circassian girl, whose parents, however, firmly refused to allow the young couple to marry, because the Armenian intended to take his bride back with him to America. For some time he tried to overcome their opposition, but matters came to a crisis when the young man was driven from the girl's house and forbidden to enter it again. In a frenzy of rage and despair the unhappy man committed suicide.

Then began a vendetta between the members of the two families. Determined to avenge her brother's death, Usun Tutu, a sister of the dead lover, hired a man who killed the girl's brother. Her revenge, however, did not stop with this. She made some ice cream, mixed it with arsenic, and sent a man to sell it to Sothik, the girl's father. Sothik and five of his relatives ate the ice cream and two of them died in great agony within a couple of hours, while the other four were taken seriously ill.

Sothik's oldest son, suspecting Usun Tutu, made his way to her house and finding her in the street, fired three times at her, wounding her severely. The girl's relatives seeing that she was dangerously wounded removed her with all

ESCAPES TO PUNISH WIFE

After Committing Murder, Convict Calmly Returns to Cell.

ROME, June 13.—(Special).—Swift punishment was meted out to an unfaithful wife by Antonio Giselli, a prisoner serving a six-month term in Bari Jail. Having been told by a friend who visited him in his cell that his wife had a love affair, Giselli made his escape and no trace of him was found. After having been absent for seven hours, however, the prisoner returned and announced that he had been at his home, and had murdered his wife and thrown her body into a well. He is now calmly awaiting trial, convinced that no jury will convict him.

THINK SITE UNSUITABLE

Spirited Discussion Arises Over the Erection of Parnell Monument.

DUBLIN, June 13.—(Special).—A spirited discussion has arisen over the suitability of the site selected for St. Gaudens' statue of Charles Stewart Parnell, which was practically a gift from America. The contractor, Thomas Connolly, on Monday received a license from the Corporation to commence operations, and workmen subsequently erected a boarding over the site of the statue on Connel street. The whole erection will measure 65 feet from the top to the base, and will be 16 feet square on the base. It is all in coarse stone, each stone being fully two tons in weight.

Hon. Mrs. Bertrand Russell Conducts School for Mothers.

LONDON, June 13.—Hundreds of poor mothers in London are deeply grateful to the Hon. Mrs. Bertrand Russell, who was formerly Mrs. A. Pearsall Smith, of Philadelphia, whose school for mothers in this city has proved a great success. Mrs. Russell commenced her ambitious scheme in a very small way—first there were night classes for mothers who were allowed to bring their children and who were instructed by Dr. Dora Bunting how to properly feed and clothe their little ones. These classes immediately became very popular, but Mrs. Russell, who was often pressed in person, soon discovered that the mothers themselves were as poorly fed as their babies and to remedy this she changed the night classes to day classes and provided a substantial dinner at a price of 3 cents to those who could afford to pay, while those who could not were fed free of charge.

The mortality of children in England is appalling when compared with that of

SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS

Song Birds of France Threatened With Extinction.

PARIS, June 13.—(Special).—Owing to the extreme rigor of last winter and the willful destruction of songbirds, France is threatened with the extinction of her larks, finches and thrushes. Professor Corcollé, of Chambury, has addressed an appeal to the public warning them that if farmers, gamekeepers and poachers continue their conduct they will soon have exterminated all the small birds in the country. As proof of the necessity for legislative measures he declares that thousands of larks are killed and sold at 6 cents a dozen.

So great is the slaughter sometimes that large quantities of birds which cannot be sold are thrown away.

of watchmen who would, he guaranteed, prevent the large number of burglaries from which the town and its suburbs had recently been suffering. The cost of the watchmen was to be considerably less than that of the police. The municipal council considered the offer and accepted it. They then made inquiry into the record of M. Reif and his watchmen. Reif was found to be an Austrian born in London and brought up in Brussels, and wanted by the police of Brussels and of other places. His offer of a cheap night watch was the outcome of an ingenious idea for the wholesale burglary of Lille and its neighborhood. Reif is now in prison, and has doubtless realized that too keen a sense of humor is sometimes a dangerous thing.

Above the statue will be a bronze harp, and the inscription, in gilt letters, "To Charles Stewart Parnell." The whole pillar will stand on a solid block of concrete about 39 feet in diameter and seven feet thick. The pillar will be surmounted by a single statue which will weigh about seven tons, over which will be a bronze ornament with a torch, or "fire-flash" to crown the whole. The police, drawing their swords, intervened in the combat and drove the combatants away, after making several arrests. The girl Usun Tutu has since died from her wounds.
