REACH OYSTER BAY

Roosevelt Family Now Domiciled in Summer Home.

PLANS USUAL VACATION

President Will Keep in Close Touch With Official Affairs and With Taft Campaign, Although He Seeks Rest.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 20.—After a hot and tiresome journey from Washington, President Roosevelt reached Oyster Bay late today and tonight he and his family are again domiciled in his Summer residence at Sagamore Hill for the annual Presidential vacation of three months. As during his other vacations, however, the President will by no means give over attention to official business. The usual preparations have been made for the establishment of executive offices here, and, though the President hopes to pass the most restful Summer which he has had since he entered the White House, he will be in constant touch with governmental affairs and will give his customary close attention to all matters requiring his consideration.

The fact that a Presidential campaign is in progress in which the Chief Executive is necessarily closely interested lends additional interest to this year's establishment of what is sometimes called the "midsummer capital." It was learned today that Mr. Roosevelt had fixed April 1 of next year as the date of his departure for the hunting trip in Africa he has promised himself, and on which his son Kermit will accompany him.

The trip was without incident. When the observation car of the train arrived in the station, the President waved his acknowledgment to the people assembled to greet him. As he alighted from the car, he was surrounded by his many neighbors and spent the following ten minutes shaking hands with them, giving each a word of thanks for their welcome. With Mrs. Roosevelt and Quentin he entered a carriage and drove to Sagamore Hill. As he departed from the station a rousing cheer went up.

ROOSEVELTS LEAVE CAPITAL

President, His Family and Staff Start for Oyster Bay.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Roosevelt and party left for Oyster Bay today in a special train over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Jersey City. The party will go by boat to Long Island City and expect to reach Oyster Bay at 5:35 o'clock this afternoon.

Secretary Root traveled with the President to Jersey City, en route to Clinton, N. Y., for his Summer vacation. Secretaries Cortelyou and Strauss and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, were at the station to see the President off. Mrs. Taft was also present and bade good-bye to Mrs. Roosevelt. The President was in his usual good spirits and waved his hand calling, "Good-bye, good luck," to the assembled officials and others who were waiting to see him off.

The members of the President's family with him were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Master Quentin. Miss Roosevelt took with her her brindle bulldog, which she held by a stout leather string. The President shook hands with all those left behind at the White House, from Assistant Secretary Latta to the domestics in the basement.

Most of the Executive offices personnel went to Oyster Bay, including Secretary Loeb, Assistant Secretary Foster, confidential clerks and stenographers. This Summer the White House will be refurnished and much painting and other overhauling done in the absence of the Presidential family.

Greets Quaker City Crowd.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—The train bearing President Roosevelt and members of his family from Washington to Jersey City, en route to Oyster Bay, arrived today at the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 12:25, and pulled out at 12:28 o'clock.

President Roosevelt came out on the platform of his car while the engines were being changed and was enthusiastically greeted by the crowd. He shook hands with the newspaper men, railroad men and others who crowded about the car. When asked what he had to say about the Chicago convention, he replied:

"Not a word."

The President then waved his hand to the crowd and re-entered the car.

Root Leaves the Party.

WILL MAKE NO CHANGES

Secretary Taft's Appointees Will Remain Under General Wright.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—John C. Schofield, chief clerk of the War Department, is head of the military department today, in the absence of Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Robert Shaw Oliver.

Mr. Oliver has gone to Pine Plains, N. Y., where for the next few days he will witness the military maneuvers. He will return about the same time Mr. Taft does from Yale. It is expected that General Luke E. Wright, who is to succeed Secretary Taft, will be in Washington several days before taking office, in order to confer with Mr. Taft regarding pending matters. The advent of General Wright is not likely to result in any changes in the War Department. General Oliver will in all probability continue as Assistant Secretary until the close of President Roosevelt's administration, and it is expected Mr. Schofield will continue in office.

BONDSMEN MUST PAY HER

Illinois Girl Wins Suit Against Sureties for Guardian.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Miss Irene Laing, daughter of Cuthbert W. Laing, was given a judgment for $79,904 yesterday in Judge Pickney's court against Herbert A. Streeter, of Evanston, Ill. A year ago she received a judgment of $100,000 against Vincent C. Price. Both Mr. Streeter and Mr. Price signed bonds for Mr. Laing when Miss Laing, his daughter, was a minor. She was left valuable real estate at the death of her mother. Mr. Laing's alleged misuse of the funds intrusted to him as guardian of the property was the cause of the suits by his daughter.

When Miss Laing, who now resides at Ann Arbor, Mich., became of age in 1904, she signed a release to her father. This was set aside by the court, which held that it had been secured under duress. It was shown that most of the estate had been lost through real estate investments. The court held that Mr. Laing and his bondsmen were responsible, as the necessary consent of the court had not been obtained to make the transfers for the minor daughter.

An attempt was made to bring Mr. Laing into court by the attorneys representing Miss Laing. He refused to come, sending a telegram from Toledo, O., where he now resides, that he would not appear in behalf of Mrs. Streets. Judge Pickney instructed the jury to return a verdict for Miss Laing. Mr. Streeter, the defendant in the suit, is 74 years old.

MIND YOUR OWN RELIGION

Writer Gives Advice to Critics of Christian Science.

SALEM, Or., June 19.—(To the Editor.)—I have read the criticism by Dr. Lapham on Mrs. Eddy and her teachings, and am surprised and pained to find such a practice in vogue, so prevalent amongst the clergy—uncharitableness and narrow-mindedness of one sect for another sect.

It seems to me to savor of gossip, just as slatternly housewives neglect their household duties and congregate to discuss their new neighbors. So have some clergy dropped the work in their own churches and gossip over the back fence, as it were, about the new neighbor—Christian Science. For what purpose were these men of God ordained to preach his word? Surely it was in order to succor and to help humanity. Are they fulfilling the duty and privilege for which they are called?

Let the ministers of the gospel respect their own churches enough to give due respect to Mrs. Eddy's church. Courtesy is the keynote of a good man's and of a good woman's heart.

It has yet to be recorded that a Christian Scientist has published derogatory statements of other churches, or of their teachings. Extend to Mrs. Eddy and her followers the courtesy of "religious toleration," and also let the devotees of other churches learn a lesson from the courtesy, the magnanimity and charitableness of the much-abused Christian Scientists. Let other church people learn from Christian Scientists, too, the loyalty due to the church—the patriotism, as it were, for our own church—the one to which we have sworn allegiance, and who has opened her arms to receive us when we were penitential sinners.

That is the secret of the phenomenal growth of Christian Science—their strict adherence to principles of their own church and its teachings. Let other sects learn this truth.

ETHICS FOR LUMBERMEN

All Branches of Trade Unite to Compel Square Dealing.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—Representatives of retail, wholesale and manufacturing lumbermen today adopted a code of ethics for the trade and formed a new association, to be known as the Lumber Trade Congress. The Congress is composed of various lumber associations.

The temporary officers follow: Chairman, John A. Bruce, Strades, La.; secretary-treasurer, A. B. Wastell, Portland, Or.; vice-chairman, George E. Merrill, Salt Lake City.

The code of ethics consists of 17 clauses, governing the question of orders, claims for damages or failure to deliver, terms of sale and the matter of arbitration of whatever difficulties between buyer and seller may arise. None of the clauses may be legally enforced and each association may, at its discretion, disregard any or all of the provisions. But the National Association is behind the code and will bring weight to bear against unwarranted violations.

All matters relating to the shingle industry will be referred to a committee consisting of Chairman G. W. Hotchkiss, Chicago; W. C. Miles, Globe, Wash.; H. S. Stein, B. H. Beekman and R. W. Douglas, Seattle.

QUARREL ABOUT STATUE

Children's Monument to La Fayette Causes Row With Sculptor.

PARIS, June 20.—Paul Bartlett's statue of LaFayette, the gift of American schoolchildren to France, which has been finally cast in bronze, will be unveiled on July 4 on the Place du Louvre.

Mr. Bartlett and Alexander H. Revall, representing the Chicago committee that has had the erection of the statue in hand, have had a sharp contest over the final payment, $27,000. Mr. Revall, who is at Carlsbad, calls attention to the fact that Mr. Bartlett has had many advances since the work was begun. He says the committee is in possession of ample funds and that when the statue is upon its pedestal, as the contract requires, the final settlement will be made.

DAM BREAKS IN IDAHO

Wall of Water Drowns Livestock Near Malad.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 20.—A special to the Tribune from Malad, Idaho, says that the Deep Creek dam, nine miles above that town, broke yesterday, and a wall of water 20 feet high swept down the valley, inundating several miles of farm lands and doing damage estimated at $50,000.

Considerable stock perished. The people of the town received ample warnings, and consequently no lives were lost.

Colfax Theater Burns.

COLFAX, Wash., June 20.—Fire early today totally destroyed the Ridgeway Theater, at Colfax. The loss is $11,000; insurance, $5000. The building was owned by W. J. Davenport and Mrs. George H. Lennox, of Colfax; C. H. Larkin and H. C. Hayward, of Spokane. The theater was dedicated by and named after Miss Katherine Ridgeway Hogan, of Colfax, in 1902. The fire is thought to have started from defective electric wires.

New York Firm Successful.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The H. J. Carly Construction Company, of New York, has been awarded a contract at $1,055,000 for various construction work at the new army supply depot at Fort Mason, Cal. This is the beginning of a work on the new army depot which will serve as a point of shipping on the Pacific Coast to and from the Philippines.

Receiver for Another Bank.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—Lewis H. Mooser, a real estate man, was today appointed receiver of the Market Street Bank by Presiding Judge Sturtevant, of the Superior Court. The bank failed some time ago.

ACQUIRES FEUDAL LANDS

ALEXANDER HEWITT KERR BECOMES LORD OF MANOR.

Bulky Packages of Documents Containing Rentrolls and Deeds Come Through Customs-House.

Large packages of documents came through the Customs-House yesterday addressed to Alexander Hewitt Kerr, Esquire, Lord of the Manors Kingshall, Rouseball, Brentha and Wastcolies, Suffolk County, England, Portland, Or.

The principal documents were deeds for the lands which Mr. Kerr has acquired, and other documents contained rent-rolls and records of leaseholds of the manors described in the address.

Mr. Kerr, who is a member of the firm of Wadhams & Kerr Bros., wholesale merchants of this city, is to leave for England in the course of a few weeks to look after his interests in that country, though as lord of the manors, he has already assumed one of the duties imposed by the acquirement of the lands by holding what is known in English law as a Baron Court, without which a manor ceases to exist. The titles to these manors traces back hundreds of years and the leases differ in material respects to other rentals of realty in the old country. While these leases are perpetual, they revert to the lord of the manor if the tenant dies intestate, and only the surface is included in the right: that is to say, all mineral, hunting privilege, and the like belong to the lord of the manor. During his visit to England, Mr. Kerr will arrange several details concerning his estates and will probably be absent for several weeks.

Mr. Kerr last night declined to discuss the acquisition of these manors, but admitted he had received the indentures and rolls, the existence of which was brought to public notice by reason of their record in the Customs-House books.

FORM BRANCH OF ORDER

Portland Army and Navy Union Is Organized.

Soldiers and ex-soldiers turned loose floods of oratory last night at the Heilig Theater, and in the midst of it all a local garrison of the Army and Navy Union of the United States of America was formed. This is the first in Oregon, although the order has been in existence in the country for the past 20 years and numbers among its members many famous men, among them President Roosevelt and Richmond Pearson Hobson.

Any man who has served under the flag and who has an honorable discharge is eligible, and the local garrison starts out with some 33 members. The headquarters of the order are in Baltimore, Md. J. J. Fitzsimmons, who has been in the city for some time, staying at the Danmoore, and who is inspector-general for Oregon, was the presiding genius of the initial meeting of the garrison. The objects of the order are to promote a fraternal spirit among the members and to extend a helping hand wherever needed.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure has fallen decidedly during the last 12 hours over the Pacific Northwest, and risen correspondingly over California. A pronounced high area overlies the latter state this evening, while a depression overlies British Columbia. General rains have fallen during the day over California, Oregon and Southern Idaho, but over Washington no appreciable amount of precipitation occurred. Temperatures were lower over the interior of Northern California and Southwestern Idaho, and higher over Southeastern Idaho, Washington and Western Montana.

The indications point to showers over this entire forecast district Sunday.

THE RIVER.

The stage of the Willamette River at Portland has remained at a stand of 21.2 feet all day. It is expected that the river will fall to 21.0 feet by Sunday morning and to 20.7 feet by Monday morning.

FORECASTS.

Portland and vicinity—Showers; southwest winds.

Western Oregon and Western Washington—Showers; southwest winds.

Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Idaho—Showers.
