The mills in this section are in that line as seen at present. Many thousands of feet of lumber are daily being cut at Rainier, and the outlook is good that this state of affairs will continue indefinitely.

Gilbertson Brothers are loading many cars of lumber weekly and are crowded with orders. The Willamette Lumber Company has been running its sawmill to full capacity for the past three months or more, and the planer night and day for two weeks in order to keep up with orders. The Patterson Lumber Company is cutting all the mill is operating steadily all winter. The Oregon Lumber Company has been running part of the time this summer, but has again closed, although the planer has been running this week.

Almost, if not quite all the mills in this community have been cutting as much lumber as their plants were capable of since the opening of Spring, and many of them have orders now to keep them busy all Summer.
