Animal Gland Extracts

Made by the Van Vleck Gland Extract Co., of Kansas City, Mo., With Offices at 708 Dekum

Building, Portland, Or. Gland Extracts cure more nervous and chronic diseases than all other treat-ments combined. The reason why is ex-plained herewith: Gland Extracts con-tain the physiological elements of your anatomy and are derived from the glands of young, healthy sheep, and when trans-planted in you through the digestion furnishes your anatomy with the wanted names your anatomy with the wanted pabulum or elements that you have lost and which is causing your present condition or ill health.

We treat successfully all manner of nervous and chronic disenses by this method. All diseases of the human family are the result of three causes only: First, a lack of the secretions of the glandular system; second, an over-sufficiency of the same secretions, or the third, a perversion of the two; so you see how important it is to study the trinity of the giandular system. The disease you are suffering with comes from a trinity or the multiples thereof. The multiples make the difference in the diseases and the different forms and kinds of diseases. Any well-informed or unpreciding plays. Any well-informed or unprejudiced physi-clan will tell you that the above state-ment is true. Then why should you fill your system with drugs and chemicals which are no part of you and are only administered in order to hold your sys-tem in abeyance until nature can do the curative work?

Why not give this some thought? You owe it to yourself. If you will call or write we will hand or mall you our descriptive treatise on our scientific treatment. There have been many cured in and around Portland who have realized the curative powers of Animal Gland Ex-

We have been located in suite 708, Dekum building, for the past three years, where we have competent physicians to diagnose your case free of charge, and to give physicians instructions such as are necessary to prescribe, the Gland Extracts. The trade and physicians' patronage solicited.
