Gives Loving Cup and Gets a Bear

George Hutchin Presents Prize to Miss Jewel, and in Turn is Recipient of Teddy Bear.

GEORGE HUTCHIN, otherwise known as Georgia da Hutch, manager of the Rose Festival Association during the year just closed, is the proud possessor of a life-sized Teddy bear, which he has carefully filed in the archives of the association.

How the orator of the association happened to become the custodian of the ferocious "prop" bear came about in this way. Yesterday between acts at the Baker Theater the curtain was rung up discovering the smiling Hutchin deep center, bearing one large silver flagon, richly chased; bows to audience; enter Mr. Miss Jewel, who steps briskly toward position three feet to left of Hutchin; assumes look of surprise, lips slightly open as if to speak; Hutchin pretends to blush; Miss Jewel same business; both await end of applause.

Hutchin—My dear young lady, this city has grown to regard you as the most beautiful, most charming, most graceful, most talented, most gorgeous.

Miss Jewel—I prize, gentle sir, but end to speech and get to business; what wouldst thou of me?

H.—Now, by my halidom, sweet wench, I'll have my say; 'en tho' reputat an hundred times. (Has it.)

Miss J.—Hold, beaming sir; tarry here 'gainst my present return, (Carries off R. silver cup, returns graciously, bearing woolly bear. Bestows bear on H. Confusion. Exit all.)

All of which means that Miss Jewel, the talented leading lady of the Baker Company, appeared in the recent parade of decorated automobiles of the Rose Festival and was awarded the prize for the best "feature." The management of the festival selected yesterday's occasion to present the prize partly because of the fact that Miss Jewel closed her season's engagement at the theater last night, not being in the cast of "A Band of Keys," which is the bill for the final week of the present season.

EX-MINISTERS ALONE HEAR

Living President Pays Tacit Tribute to Dead President's Virtues With Only Former Cabinet Members as Hearers.

CINCINNATI, O., June 27.—Judson Harmon, Attorney-General in the late President Cleveland's cabinet, returned here today direct from Princeton, where he attended the Cleveland funeral ceremonies.

Judge Harmon related an incident at the funeral yesterday which seems to have escaped general observation. He had accompanied Cleveland, returned here today direct from Princeton, where he attended the Cleveland funeral ceremonies.

Around the bier, with heads bowed, stood ex-Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, ex-Secretaries David R. Francis, Vilas, Richard Olney, John G. Carlisle, Herbert, Harmon and others.

It was an impressive as well as a tacit tribute," said Judge Harmon.

VISIT CLEVELAND'S GRAVE

Widow and Children at Cemetery. Guard Night and Day.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 27.—Hundreds of people visited the grave of Grover Cleveland in Princeton cemetery today. Mrs. Cleveland, accompanied by little Richard and her daughter, Lucie, went to the cemetery before 7 o'clock, where Mrs. Cleveland stood for some time beside the flower-strewn graves of her husband and daughter.

The men were not in uniforms, in obedience to Mrs. Cleveland's desire to avoid anything of a military character. The plot will be guarded for several days.

Those who remained at the Cleveland home last night with Mrs. Cleveland and the children were Miss Rose Cleveland, Mr. Cleveland's sister, Miss Mary Hastings, a niece; Cleveland F. Bacon, of New York, a nephew of the ex-President, and Professor and Mrs. John H. Finley.

BEARS HER SORROW BRAVELY

Mrs. Cleveland Buses Herself With Affairs of Family.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 27.—Westland, the Cleveland home, today resumed the peaceful and quiet appearance which was so characteristic of the place before the death of the distinguished occupant.

Mrs. Cleveland spent most of the day with her children indoors. Early in the morning she visited Princeton cemetery and late in the day she went driving.

BELIEVES BRYAN WILL LOSE

Ney, of Farmington, delegate from the First Congressional District, and Dr. Harry McManus, of this city, delegate from Hartford County, who are the candidates for the nomination.

At a secret conference at Bridgeport one evening this week, held ostensibly for the purpose of perfecting the transportation arrangements, Homer Cummings, National committeeman from this state, being present, reports were received which showed that Archibald McNeill, of Bridgeport, has the backing of New York, New Jersey and all New England for second place on the Denver ticket, no matter who heads the ticket.

It is still asserted that only four of the 14 delegates will vote for Bryan under any consideration. The appeal of Ney and McManus in behalf of the 20,000 recalcitrant Democrats of this state follows:

"To the Democracy of the Nation: Governor Johnson of Minnesota can renounce the Democratic party, command the great independent vote and sweep the doubtful states, North, South, East and West. Will each and every Democrat throughout our broad land see that his representative is in line at Denver for Johnson and victory?"

RECORD CHERRY CROP

ORCHARDS AT THE DALLES ARE LOADED WITH FINE FRUIT.

Some Trees Will Yield From 500 to 700 Pounds Each—Tom Richardson Grows Enthusiastic.

THE DALLES, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—It is now demonstrated that the 1908 cherry crop exceeds all records in this vicinity.

Since labor is plentiful, the crop will be easily handled and all saved. The canneries are paying 4 cents a pound delivered, which, with the excellent market prices ruling, will net the orchardists more than was realized last year.

Today Manager Tom Richardson, of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by his family, visited the Dalles cherry orchards as guests of Secretary J. M. Patterson, of the Business Men's Association.

Mr. Richardson was enthusiastic over the beautiful sights there presented and expressed his pleasure at the unprecedented yield of the bearing orchards and great amount of new acreage.

Among the places visited was the orchard of Dr. G. E. Sanders, who is now picking the third ton of cherries this week and has only begun upon his crop.

"It is a marvelous crop," said Mr. Richardson, "and I only wish 100 of our leading business men and property holders could come here and attend your Cherry Fair, June 30 and July 1 and 2, and I believe many will take advantage of the round-trip rate of $3.00, made by the O. R. & N., or take a little vacation and make the trip by boat, for the Columbia never looked more like one of the world's greatest rivers than it does now.

The samples displayed at the Business Men's Association, while extraordinary, do not exaggerate the general crop for upon thousands of trees the cherries are as thick as they can stick."

GRADUATES ENTERTAINED.
