LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 27 .-- (Spe ial.)-The first thing the Los Angeles champlons need to do is to learn how to throw a baseball, for until they do know how they cannot expect to win a game from such a team as the Portlands. On Friday the locals made but Chicago ... 1 4 1 Cincinnati .. 4 9 six errors, while today they piled up n ss than seven, and bum heaves and inggles gave the Beavers three of their five runs. It was an awful game for wild things, for the Beavers themselves had four blunders and only won because the locals threw the ball further and juggled it prettier.

Negle held the winners to six hits, while Marshail was cracked for eight before he was sent to the bench at the end of the sixth linning. He was succeeded by a local busher named Bris-walder, and while this one has nothing but a slow straight ball, the locals could hardly hit it out of the lot. The game was an awful exhibition, and the best Saturday crowd of the season turned out. The locals would have won easily but for their errors. The big crowd was so disgusted that it began finally to yell for Portland, and this loubtless had much to do with the vic

The first Portland run came from Danzig's hit and steal and wild heaves by Easterly and Oakes. The next came from a pass, sacrifice and a single, and the next two from an error, a uscless fielder's choice and a double, and the final from a sacrifice, two errors by Bernard and a single.

Brandt Wickersham Wins J. Wesley Ladd Trophy.

DEFEATS DAN S. BELLINGER

Match Is One of Hardest Fought on Local Courts and Goes Five Sets. Alma D. Katz Offers Another

Cup Under Like Conditions.

Two-base hits—Williams, Cook, Hardy, Hogan, Three-base hit—Hildebrand, Sacrifice hits—Hildebrand, Curtis, Altman, Stolen bases—Heltmuller, Cook, Zeider, Berry, Henley, Pirat base on balls—Hardy (4), Henley (1), Hit by pitcher—Henderson, Struck out—Hardy 6, Henley 4, Wild pitch—Henley, Time of game—2 hours, Umpire—O'Connell. Brandt Wickersham, the veteran tennis player of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, is now the permanent owner of the J. Wesley Ladd trophy. for yesterday afternoon, in one of the hardest-fought five-set matches ever witnessed upon the courts of the local club, be defeated Dan S. Bellinger by scores of 6-1, 4-6, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2.
Interest in the match was intense.

Many of the most prominent members of the Multnomah Club, as well as practically all of the expert raquet wielders of Portland were on hand to witness the splendid struggle between the veteran expert and his highly efficient, but less experienced, opponent.

Bellinger was cheered lustily when he accomplished his second victory in the third set and had the best of the match by two out of three, but the wily Wickersham simply smiled that confident smile of his and kept up his smashing tactics. Wick volleyed, put and placed his shots so dexterously that he fairly had his opponent be wildered in the last two frames and succeeded in scoring a win in each instance, which gave him the title of champion and the permanent which he had won on two previous occasions. in the first set. Wickersham won 6-1. Bellinger steamed up and captured the second set 6-4. He led all the way after the fourth game and was chopping and smashing in an excellent manner. Wickersham won the first game in the third set, after which Bellinger took six straight games and won the set. This seemed to awaken Wickersham to the possibility of his being defeated, for he rallied strongly and by playing his hardest and strongest game, both on defense and offens est game, both on defense and offense, made things so interesting for Bell-inger that the younger player was simply outgeneraled at all points in the last two sets, and Wickersham was the victor. His many friends immedisurrounded him and extended congratulations at his winning the trophy for his own, which had been in competition for seven years.

Alma D. Katz, one of the most en thusiastic members of the Multnomah Club, immediately offered another cup, to be contested for under similar conditions, and the first contest for this new trophy will take place during next vear's tournament

In the finals of the doubles tourna-ment, Humphrey and Plummer (re-ceive 15) best Wickersham and Bellinger (owe 40), 6-4, 2-6, 6-2. This contest brought the most successful tournament in years to a close, and all who participated were unanimous in their praise of the contests and the new courts of the club.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES ENDED

Multnomah Club Closes Successful Season and Directors Rest.

The gymnasium classes of the Multomah Amateur Athletic Club came to a close last week, after having enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the organization. The last athletic event of the season was the junior field day, which was held last Tuesday on Multnomah field, and which was a huge success through the determined efforts of Edgar E. Frank, Dan S. Bellinger and Physical Instructor Robert Krohn, each of whom labored hard and faithfully during the entire year with the idea of making the athletic season among the youngsters the most successful in the history of the club. That they succeeded is a of the club. That they succeeded is a source of considerable delight to the clubmen, as well as to the board of di-

According to the usual custom, the junior boys and girls classes held their annual outing near Oswego last Thursday. Professor Krohn was in charge of the little folks party, and all charge of the little tolks party, and all who participated enjoyed themselves immensely. At the scene of the outing the 100 children participating were entertained by Bert Dyer and family, who reside near Sucker Lake, and looked after their wants and pleasures in a most tactful manner. The successful close of the season promises to develop more interest in the seasons to come,

Physical Instructor Robert Krohn will leave shortly, together with his family, for the Krohn ranch, near Hood River. Professor Krohn intends to spend the entire Summer at his ranch, which is situated in the foothills in the vicinity of Mount Hood, and in the cool con-fines of this territory the efficient in-structor of the young children of Port-land will take a well-carned vacation. The other members of the Multnomah Club who have been active in promot-ing athletics during the past few years will journey to various seaside resorts Automobile Party to Go to Seaside Over Proposed Route.

On Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock three automobiles containing members of the Portland Automobile Club will leave this city on a trip to Seaside over the pro-posed route for the automobile road to the beach. The start will be in front of the Oregon Hotel, and those who have signified their intention of making the trip are Dr. C. D. Brown, M. C. Dickin son, Louis Therkelsen, E. Henry Wemme Louis Russell and Lynn Keady. This party will leave in three big automobiles and the trip will be made along the Willamette and Columbia Rivers to a point near Rainier, where the river will be left and the autos taken over the hills to an inland route.

The road chosen for the proposed tour into Seaside has never before been traversed by an automobile, and the ad-venturous members who are to make this trip are confident that it can be done, although they expect to encounter obsta-cles that will require extra exertion on their part. If their trip is successful the club will take up the proposed Seaside thoroughfare with renewed vigor and en-deavor to have the work of construction inaugurated us soon as possible. The autoists expect to return to Portland in days, and will drive their Ordinance Affecting Newspapers Before Los Angeles Council.

Some merry times are in store for Mayor Harper and the City Fathers of Los Angeles, for it is said that a recent ordinance passed by the Angel City Council and signed by the Mayor pro-scribes the sale of all newspapers print-ting region returns or anything periaming racing returns or anything pertain ing to the racing game, and the ordinance is to be fought strenuously, not only by the newspapers but by the newslealers as well.

The ordinance itself was framed with an idea of making it impossible for the an idea of making it impossible for the gamesters and dopesters so common in the vicinity of racetracks to furnish the fickle public with "dope" on the probable outcome of the next day's races, and therefore the Los Angeles Councilmen got busy and passed a most drastic law covering all points connected with the publication of racing news. The law makes it illegal to sell a copy of any newspaper within the confines of Los Angeles which even prints the fact that such and such a horse won the London Derby, or any other race in the world, On this account, principally, a strenuous light is to be made upon the legality of the law, for the newsdealers set up the claim that it is unconstitutional for the reason that it proscribes the sale of such papers as the New York Telegraph, and other of the metropolitan dailies, as well as the California and Oregon papers. Joseph Kemp, assistant manager of the B. H. Amos News Company, is the lead-ing spirit in the fight against the ordinance, and it is likely to prove a most interesting legal battle before the matter is finally settled.

REUNION AT WOODBURN OF 60 MEMBERS OF ROLEOFSON CLAN

MRS. ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNIWAY, VICE-PRESIDENT, READS HISTORICAL LETTER.

WOODBURN, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—The Relection claim, descendants of Lawrence and Mary Rolection, held their second annual reunion at Woodburn on Sunday, June 21. Owing to recent rains, the plan for meeting at the farm home of the president, J. L. Johnson, was abandoned, and a hall was chosen for the reunion, in which several hours were happily passed in exchanging reminiscences, uncarthing scraps of history, singing felk-lore songs and indulging in retrospective speeches. Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, vice-president of the clan, read a well-written and well-preserved letter written, when she was five weeks old, by Lawrence Rolection to an uncle. The letter described a ten days' journey of about 100 miles by wagon from Southern Illinois to the central part of the state, which, because of the distance and hardship, would prevent those interested from ever meeting again this side of the grave. William A. Rolection, of Illinois, the aged uncle in honor of whose visit the clan was organized a year ago, favored the clan with a letter of great historic value to all concerned, the reading of which evoked many comments. Postprandial speeches of great interest were made by Messrs. John and Joel Johnson, Raiph R. Duniway, Fletcher Gowdy and Mrs. Duniway. The officers were re-elected without change, except that to Miss Vina Johnson's office of secretary was added that of treasurer. The Gowdy, Johnson and Scott branches of the family comprised the 60 Rolectson descendants present.
