SYRACUSE EIGHT WINS HOT RACE

Leads Columbia and Cornell by Only Few Yards at the Finish.

CONTEST BEST IN YEARS

Pennsylvania Sets Pace in First Three Miles at Poughkeepsie, but Does Not Last — Wisconsin Brings Up Rear.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 27.—Swinging their sweeps with powerful strokes which carried their slender shell through the water at all but record pace, the Syracuse varsity crew won the big four-mile race today for university eight-oared crews. They headed Columbia by less than one-third of a length and Cornell by a bare length at the finish line, after one of the most hotly contested and most interesting regattas in the eleven years of collegiate racing on the Hudson course. Incidentally, Syracuse took from Cornell the trophy which is the token of victory in this race—the varsity challenge cup, presented in 1898 by Dr. Lewis L. Seaman, Cornell, to be held by the winner for one year.

Pennsylvania Soon Fails.

The crew from Syracuse won by the power behind their blades and by superior watermanship. Columbia and Cornell rowed well throughout the contest and pressed the winners hard in the last mile. Pennsylvania's eight made the pace for nearly three miles and then went to pieces, finishing six lengths behind Cornell.

Wisconsin was reckoned as a contender until the three-mile mark was passed at Poughkeepsie bridge, when J. W. Wilse, No. 2, collapsed and put the Western crew out of the contest. He soon recovered and the Wisconsin men rowed bravely on, even when Wilse fell over on his oars again. He again revived sufficiently to swing an oar as the Wisconsin crew swept over the finish line more than a minute behind Syracuse.

Ovation for Winners.

The winner was greeted by the roar of many voices, the shrieks of whistles and sirens and the reports of exploding bombs, set off from the bridge.

Syracuse won also and for the second successive time the race for university four-oared shells for the Kennedy challenge trophy—the first race of the day—leading the Pennsylvania crew over the line by nearly two lengths and covering the distance of two miles in 10 minutes, 52 4-5 seconds.

Columbia crossed the line third, three lengths behind Pennsylvania, which had fouled the Columbia boat in the last half mile of the contest. The judges disqualified Pennsylvania and awarded Columbia place honors.

Cornell Loses by Fluke.

Syracuse was the actual winner, but many felt that but for a mishap Cornell would have won this race. There are no coxswains in this race, and the shells are steered by the bow oar. Cornell went wide of her course and ran her boat's sharp prow plump into the marking buoy at the one-and-a-quarter-mile mark, and the craft stuck there until help arrived. When the collision occurred she had a lead of four lengths and was drawing rapidly away from her competitors.

Cornell carried off the two-mile race for freshmen eight-oared shells for the steward's cup in handy fashion, going over the course in 9 minutes, 29 3-5 seconds, three lengths of open water ahead of Syracuse. Columbia was third, Wisconsin fourth and Pennsylvania fifth.

BOTH CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

McFarland and Welsh to Decide Lightweight Championship.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—"If you're confident way down in your heart of beating the other fellow, the battle's more than half won," says Jim Jeffries, who, if anyone should be able to get close to the facts, ought to be the one. So, if Jeff has spoken the truth, there will be two winners in his ring at Vernon on the afternoon of July Fourth, when Freddie Welsh and Packy McFarland meet to decide what practically amounts to the lightweight championship of the world. Both boys are so sure that they will win that neither admits any possibility of defeat, and the result should be a determined battle.

The more the McFarland-Welsh scrap is thought of, the classier it appears. The stockyard wonder has gone through more than 40 battles without tasting defeat, and out of his 50 meetings with other boys, Welsh got the short end of the purse on but a single instance. And the verdict in that instance is a matter of discussion between Welsh and McFarland.

"I should have won because of a foul Packy handed me," says the Englishman.

"I have won because of my merits," asserts Packy, and there the matter stands.

McFarland says Welsh will be easy over the longer 25 rounds route, but the way Packy is going about his training does not denote anything that backs up the assertion. The Chicago boy has located his camp at Jack Doyle's South Side Club, close to the arena in Vernon, and with a full force of partners is already at it early and late getting into shape. Packy is a little heavy at present, but says that a few miles on the road will soon reduce his poundage to the proper figure.

One of McFarland's stunts is to play handball, and the local amateurs are out at Doyle's every afternoon giving him an argument. Packy is no wonder at the game, but at the same time he manages to keep along with the string, and win his share of contests.

Freddie Welsh has made a hit at Venice of America, Abbot Kinney's famous city on the shores of the Pacific. His quiet manner and clever work in the ring attract a big crowd to the Amphitheater every day, and the beach residents intend to string the bank roll on him against Packy.

The advance sale already indicates a house which will total at least $15,000. No seats are being delivered, but the batch of orders already on the list serves to show the general interest in one of the grandest cards ever staged by a fight club.

OAKLAND GETS HARRY NELSON

FAIRPLAY EASY WINNER

COLIN AND CELT NOT IN JOCKEY CLUB STAKES.

August Belmont's Colt Defeats High-Class Field of Three-Year-Olds in Near Record Time.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 27.—Before a crowd of 15,000 persons, August Belmont's Fair Play, carrying top weight, 126 pounds, won the $25,000 Coney Island Jockey Club stakes at Sheepshead Bay today, defeating a high-class field of three-year-olds. Fair Play was admirably ridden by Notter. The boy allowed the field to race away in front, and at the turn to the stretch he called on the Belmont horse and won. Hessian was second, with King James third. The time of 2:31 1-5 for one and a half miles, equals the track record made by Stalwart in 1904, and is less than a second slower than the record time for the distance, made by Goodrich at Chicago in 1898.

The race was robbed of its main interest by Colin and Celt not starting. The two colts are under a veterinarian's treatment, and it was upon his advice that Mr. Keene did not send them to the post for the rich event. Of seven carded to start, two were withdrawn, the Whitney entry, Stamina and Royal Tourist, leaving five to face the starter.

Given Good Start.

They were sent away to a good start, Angelus going to make the pace, followed by Dorante and Hessian. King James and Fair Play alternated in last and next to last places. Angelus opened up a two-length gap around the paddock turn, while Dorante was about a length and a half before Hessian.

In the run down the back stretch Angelus still led. At the far turn Dorante took the lead, followed by Hessian and Fair Play. In the stretch Notter brought Fair Play up outside of Dorante, but the Belmont colt, under a hard drive, managed to win by a length. Hessian was also a length and a half before King James.

Race for Two-Year-Olds.

The result of the great trial $25,000 stakes showed that John E. Madden had the best two-year-olds of the year. His two colts ran one, two, Sir Martin winning, with Fayette second, and Helmet third. The ride that J. Lee put up on the Madden Colt, Sir Martin, was considered by many horsemen the best ride seen here in years. The Madden entry carried top weight, 129 pounds. Bobbib went out to make the early running and took a lead of half a length over Fayette, with Helmet third. Sir Martin was fourth. Bobbib continued to show the way to the elbow of the main track, where Fayette took command, with Helmet at her side.

The race at this point looked to be between the first two, but Lee, on Sir Martin, seeing that his stablemate was in trouble, put the colt under a hard drive. Gradually he made up the lost ground and at the sixteenth he was on even terms with Fayette and Helmet. In the next few strides he was a length to the good and flashed under the wire a winner by two lengths, with Fayette a head before Helmet.

Rejects Big Offer.

After the finish of the great trial stake P. J. Rainey offered Mr. Madden $40,000 for Fayette, but Mr. Madden promptly turned the offer down.

Results:

Six and one-half furlongs, main course—Westbury won, Roseben second, Demund third; time, 1:19.

Steeplechase, about 2½ miles—California King won, John M. P. second, Thistledale third; time, 5:04 2-5.

Six furlongs, Futurity course—Sir Martin won, Fayette second, Helmet third; time, 1:12 2-5.

Coney Island Jockey Club stake, $25,000, mile and one half—Fair Play, 126, 5 to 1, won; Hessian, 116, 3 to 1, second; King James, 116, 12 to 5, third; time, 2:21 1-5.

Mile and three-sixteenths—Pins and Needles won, Gretna Green second, Miss Crawford third; time, 2:00 3-5.

Mile—Earl G. won, Antasus second, Bad News third; time, 1:39 4-5.

SULPHUR KILLS SQUIRRELS

Weston Farmer Finds Effective Means of Exterminating Pests.

WESTON, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—Edward Anderson, living on the foothills near Weston, has originated a cheap and successful method of exterminating squirrels, which have caused much damage in his locality. Locating a populous squirrel colony, he goes out with an equipment of newspaper scraps, sulphur and matches. At every hole he places a slip of paper and a teaspoonful of sulphur. Setting this afire he covers the blaze with weeds and dirt. The result is that the squirrels are all smothered in their subterranean houses. Not one is ever seen to burrow out after the method is thoroughly applied.

In exploring a squirrel village a day or so after its wholesale asphyxiation, Mr. Anderson saw only two little pests scampering about, while formerly several dozen were in sight at once. Evidently these two were visitors from an adjoining colony not yet fumigated. Neighbors are taking up Mr. Anderson's plan, which promises to permanently solve the squirrel trouble here and elsewhere. It is economical, simple and effective. One pound of sulphur worth 15 cents will kill about 200 squirrels.

BUMPS FAVORITE AND LOSES

Rose Queen's Record Time at Meadows Disallowed by Judges.

SEATTLE, June 27.—In the feature event of the day at The Meadows race track, the Ladies' Plate handicap, four and a half furlongs for two-year-olds, W. Kelly, who had the mount on Rose Queen, rode his horse into the favorite, Lee Rose, which in turn bumped Right Easy into the rail. Rose Queen won the race in record-breaking time, but the judges allowed the claim of foul and placed Lee Rose and Right Easy second, while Rose Queen got third as there were only three starters. Kelly, the jockey, was indefinitely suspended. Results:

Six furlongs—Nattie Bumppo won, Zelina second, The Sultan third; time 1.13.

Six furlongs—Pal won, Nagazum second, Aunt Polly third; time 1:13.

Mile and 70 yards, handicap—Lotus Eater won, Edwin T. Fryer second, Johnny Lyons third; time 1:43 1-4.

Mile and a sixteenth—High Gun won, Gargantua second, Lady Souffle third; time 1:47.

GARFIELD, Wash., June 27.—(Special.)—Because he stopped his harrow and went to the house for a bearskin coat, John Simpson, a farmer, started a runaway in which his team was so badly injured both horses had to be shot. Simpson had but recently refused $500 for the team. Simpson left his horses, attached to a disc harrow, standing in the field. When he appeared clad in the fur coat the animals took fright and in running with the harrow were so badly cut with the sharp discs that they were shot to prevent further suffering.
