QUACK CRUSADE IS BEARING FRUIT

Proceedings to Revoke Licenses of Dr. W. T. Eisen and Dr. J. W. Morrow.

CRIMINAL WORK CHARGED

Investigation by City and County Medical Society Results in 16 Convictions for Practicing Without Licenses.

As a result of the determined crusade of the City and County Medical Society to stamp out quackery and criminal practice from the profession, proceedings were brought before the State Medical Board yesterday afternoon to revoke the licenses of Dr. W. T. Eisen and Dr. J. W. Morrow. Both men are charged with having performed criminal operations. A number of other cases are under investigation, and may be brought before the Board at any time.

Dr. Eisen, who was formerly Danish Vice-Consul, and Dr. Morrow have been cited to appear before the State Board July 22, at the Corbett building, to answer the charges against them, which in both instances are very specific.

Performs Criminal Operation.

Dr. Eisen is charged with having been indicted, tried and convicted of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by performing a criminal operation on 17-year-old Jennie Selgber. He was convicted by a jury in Judge O'Day's department of the Circuit Court and sentenced to pay a fine of $500. It was the trial of Dr. Eisen that led to the disclosures concerning the notorious X-Radium Institute, at Third and Alder streets, and caused the manager, Ernest Heymans, to disappear suddenly from the city. It was at the X-Radium Institute that Dr. Eisen performed the operation on the Selgber girl. At Eisen's trial, Heymans, who had been indicted on the same charge, turned state's evidence and secured immunity by testifying against Eisen.

An investigation by the City and County Medical Society followed the revelations concerning the X-Radium Institute, but no trace of the fleeing Heymans could be found.

Injured Woman to Face Morrow.

Dr. Morrow is charged with having performed a criminal operation in this city last April for a fee of $20. It is said that the woman upon whom he operated will appear before the State Board as a witness against him. The charge against Dr. Morrow was preferred by Dr. Alan W. Smith, who, as secretary of the City and County Medical Society, has been active in the investigation and in securing evidence. Dr. A. W. Moore brought the charge against Dr. Eisen.

A committee of the City and County Medical Society has been at work all winter investigating and gathering evidence, pushing the crusade of the physicians to purge their own profession. Their labors have so far resulted in 16 convictions for practicing medicine without a license and other similar charges. The members of the committee are: Dr. A. W. Moore, Dr. W. A. Moore, Dr. E. Hawke, Dr. Louis Buck, Dr. A. Titzer.

Movement State-Wide.

Dr. Alan W. Smith said last night that the determined movement of physicians to stamp out the sort of practice charged against Drs. Eisen and Morrow is growing among the physicians and that not only the physicians of the city taking hold and helping in every way possible, but the physicians all over the state are lending their aid to put an end to the illegal practices. Dr. Smith said that a large number of cases similar in nature are now pending against quack doctors, and that proceedings to revoke their licenses may be brought before the State Board at any time.

The charges against Dr. Eisen and Dr. Morrow were first filed with the State Board some time ago, and were to have been heard at the meeting held last Wednesday, but owing to a defect in the charges, they were withdrawn, and the charges filed yesterday substituted.

FINISH DEPOT FOUNDATION

Work Progressing Rapidly on Albany's New Union Station.

ALBANY, Or., July 11.—(Special).—The foundation has now been completed for Albany's new Union depot for the Southern Pacific and Corvallis & Eastern lines. The work is progressing nicely and the workmen will begin the erection of the walls during the coming week. The first shipment of the cement blocks which will form the walls has been received here. A rearrangement of the big railroad yards here will soon be begun. The tracks will be placed so that the trains on the main line of the Southern Pacific, on the Corvallis & Eastern, the Lebanon branch, and the Albany-Springfield line will all come into the new Union depot. The present freight depot will be moved to the opposite side of the yards from where it is now located. The new arrangement will be a most convenient one and Albany will have one of the best depots on the Southern Pacific line in Oregon.

CANCELS CHERRY ORDERS

Salem Cannery Says Market Has Fallen and Fruit Is Poor.

SALEM, Or., July 11.—(Special).—The Salem cannery today notified practically all the large cherry growers of this vicinity that no more cherries can be received from them this season. The demoralized condition of the canned fruit market and the poor condition of cherries this year were the reasons for this course. From the cherries already purchased the cannery has sorted out tons of inferior fruit that had to be thrown away because not fit to pack. Small lots of fruit will still be purchased, but large growers, who can make arrangements to ship or dry their product, will be left to care for their crops themselves.

Mowing Clover Seven Feet Tall.

ALBANY, Or., July 11.—(Special).—Alsike clover, seven feet tall, is being mowed today on the farm of Henry Stewart, four and one-half miles southwest of Albany. It is believed to be the tallest clover ever produced in Oregon. Stewart has a field of clover which averages five feet in length. The longest stalk thus far measured was exactly seven feet long. Of course, the clover does not stand up to this height, its weight having caused it to fall to the ground. For this reason it is now impossible to cut it with a mower and it is being harvested with a scythe. This field of clover will be used for hay and Stewart expects it to yield fully six tons to the acre.

FORAGE CROPS ARE HEAVY

Splendid Prospects in Chehalis and Newaukum Valleys.

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 11.—(Special).—Crop prospects in the Chehalis and Newaukum Valleys are excellent. Hay harvesting is now well under way and the yield for the most part is exceptionally heavy. The late rains in the Spring gave all sorts of grass and forage crops a fine start. Oats will make a splendid crop, some of the fields around here being very fine. There is not much wheat raised in Lewis County, owing to the fact that Eastern Washington growers can raise it cheaper, and the fact that since Uncle Sam acquired the Philippines, oats have been a better-paying crop. Potatoes which were planted early in the season look fine, but some of the crops that were not planted until late will soon be in need of rain.

There are many more acres planted in corn in this section than formerly. There used to be an impression that corn would not mature here, but experiments of the past two or three years have fully demonstrated that there are school varieties that will do well and the seed of these is coming more and more into demand. Where formerly one saw a few occasional rows of corn grown for household use, now one sees many patches of much greater size, grown for stock.

The season has been an almost ideal one for all kinds of fruits. Hops for the most part look well, although there are some yards where, owing to slack cultivation, because of the poor prospect for a price, the yield will be small. Those yards that have been well cared for show up fine. Figures are being gathered as to just what the extent of the hop shortage will be below last year and 1906. It will show a very heavy shrinkage, many yards having been plowed up and the business wholly abandoned by the landowners, who find more certain profits in other crops.

WOMAN BEATEN IN CABIN

HANDS ARE TIED AND CLOTHES TORN FROM BODY.

Emma G. Robinson, Portland School-teacher, Victim of Brutal Crime Near Galice.

MERLIN, Or., July 11.—Miss Emma G. Robinson, who is holding down and handling a mining claim near Galice, was perhaps fatally beaten last night. Some person as yet unknown broke into her cabin, beat her fearfully with a revolver, tied her and tore all her clothing off. She is in a serious condition. The Sheriff and a posse have gone to arrest a man who is suspected. The community is greatly excited.

The crime occurred near the Galice mine, which is 20 miles over the mountains from Merlin, and is supposed to have been the result of trouble over mining claims. Miss Robinson is about 50 years old, and taught school in Portland for nearly 25 years.

Emma G. Robinson, for nearly three decades was an instructor in the local school department of the city of Portland. She resigned from the educational staff of the Couch School two years ago and devoted her attention to real estate, in which line she is said to have been successful in accumulating a small fortune. For many years Miss Robinson taught in the old Harrison street school and afterward was assigned to the Williams avenue school. Her brother-in-law, Professor Henderson, who was formerly one of the faculty of the West High School, is now connected with the University of Idaho, at Moscow.

WILL OPEN BIDS JULY 16

Albany to Learn Soon of Selection of Site for Postoffice.

ALBANY, Or., July 11.—(Special).—Today marks the close of the time for offering sites for Albany's Federal building. The bids will be opened in Washington on July 16, and in order to reach the National capital in time, they must have been made before Monday.

The selection of the site invites considerable speculation here. As bids were forwarded direct to Washington no definite information can be obtained as to the number or location of the sites offered. The following three sites have been most prominently discussed: Vacant half block, facing on Ferry street, bounded by Third and Fourth streets, owned by E. D. Cusick and Dr. W. H. Davis; quarter block at northwest corner of Fourth and Ellsworth streets, owned by S. H. Cleverger, now occupied by Cleverger's Hall; quarter block at southeast corner of Second and Lyon streets, owned by Federal Judge C. E. Swolerton, of Portland, now occupied by two dwellings. The following locations have also been mentioned and it is supposed were offered as sites: Quarter block at northeast corner of Third and Broad-albin streets, owned by W. R. Bilyeu, J. W. Hart and M. Ludwig, and occupied by four dwellings; quarter block at southeast corner of Third and Broad-albin streets, owned by Mrs. M. E. Woodin, and occupied by dwellings; quarter block at northeast corner of Fourth and Lyon streets, owned by Mrs. Nellie O. Baker, and partially occupied by dwellings.
