

supper party followed. A trolley ride, a country dinner and dance, near Gresham, on Thursday, had as its hostesses the Delta Iota Chi girls. Wednesday the fraternity gave a stag banquet, and on Friday evening a brilliant dancing party was given at the new Masonic Temple by the Oregon Beta and Gamma chapters. The latter was decidedly the largest of the week's festivities and the most successful. The ballroom was lavishly decorated with flowers, pennants and frat emblems. Saturday completed the entertainments, terminating with a stag supper at Rock Island Club.

NANCY LEE. EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Etta M. Shroder by Mrs. Anna Robinson and Mrs. A. A. Bass, Wednesday afternoon, at 323 Tenth street. The reception hall was decorated with festoons of white tulle and white tulle bows and floral hanging baskets, the walls being covered with quantities of huckleberry branches, ferns, white roses and heliotrope. Tally, white pink and gold hearts. The living room was a fluttering mass of pink hearts strung over-head, the mantel, walls and archway being hung with white huckleberry branches and ferns with bows of pink tulle. Five hundred was played during the afternoon. Mrs. L. De Vancouwer, Miss E. C. Davis and Mrs. G. H. Howell made the same score for the second prize, a box vase. Later in the afternoon tea in the form of white squares containing pink hearts were served. The affair was then taken by the merry party to the gift-room, where many beautiful remembrances were brought to view and admired. The marriage of the honoree to Marshall Merwin occurred the following Saturday morning at the parsonage of Rev. E. H. Moore, immediately after which they departed for San Francisco and other California points to be gone a month. After their return they will be at home to their friends at their own residence at Independence, Or.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 11.—(Special.)—One of the prettiest affairs of the season, was the reception held Thursday evening, July 10, by Mrs. E. C. Davis and Mrs. Lyle Hunt in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Their charming home, on East Eighteenth street, was lavishly decorated in a most elaborate manner with ferns, Oregon grape, orange blossoms and roses. The color scheme of pink and white for the dining-room was carried out with sweet peas, asparagus fern, pink and white tulle and pink satin ribbon. The table was presided over by Mrs. Frank Vaughan, Mrs. Du Bois, Mrs. T. G. Adams and Mrs. George Young, assisted by Misses Veima Phillips, Margaret Du Bois, Winifred Palmer and Lillian Cunaway. The color scheme of the reception-room was white and green and of the living-room red and green. In the receiving line were Mrs. Patrick Brulin, of Portland, and Miss Fitzgerald, of Pendleton, assisted by Miss Lyle Hunt and Miss Dorothy Eichenlaub. The punch bowl was in a lower constructed of Oregon grape, ferns and roses with quantities of red tulle and satin ribbon, and was presided over by Mrs. Henry Jaggy and Miss Mary Grubb. The music was under the direction of Mrs. Putnam. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt received numerous remembrances from their friends of this and other cities, of whom there were more than 100 present.

On Sunday last the annual reunion of the Oregon division of the United Deacons of Baron Theobaldus, Rev. W. von Wehnon, was held in the Grange Hall at Gresham. Although not all the Metzgers were present at this reunion all the families in the state were represented, there being enough to fill up the large dining-room of the Grange Hall. The day was spent in reminiscences and listening to music. A large collection of roses was sent in by J. W. Shattuck. Officers of this division of the Metzgers are: Henry Metzger, adviser; John H. Metzger, president; Daniel W. Metzger, vice-president; George W. Metzger, secretary. It was decided to change the time of holding the annual reunion in the future to the first of each time it is thought the attendance will be larger. The family record of the Metzger family has been kept for hundreds of years, and the average number in the family of the tribe is nine, 70 per cent of whom are males. Ninety per cent of deaths of the Metzgers are after 60 years of age. The family have always been pioneers. In Oregon John H. Metzger and Daniel W. Metzger are the pioneers.

Among the events of the week was a hay-rack party, given by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Goldstein, Thursday evening, in honor of Miss Bessie Schwartz, of Denver, the guest of honor. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Bessie Schwartz, making a merry din with horns and cowbells. Fulton was their objective point, and here, at a hall gaily decorated for the occasion, the guests danced and made merry until a late hour. The girls looked charming in their dainty sunbonnets, while the young men looked like genuine farm hands, out for a frolic, in their overalls and straw hats. The guests were: The Misses Bessie Schwartz, Esther Segal, Anna Segal, Sadie Gordon, Rose Cohen, of Spokane; Daisy Ostrow, Mollie Segal, Messrs. Charles Stark, of Chicago; Al Goldstein, David Fallay, Max Davidson, Michael L. Gale, Abe Gale, Arthur Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. B. Fallay, Dr. and Mrs. George Rubenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Weinstein and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Goldstein.

Thursday evening, Mr. Hood Tent, No. 17, Knights of the Maabebos, celebrated clearing their lot on Thurman street of debt by a public installation. A beautiful drill, with many evolutions, was given by the ladies of Golden Rule Hive, No. 17, under the direction of Mrs. Knott. The hall was decorated with festoons of sweet peas and roses. The officers were installed by J. E. Werlein, as follows: A. C. Muller, commander; B. C. Groce, lieutenant-commander; Ned Munger, record keeper; A. S. Carstens, district record keeper; A. S. Groce, finance keeper; B. C. Groce, physician; T. Thompson, chaplain; W. Penon, master at arms; C. R. James, sergeant; L. A. Eaton, first master of guards; C. W. Wilbur, second master of guards; W. A. James, sentinel; C. B. Stuart, picket.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Daus, 724 East Eighth street, was the scene of a pleasant gathering Wednesday night, July 8, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Daus are well known in the city, having lived here over 20 years. Mr. Daus was born in Wisconsin and Mrs. Daus is a native Oregonian. They have two children, Chester L. Daus and Mrs. E. Wesley Minar, who were present. The parlors were filled with guests. A number of letters and messages of congratulation were received from friends out of the city and from others who could not be present. Mrs. Minar assisted her parents in receiving the guests.

Mrs. E. T. Deeming presented the following pupils in a piano recital Wednesday, June 24, assisted by Mrs. G. Y. Salmon: Orina Wilbur, Hazel Clavin, Vera Henderson, Eleanor Palmer, Edith Clavin, Beatrice Palmer, Gladys Miller and Norman Henderson.

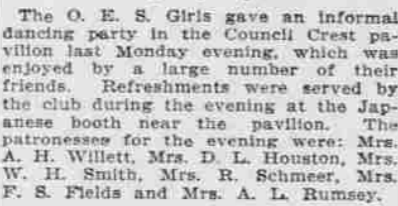

An informal reception was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. E. C. Durham, at her home, 561 Fourth street, in honor of her daughters, Mrs. Walter A. Durham and Mrs. Chester B. Fyle. The parlors were decorated with fragrant wild flowers and pink roses. Miss Doernbecher and Miss Bird served delicious punch in the dining-room amid masses of crimson ramblers and sweet peas. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Roberts, assisted by Miss Walton, Miss Cornack, Miss Luckey and Miss Barr. Sweet music by Weber's string orchestra added to the delight of the guests during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reid and their son, Wilbur Reid, entertained their friends Thursday night at a smart lawn party on the Base Line Road. The entertainment consisted of dancing and games. Refreshments were served in an arbor on the lawn. The grounds were illuminated with electric lights. About 150 guests were present. Assisting Mrs. Reid in her very successful garden party were Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler, Miss Bessie Tweed, Miss Helen Holbrook, Miss die, ushers, followed by Miss Eva Baylis and Master Charles Baylis, as flower bearers. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Nellie Lagerquist, of Brainerd, Minn., sister of the groom, gowned in an exquisite Hagerie robe and carrying an immense shower bouquet of pink carnations. Following her came the bride on the arm of her brother-in-law, T. F. Baylis. The wedding gown was of ivory messaline, elaborately braided and trimmed with princess lace, cut on empire lines and made over a foundation of chiffon and silk. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Mrs. A. H. Weber, mother, Mrs. T. F. Baylis, sister of the bride, Mrs. W. G. Baylis, recently from London, Eng., and Miss Muriel Baylis completed the bridal party. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Gus Weber. The bridal party and guests repaired to the adjoining house.

PORTLAND BUSINESS MAN WEDS WALLA WALLA GIRL

MR. AND MRS. N. L. TOOKER. N. L. Tooker, of Portland, and Miss Ellmore Langdon, of Walla Walla, were married in Walla Walla, Wednesday, July 8. Mr. Tooker is well known in business circles and is a prominent member of the Portland Lodge of Elks. Mrs. Tooker was formerly a resident of Los Angeles, where she was a popular member of the social set.

Helen Hank, Miss Myrtle Muir and Miss Katherine Southerland.

The O. E. S. Girls gave an informal dancing party in the Council Crest pavilion last Monday evening, which was enjoyed by a large number of their friends. Refreshments were served by the club during the evening at the Japanese booth near the pavilion. The patronesses for the evening were: Mrs. H. Willett, Mrs. D. L. Houston, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. R. Schmeer, Mrs. F. S. Fields and Mrs. A. L. Rumsey.

WEDDINGS.

Altman-Butler.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was solemnized on Sunday evening, July 5, in Montavilla, at the home of Mrs. Marretta Butler, when her only daughter, Minnie M. was united in marriage to Arnold J. Altman, of Portland. The bride wore a gown of ivory white messaline trimmed in choice lace, her veil of tulle fell in graceful folds about her slender figure, she carried an arm bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin ribbon. The bride couple was attended by Miss Cora Lambert and Valentine J. Shashall. Miss Lambert was attired in a dainty gown of pale blue. The lawn had been beautifully decorated and illuminated for the occasion; an immense bank of flowers served as a backdrop and from a canopy formed from the overhanging boughs was suspended a wedding bell.
