COMING EVENTS.

To many of the young business women of Portland "home" means the boarding-house that shelters them during the week; and when Sunday comes the need of a change and the desire for a real home atmosphere is felt. The Young Women's Christian Association aims to supply this want in their "at homes," and their plan for this afternoon is especially attractive. With the association rooms at the corner of Sixth and Oak streets an "open house," where secretaries and members will receive and entertain from 4 to 6, no girl in Portland need be homeless this afternoon. While no formal programme has been prepared, music and readings will have a part in making these hours a pleasant memory of the future.

George Wright Post, G. A. R., invites former and present members to help celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the institution of the post on Friday evening, July 31, at its hall, northeast corner Second and Morrison streets. The W. R. C. will help entertain. Menorah, floor oil, Poets and corps are cordially invited to be present.

The women of the Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal Church will give a lawn social on Wednesday evening, July 15, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Day, 1673 Division street. An excellent programme has been prepared.
