COMPLAINS OF BAD BARGAIN.—The Owl Restaurant, at 289 East Morrison street, is not much of a producer, from a financial standpoint, according to Mrs. A. B. Gray, who owns the place. She brought suit in the Circuit Court yesterday against J. L. Tetzlaff to recover $500 which she gave him in part payment on the place. She alleges the former owner assured her the restaurant had a steady income of $200 a month and an established patronage. She has found this to be totally untrue and now charges Tetzlaff with fraud. She asks that the former owner be restrained from selling six of her personal notes for $50 each which she gave him to insure final payment on the restaurant.

CHURCH DEDICATION. — The Bennett Chapel of the Methodist Episcopal Church located at Gates Station on the O. W. P. Railroad will be dedicated this morning. Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of Willamette University, will preach at the morning service. G. F. Johnson, Samuel Connell and Rev. D. L. Rader are expected to make short addresses at the afternoon service. There will be a basket dinner on the ground which will be served between 12:30 and 1:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested.

FORBES CHURCH COMPLETED.—The new Forbes Presbyterian Church, on Gantenbein avenue and Sellwood street, Albina, erected to replaced the building that was destroyed by fire December 17, 1907, is complete and new furniture is being installed. Outside of the foundation and furniture the building cost $10,000. At present the congregation occupies the Sunday school room, but next Sunday will move into the auditorium. It has not yet been decided when the dedication services will be held. Rev. H. H. Pratt is the pastor.

MICHIGANDERS LIKE PORTLAND.—That Portland is far ahead of the other cities of the West in point of beauty is the statement of a party of Detroit, Mich., business men who have just returned home and are quoted in the Detroit Free Press of Sunday, July 21, on their impressions of the trip. W. L. January, William Brushaber and Ira Grinnell formed the party and in telling of the trip upon their return home, they said they found only one city in the entire West that compares with Detroit in its beauty and delightful surroundings and that city is Portland, Or. Coming from a party of enthusiastic Michiganders, after having stopped in every center west of their home city, the statement they made is high praise, indeed.

WANT SCHOOL ON NEW SITE. — The Mount Tabor Improvement Association will endeavor to have the location of the West avenue schoolhouse changed when a new building is erected. L. S. N. Normandin, J. A. Bamford and C. B. Sawtelle are a committee from the association to work for a different location and a new building. The present site of the schoolhouse was never considered satisfactory. Committees from the Mount Tabor Home Training Circle pronounced the building unsuited for school purposes and the conditions a menace to health. The committee will look up a location near the Base Line road and ask the Board of Education to provide a new building next year.

OREGON BURNS CLUB.—At the invitation of Clement Scott, of Vancouver, Wash., the members of the Oregon Burns Club will hold their next meeting on Saturday, July 25, at 8 P. M., at the Columbia Club, Vancouver. District Attorney George J. Cameron, of Portland, will preside. Songs and recitations from Burns will be rendered by the members. Pipe Major McDonald will play a selection of reels and strathspeys on the bagpipe. All interested in the works of the Poet Burns are invited.

BEST OF PORTLAND GRILLS

Attractive and Comfortable Acquisition to Danmoore Hotel.

The latest acquisition to Portland is the Navajo grill in connection with the Danmoore Hotel, on Fourteenth and Washington streets.

It is unique from the fact that all the appointments are of Indian design, and faithfully carried out in every detail. What was recently a reception room, under the former management, is now metamorphosed into a charming grill room. Entering from the Fourteenth street approach is a most attractive drawing room, filled with trophies suggestive of the West, the floor covered with brilliant Navajo rugs, and the walls adorned with handsome Indian pictures.

The dining room adjacent is characterized by simple and artistic lines, and the effect is unusually refreshing and cool. Rich carpets of green velvet cover the floor, the walls are of a delicate green shade, the curtains are Grecian in effect, the electric chandeliers are of a Colonial brass design, and the tables and chairs, in perfect harmony, are of a green tinted Mission style. The cuisine is under the direction of a competent chef, the service is excellent, and the menu a constant source of favorable comment. Since the opening day, the grill has been the scene of many luncheons, dinners, and afternoon teas. The grill is, in addition, delightfully situated, being directly opposite the Heilig Theater, and therefore the management has particularly catered to after-theater parties and buffet suppers. Original menu cards are now in course of preparation, one side imitating a gaily colored Navajo rug.

Until the opening of the theater season, in September, delicious cold suppers, together with cooling drinks, will be served each evening until 12 P. M.

BIG GAME IS PLENTIFUL

Blue Mountains Also Covered With Heavy Yield of Huckleberries.

PENDLETON, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—According to reports received from the numerous Blue Mountain Summer resorts in this county, huckleberries and game are to be more plentiful this year than usual. The berries are ripening now, but the real harvest will not begin until next week.

Since the open season commenced there have been a number of deer killed and it is said the signs indicate that this game is staying down from the higher peaks later than usual. There have been more panthers seen and killed during the past few months than for many years, and there is every indication that hunters of big game can have their hearts' desire this year.

Owing to the absence of the usual large number of floods fishing is also the best it has been in ten years.

BIG TRACTS FENCED

Five Federal Suits Against Stock Companies.

INVOLVE 112,340 ACRES

Both Equity and Criminal Proceedings Are Begun Against William Hanley Company and Other Large Interests.

Equity suits to enjoin the maintenance of fences, and criminal suits to prosecute the men responsible for the unlawful inclosure of 112,340 acres of Government land, were filed in the United States Court yesterday by United States Attorney McCourt. The suits are five in number and the principal defendant is the William Hanley Company, which, it is alleged, has inclosed improperly 82,540 acres of vacant public land and 4280 acres of school land, all in Harney County.

It is charged that the fences complained of have been maintained by the accused corporation to the exclusion of all other stockmen for about 12 years. Harry L. Corbett, of this city, is secretary of the corporation, while William Hanley is president and manager. Hanley will be prosecuted criminally.

Practically three sides of the alleged unlawful inclosure are inclosed by rimrock as a natural barrier, which served to keep the herds corralled. Where there were any openings around the tract, which is about 30 miles in length and ranges from 4 to 12 miles in width, the company purchased a series of tracts of 40 acres each, on which it constructed fences, completing the inclosure.

The other largest individual trespasser, against which proceedings have been instituted, is the Pacific Livestock Company. It is charged with having maintained a fence inclosing 23,000 acres of public land in Malheur County. It is alleged that the land has been inclosed unlawfully for 15 years. In addition to the equity suit, a criminal proceeding has been brought against Henry L. Miller and John Gilchrist, president and manager, respectively, of the company.

Civil and criminal suits also have been filed in the other three cases, as follows: American Livestock Company, of Chicago, inclosing 1800 acres in Harney County, for which Edwin B. Hill, manager, will answer to a criminal charge; Elijah and Royal T. Cliver, inclosing 360 acres in Union County; and J. F. and Ralph O. Smith, inclosing 360 acres also in Union County.

The suits against both the William Hanley Company and the Pacific Livestock Company embrace a larger acreage than was involved in the case against the Butte Creek Land & Livestock Company, in which the accused pleaded guilty. It was in this case, involving 20,000 acres of Government land, that ex-United States Attorney Hall was indicted on a charge of conspiracy. He was tried in the United States Court last February and convicted, his co-conspirators, W. W. Stelwer, H. H. Hendricks and Clarence B. Zachary, pleading guilty and testifying for the prosecution.

QUITS PINKERTON AGENCY

Otto H. Kulper, Local Superintendent, Retires From Service.

Otto H. Kulper, superintendent of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, has resigned, his resignation taking effect yesterday. His successor has not been named.

Mr. Kulper has been in charge of the local Pinkerton agency for the past three years. At the time of his appointment he was the youngest superintendent in the service of the Pinkertons.

During that time he has been engaged on some of the most perplexing and complicated cases of the Northwest and has always made an enviable record. Few detectives of his years have made a record similar to the one he has left. Mr. Kulper has not announced what occupation he will follow, but he has received a number of flattering offers.

Otto H. Kulper.

A LETTER OF INTEREST

Virtue Mine, Or., July 8, 1908.
Flash Chemical Co., Boston, Mass.:

Gentlemen—I have been using your preparation, "Flash," for cleaning hands, for near about two years, and find it excellent for taking off any kind of stain or grease, but when I came to this place I could not find anyone that knew anything about it, so I would like for you to let me know what you could ship me a dozen by express for prepaid.

I find it takes the dirt and grease out of the pores of the skin and leaves them soft and smooth.

Awaiting your immediate reply, I remain, respectfully yours.

WARREN CRAWFORD,
Box 971, Baker City, Or.
ANSWER.

Mr. L. Levinger, the reliable druggist, Baker City, has ordered a large consignment of "Flash," which will reach him in about two weeks.

Deny Knowledge of Purchase.

OMAHA, July 25.—Union Pacific headquarters officials at Omaha profess to have no knowledge of the alleged tie up between that road and the Canadian Pacific, involving the joint ownership of the Bellingham Bay & British Columbia Railroad, thereby permitting an entrance of the Harriman lines into Vancouver and the Canadian Pacific into Seattle and Portland. The denial came from the office of the vice-president and general manager.

WILL PLACE CORNERSTONE

Temple Under Way for Orient Lodge of Oddfellows.

The building committee of Orient Lodge, I. O. O. F., yesterday decided to lay the cornerstone of the Oddfellows' building, at East Alder and East Sixth streets, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The grand officers will lay the cornerstone with the ceremonies of the order. Sunday was selected as the time, as it will be more convenient for the members to attend on that day. There has been delay in getting reinforcing iron, but the iron came this week, and good progress has been made. Robert Andrews, N. P. Tomlinson, A. O. Sinks, W. K. Ileff and S. Charlston are the members of the building committee.

Mr. Andrews said the building will be made as nearly fireproof as possible. The walls, floors and all partitions will be of reinforced concrete and there will be little wood in the entire structure. It will be under the exclusive control of the lodge. The cost is estimated at $25,000.

Orient is now the second strongest Oddfellow lodge in the state. It has 300 members and will be 41 years old August 18. It had been the intention to dedicate the building on that date, but the delays make that impossible.
