

Mrs. Carl D. Lewis, of Seattle.
Formerly Miss Laura Jordan, daughter of Colonel & Mrs. Wm. Jordan.

The announcement that a horse show will be held in the Oriental building the latter part of September, on a much more elaborate scale than that of last winter, has been greeted with general satisfaction. Recently handsome pairs of horses were purchased by Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Fred W. Leadbetter and Thomas Scott Brooks.

On Wednesday many telegrams of congratulation were sent to Edward Grell, whose marriage to the attractive Miss Beesie Henry, of San Jose, took place at 8 P. M. at the Henry residence on the Alameda drive in that city. W. B. Mackay acted as the best man, and Miss Gertrude McIntosh as the maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Grell left for a trip to Del Monte, but will return very shortly to take up their residence on Willamette Heights.

Miss Nina Adams, of Honolulu, who is a favorite here, has been a guest of Mrs. C. H. Lewis and Miss Sallie Lewis for the past week. On Friday afternoon Miss Lewis asked in a number of Miss Adams' former friends to play bridge. Tea was later served on their handsome grounds. Miss Adams will leave shortly for Seattle, where she will visit with her brother, Ned Adams, sailing on August 14 for Honolulu.

Lieutenant John C. Fremont, Jr., aide to Admiral James H. Dayton, spent a few days last week as a guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. De Witt Connell. Lieutenant Fremont is a grandson of General John C. Fremont, who was the first Republican candidate for President in 1856, and the first Governor of California, having captured that state from the Mexicans during the Mexican War. Lieutenant Fremont was formerly attached to the West Virginia. He will now be stationed on the Mayflower.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quezard, of Detroit, Mich., have also been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Connell this past week.

On today's page is given a picture of Mrs. Carl Lewis, of Seattle, which was taken some years ago. Mrs. Lewis with her small son arrived last week to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Major and Mrs. William Kendall, on Willamette Heights, returning on Friday. Mrs. Lewis as Miss Laura Jordan was one of the very prominent girls, and as a young matron she has been much sought after in Seattle society. She is a petite demimonde who has been much admired and has a most charming manner. At a luncheon given in Mrs. Lewis' honor on Thursday she appeared in a pretty costume cut on severely tailored lines and worn with a large and smart Copenhagen blue hat with vivid wings of an American Beauty shade.

An engagement which will be of interest to the older residents, is that of Miss Maud Payne, a prominent heiress of San Francisco to Russell Bogue, a son of Virgil G. Bogue, the chief engineer of the new Gould line, the Western Pacific. Mr. and Mrs. Bogue, their daughter, Vergilia, better known as Vergie, and their two sons, Russell and Malcolm Bogue, occupied the Schuyler residence on King's Heights some 12 or 15 years ago at which time Mr. Bogue was the chief engineer of the O. R. & N. Vergilia Bogue and her brother Malcolm, who is a Yale freshman, spent several weeks in Portland last summer as guests of Judge and Mrs. Thomas O'Day. Both Miss Bogue and her mother have considerable literary ability, some clever verse and short stories being accredited to them both.

Cards are out for a large luncheon to be given at the Waverly Golf Club on Tuesday by Mrs. Robert Treat Platt in honor of Mrs. William Lyon Phelps, of New Haven, Conn., wife of Professor Phelps, of Yale University, in whose honor the Yale men of Portland are holding a banquet the same evening at the University Club.

William H. Galvani, the well-known bibliophile and scholar, has recently had repeated invitations from the celebrated Hindu, Dharma Palla, to meet him in India, urging him to take up his residence there, and offering Mr. Galvani a choice of residence in Benares, Calcutta or Ceylon. Dharma Palla is known in the United States and Great Britain as well as India as the most celebrated representative of Buddhism and as the head of non-sectarian educational movement throughout India.

In honor of the much feted visitor, Mrs. John G. Edwards, of Hay Creek, a luncheon was given on Wednesday by the Misses Hewletta and Miss Felling at their handsome Fifth-street residence. Other present were: Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, and Miss Sallie Lewis.

Lily V. O'Ryan, the miniaturist, for whom Mrs. David T. Honeyman and Miss Marion Jackson, both gave large teas last winter, has been devoting herself assiduously this summer to her art. She is at present engaged on a striking miniature painting of Mrs. L. Allen Lewis and her small daughter, Clementine. Mrs. Lewis' brilliant brunette type of beauty is delightfully depicted in a gown of filmy white, the bodice embroidered with embossed cloth of gold. Other recent works are portraits of Dr. A. A. Morrison, C. E. S. Wood, a pastel of Mrs. Dom J. Zan in a mauve-tinted gown and hat, a miniature of Katherine Ainsworth, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, and a life-sized painting of Mrs. Robert W. Lewis and her two sons, Cicero Hunt Lewis III, and Robert Wilson Lewis, who are decidedly patriotic in appearance. Mrs. Lewis in a tall black chignon gown, is seated in a light carved chair and the background is of an antique tapestry.

Since Miss O'Ryan began her work she has met with most flattering success. In 1902, while at the Old Art Students' League of New York, her studies were unanimously chosen for the World's Fair, and for four consecutive years while at the Cooper Union in New York she was the prize winner in the life and portrait-painting classes. She has studied under George De Forest Brush, Douglas Volk, Frank Vincent DuPont, Willard Metcalf and William Chase and in 1897 won the first prize at the University of New York in a competition for the best type of American beauty. Perhaps the best known of Miss O'Ryan's work is the portrait of Janice Meredith which she originated. Others which have attracted attention is a portrait of Colonel Archibald Campbell, of Canada, and one of his daughter, Lady Alfred Jephson, of England, whose husband was equerry to Queen Victoria, a miniature of Sir Wilfred Laurier, of Canada, Cardinal Tascheru, Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, Lady Alfred Browne and Mrs. S. Holliday. The latter is a direct descendant of Mrs. Fitzherbert, the morganatic wife of George IV of England.

Mrs. Anne Beatrice Sheldon has returned from Paris, and is at present a guest of her sister in Victoria, B. C. Later this summer she is contemplating a visit to Portland.

Miss Frances Wilson has sailed for Alaska, having gone with Mrs. Dannenhower, of New York, and Miss Ruth Dannenhower, whom she joined in Seattle, nephew, who she joined in Seattle. Miss Dannenhower, it will be remembered, visited here recently with her last year, and also traveled abroad with her last year.

A number of telegrams and congratulatory letters have been sent Admiral W. T. Swinburne, who on Friday succeeded Rear-Admiral James H. Dayton as Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific Fleet few hours in the city en route from Bremerton to Del Monte, where he will join the Admiral, who has been going in extensively for golf. Accompanying the Admiral were Lieutenant Edward T. Consett, flag lieutenant, and Lieutenant Poteet, his aide. Both of these officers were much sought after during the time that the U. S. E. Charleston was stationed here during the Rose Festival.

Mrs. Louise Hall has returned from an extended visit to East. Accompanying her were Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hall, Miss Hazel and Ruth Hall, who journeyed across the continent to make the return trip with her. While in Chicago Miss Hall dined under and assisted Miss Hinchman, the originator of the Hinman gymnastic dancing, and she is now planning to take up the work in Portland this coming winter. Gymnastic dancing, it seems, has undergone a decided vogue this past winter in Chicago, among the most enthusiastic devotees being the Potter Palmer set. It has also been introduced into the Chicago University.

Mrs. Maud Somerville Mitchell, of The Dalles, Or., was married in Seattle on Monday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Everett, 311 East Marion street, to Mr. John P. Habersham, of Seattle. The father of the bride at one time owned a beautiful home on Riverside Drive, which is now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ladd.

Miss Georgina Burns, Miss Kathleen Burns and Miss Caroline Burns are now domiciled at their attractive beach residence at Gearhart Park, where they are entertaining Miss Margaret Walter and Miss Margaret Cobb, of Boise, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris B. Greig (Miss Helen Brigham) have returned from a several weeks' wedding trip to the East, South and Canada. While in St. Paul they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Craig, who formerly lived in Portland, when Mr. Craig was the general passenger agent of the O. R. & N. lines. He is now the general manager of the Great Northern. While in St. Paul Mr. and Mrs. Greig were taken on a motor tour with the Craigs and they were also entertained in that city during the Shriner's convention. They visited in St. Louis, New York, did the Great Lakes, going later to Winnipeg, Victoria, Vancouver, B. C., San Francisco and Milwaukee. In the latter city they were guests of Mrs. Greig's roommate at Milwaukee Downer College. Mr. and Mrs. Greig are now at the beach, but will return the first of September and occupy apartments at 624 Flinders street.

A dinner of 12 covers complimentary to Lieutenant Commander Waldo Evans, of the Pacific Squadron, and Mrs. Evans, was given on Tuesday by Madame von Holton, Miss Tekla von Bolton and Miss Edith Nicholson. Commander Evans is in command of the Pennsylvania and visited here during a brief leave of absence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Couch Flanders spent the week-end at Cloud Cap Inn, as did Dr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor and Seaton Taylor.

A pleasant announcement is the arrival of a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ball. Mrs. Ball was the attractive Miss Charlotte Whitley, a sister of Mrs. William T. Muir, and Mrs. J. Frank Watson.

Mrs. William L. Brewster was the hostess on Wednesday at a luncheon at the Golf Club which included several members of the younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Tarpley, Ford and Don Tarpley left yesterday for a month's sojourn at Seaside.

Walter Martin, of San Francisco, was a Portland visitor last week, spending considerable time at the Arlington Club.

Miss Miriam Strong, the fiancée of Harry Sladen, has returned from a visit at Gearhart Park with Captain and Mrs. J. J. Bradley, of Vancouver Barracks.

Miss Susie Stott, John Emerson Cronan, and Plowden Stott are guests over the week-end at the beach residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman.

Mrs. I. N. Fleischner came up from her beach residence the first of the week to attend the opening performance of "The Thief."

Mrs. George Wentworth, Jr., was the hostess at a pretty luncheon on Wednesday at her mother's residence on Yamhill street. Lloyd J. Wentworth, Miss Ethel Wentworth, Miss Katherine Arnold, Mrs. John A. Keating, Mrs. Paul Vial, Miss Louise Bruce, Mrs. J. Ernest Ledlow, Mrs. Hugh Laidlaw, Miss Dorothy Dunman, Miss Harriet Kinney, Miss Elizabeth Sears, Mrs. Otis B. Wight, Mrs. Frank Riley, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mrs. O.

Miss Elizabeth Mills, of San Francisco, who but recently returned to California from a visit with Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rockey, was a tea hostess last week at their Presidio-avenue residence, complimentary to Miss Maud Payne, of San Francisco, the fiancée of Russell Bogue. In the very near future, Mrs. A. E. Rockey, was a tea hostess last week at their Presidio-avenue residence, complimentary to Miss Maud Payne, of San Francisco, the fiancée of Russell Bogue. In the very near future, Mrs. A. E.
