Springfield Outbreak Causes Lynching of Two Negroes, Death of Two Whites and Desperate Wounding of Others.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 16,-The secend lynching of the Springfield riot oc curred at Spring and Edward streets, within two blocks of the Capitol, tonight. A negro named William Donegon, aged 80 years, was strung up to a telegraph pule by a mob of such proportions that the firemen and police who responded to the first alarm were unable to handle it. Reinforcements of troops were sent for.

Another disturbance took place in front of the state armory, where a mob building wherein were housed a number of negro refugees. Company L of the Fourth Infantry and Troop B of the cavalry were sent to the place, charged the mob with bayonets and dispersed it This affair was simultaneous with the lynching of Donegon, four blocks away. CITY CALMS DOWN DURING DAY

Troops Hold Rioters in Check After Night of Carnage.

SPRINGFIELD, III., Aug. 15 .- Springfield, the city which is richest in memories of the great emancipator, is tonight an armed camp, becau zens yesterday gave vent to hatred of the race which Abraham Lincoln declared free and equal with all other peoples in this country. Squads of soldiers are patrolling the downrown streets, and in the troubled portions of the community entire battalions are watching over the lives and property of the negores. Schered by the recollection of the tragic events of last night and this morning, the city has quieted down and only the murmured threats of friends of those who were killed or wounded in the street frays give evidence that the presence of troops is necessary. It is this murmuring, however, that is keeping the authorities on the anxious seat.

Early today friends of William Bowe. a county official who was so seriously hurt that he is hovering between life and death, almost succeeded in enlisting followers for a raid of vengeance on the "black belt."

More Troops Called Out.

Taking a lesson from last night's experience, Sheriff Warner at once notided Governor Deneen that fresh outbreaks were threatening and that more troops would be necessary. The response of the Executive was prompt, and as a consequence a full brigade of state troops is here under the command of General E. C. Young. The consist of the First, Fourth and Fifth Regiments of Infantry, the Second Squadron of cavalry and a Gatling gun section. Two of the infantry regi-ments are scattered through the city at various points, the First Regiment being held in reserve and the Fourth

The whole trip was recled off better than a mile a minute and all records for the run were beaten by over 20 minutes.

Grimy with coal dust, but with nerves unshaken from his frightful ride, the engineer leaped from the cab almost before the big drivers had ceased turning, as the locomotive rolled into the depot at Revelstoke. IGNORANCE OF NEW LAW

Distributing Literature

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 .- For the first time since his appointment as treasurer of the Republican National Committee, George E. Sheldon, of New York, today consented to tell the troubles of the men who are expected to find the money for a National He is here to discuss with Frank H. Hitchcock and other National ommitteemen the National campaign. His talk with National committeeme was about the ignorance of corporation officials and even of members of Congress that a law has been passed denying the right of corporations to make contributions to campaign funds. cause of this ignorance of the law, Mr. Sheldon said, he had been compelled to return to the senders a number checks that should not be received, although the money is greatly needed. He declared that it is his purpose to publish every individual contribution immediately after the election, which plan is in accordance with the expressed wish of Mr. Taft as well as of the Republican leaders generally. Publish All Subscriptions.

"The decision to publish the names of all contributors," raid Mr. Sheldon, made the matter of collecting funds uphill work. The gathering of the funds will be done wholly under the auspice of the National committee and will be directed by the treasurer or assistant treasurer and the advisory committee, which is soon to be appointed. The suggestion handle the collections in their own states, thie. The National committee will have its own agents in each state, the men to be drawn from the influential business men of the various sections."

Probable Cost of Campaign.

Speaking of the probable cost of running the Republican National campaign, Sheldon estimated that between $400,000 and $500,000 would be needed to defray the traveling expenses of speakers and that it would cost at least $200,000 to put one piece of literature in the hands of every voter. He fixed the cost of compaign buttons at more than $70,000 and said that other large sums would be needed for the expenses of headquarters, lithographs and advertising. Then there are other matters that will be costly.

York. The letter in part follows:

"It is necessary if we are to insure beyond question the election of Taft and Sherman that a campaign be prosecuted in this state which may arouse every believer in a safe and conservative government to a full appreciation of the issues which are involved. By campaign orators, by the exposition of the issues through the press, by the distribution of literature and by personal canvassing every voter should be informed of the dangers and uncertainties which would follow the election of Bryan.

"To make this campaign we rely upon those who share our belief that the interests of the people would be best conserved by the continuance of Republican policies and I appeal to you as business men to make such contributions as seem to you suitable to enable us to do this work in the most effective manner."

MILLION TO BUILD AIRSHIPS FOR WAR

What Experts Will Ask of Congress.

MOST VALUABLE AS SCOUTS

Whole Squadron Costs One-Tenth One Dreadnaught.

OTHER NATIONS BUILDING

Signal Service Convinced Day of Aerial Cruisers Has Come and Uncle Sam Must Go Into Procession Quickly.

Walter Wellman to Chicago Record-Herald WASHINGTON, Aug. 15,-(Special.) -An aerial squadron or fleet of air ship scouts for the United States Army is projected by General Allen, chief of the signal office, and his aids. In the near future Congress will be asked for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to start this branch of the service. The officers who are interested in the plan entertain no doubt that Congress will give them the money needed to keep our military establishment well with the armies of Germany, France and Great Britain.

Notwithstanding a certain inevitable public incredulity as to the efficiency of airships as a military adjunct, it is now admitted by most progressive men in all parts of the world that an important part of the military operations of the future will take place in the air General Allen and the staff of earnest and efficient officers of his corps are determined that the United States shall not lag behind in the race of progress. If it does, the fault will not be theirs, and Congress will have to take the esponsibility.

With a million dollars, or about one tenth the cost of building and equipping a Dreadnaught battleship, the United States could put into commission a dozen or more cruisers of the air of large size and efficient type. The maintenance and repair of this squadron would cost less than the same items for one battleship. What such a fleet of air scouts and cruisers war must of course be left to the future to determine. There is no absolute certainty about their utility, nor can there be till the test of trial in the field is had.

Other Nations Convinced.

But in this, as in everything else, the opinions of scientific men and and England, as well as of our own country, believe the motor balloon has tary powers are going ahead building and launching such ships. Against dence of what has been already actually achieved in serial navigation, the incredulity and the jests of people subject do not count, or ought not to 9 2-5 seconds, especially paced by the famcount.

Aerial Travel Is Dream.

Neither in Europe nor in America do the officers who are carrying on this work of progress labor under any delusions as to the character of the serv ice they are laboring to provide. They have no illusions as to air navigation. Few, if any, of them believe travel in the air is likely to be a commercial success in our day and generation.
