

Neglect Yourself and the World Will Neglect You

GOOD TEETH ARE A PASSPORT IN BUSINESS AND SOCIETY

Q A mouth filled with white, strong teeth is the most striking feature of the face. Neglect your teeth and you are sure to suffer physically and probably financially. The day when slovenly people succeed is past. If your teeth ache or you notice a cavity in one of your teeth, have it attended to at once. A stitch in time saves nine.

Q Those missing teeth don't look well. If you will call at this office we will make a bridge for you that will look as well and chew your food as well as natural teeth. This work is accomplished without plates and is one of the greatest triumphs of modern dentistry.

Q When no sound teeth remain, then we make plates that fit perfectly.

While Miss Sherman has been in vogue for less than five months, she is already a prime favorite on the hills, and her engagements date for a year ahead. ### HARRIMAN IS NAMED Appointed by Governor Head of Crater Lake Road Body.

WILL HELP DEVISE MEANS

Wizard Made Chairman of Commission That Will Undertake Building of Highway to Oregon's Natural Wonderland.

E. H. Harriman has been named chairman of a commission to provide ways and means for the construction of a wagon road to Crater Lake. Governor Chamberlain appointed the Union Pacific magnate to the position because of Mr. Harriman's enthusiasm over Crater Lake and the resorts of Southern Oregon. He maintains that there are no mountains, rivers or lakes anywhere else so beautiful as those of this state.

This is the first official position E. H. Harriman has ever held in this state, but as he is the biggest taxpayer in Oregon, it is not inappropriate that he assist in the administration of the state's affairs. While it is likely he will not have the time to attend personally to the details of building the road, he has declared his willingness to do all he can to aid the project and will act in accord with the other members of the commission.

EARLY RESUMPTION UNLIKELY

Krutzschmitt Makes No Promises Regarding Tillamook Line.

"That the 'Little Road' to Tillamook will not be completed very soon is indicated by the lack of definite statements by either Mr. Lytle or Julius Krutzschmitt, Mr. Harriman's director of maintenance and operation, who returned to Portland yesterday, after a trip into the Tillamook country.

"We had a nice trip to Tillamook," said Mr. Krutzschmitt, "but when asked if there was any prospect of the early completion of the 'Lytle road,' he said he could make no announcement at present.

"Do you regard the Tillamook district as attractive to a railroad system?" was asked.

"It is a great country," he said, "particularly in regard to the timber there. I have never seen such timber in my life. It is not at all likely that anything will be done toward the completion of the Tillamook line until next season at any rate. The season is so far advanced that but little could be accomplished before the winter rains put an end to construction. However, Mr. Krutzschmitt's conference with Mr. Harriman this week may result in the magnate adopting a recommendation that the Tillamook line be completed next season.

during the Winter except at greater cost and loss of money. The contracting firm of Cochran, Winters, Smith & Co., which did considerable work on the North Bank road, put in a bid for the completion of the "Lytle road" from mile-post 20 to the end of Robert Wakefield's contract on the coast end. The bid laid in Mr. Lytle's office for three months this Spring and Summer, when it was withdrawn by the bidders because they could not accomplish the work during the Winter months except at greater cost, and they demanded more money in that event. The Tillamook people were told by Mr. Krutzschmitt that he was on a trip of "inspection," but they were unable to figure out how he could inspect anything since the Tillamook railroad consists chiefly of maps and profiles that could better be inspected in the Portland offices.

However, it is thought that if sufficient credit can be aroused in the high officials of the Harriman system to get them to go over the portions of Oregon that lack railroads, a great advantage can be gained, for they cannot fail to see the opportunities here for transportation lines. The results of these personally-conducted excursions are bound to have beneficial results finally.

NEW ROAD ENTERS OREGON

California & Northeastern Reaches Terminus on State Line Today.

Today marks the entry of a new railroad to Oregon, for the California & Northeastern, the Harriman line being pushed north from Weed, Cal., will establish a new terminus at Caloro, on the state line, today. Dorris, four miles further south, has been the terminus for some time, but rails will be laid and trains operated to Caloro hereafter.

R. H. Dunbar, secretary of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce, Klamath Falls, has been offered to rush the work and it is thought that the line will have been completed into the Klamath marshes by Fall. It is expected that work is in Portland, and he says the presence of Mr. Harriman in Klamath County is having the effect of hastening the completion of this road. Construction forces have been ordered to rush the work and it is thought that the line will have been completed into the Klamath marshes by Fall. states, on account of it being at the dividing line, is 20 miles from Klamath Falls, although it is on Klamath Lake, and better transportation facilities are offered to the Klamath people than ever before. Passengers and freight are carried to Caloro by boat from Klamath Falls, where they are transferred to the trains, thus doing away with the long stage rides that have hitherto made the trip to and from Klamath Falls so tiresome.

The California Northwestern will undoubtedly be built north through the Klamath County, and on to Natron, where it will connect with the main line of the Southern Pacific. It is expected that when completed, the new road will itself be made the main line, doing away with the heavy grades and curves of the present line over the Siskiyou Mountains.

Trains to Willowa by October 1.

Work has progressed so far on the Willowa extension of the O. R. & N. from Elgin to Joseph, 37 miles, that trains will be running into the city of Willowa by October 1. Rails will be laid to that place September 1. Willowa is half way to Joseph, and is situated 30 miles from Elgin. The completion of the work to Willowa means that the most difficult construction on the extension has been completed. The remainder of the work is comparatively easy. It will not be completed before the end of next season.

Police Fire on Strikers.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22.—A fierce riot between striking cap makers and strikebreakers took place today. One man was badly beaten and several hurt by flying missiles. The police were compelled to fire on the mob before breaking up the riot. The strikebreakers are employed by Edward Levy & Co., and as they were leaving the factory the strikers in a body attacked them and a sharp encounter followed.
