SOCIETY

BY NANCY LEE

MRS. J. W. MATTHES
WIFE OF THE RECENTLY APPOINTED CONSUL TO HOLLAND, AND HER TWO CHILDREN

ENTERTAINING is in a comatose condition, and therefore there is but little to chronicle. Many are still at the beach, though the influx to the city has been marked the last week, as all are desirous of making their plans for the Fall months. The horse show is thus early attracting much attention, and promises to eclipse that of last year.

Several Portlanders were fortunate in receiving cards to an ultra-smart garden party at Marlborough House in London, which was given by the Prince and Princess of Wales during the time of the Lambeth Episcopal Conference, at which were present King Edward and Queen Alexandra. Among those so favored were Bishop and Mrs. Charles Scadding, who returned last week from abroad; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns, Miss Anita Burns, Mr. and Mrs. George Goode, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Miss Margaret Montgomery, Rev. Cumming Bruce, who at one time lived here, and Miss Frances Lewis.

Bishop and Mrs. Scadding have had a most interesting trip, and while in England were entertained extensively. Bishop Scadding, however, was much absorbed by the Lambeth conference, which demands the attendance of all bishops of the Church of England, some 243 in all, including American bishops. While in England they met many Oregonians, and took a pleasant trip up the Thames with Mrs. Montgomery and Miss Margaret.

The marriage of Miss Miriam Strong and Mr. Harry K. Sladen is to take place Wednesday evening, September 23, at the First Presbyterian Church. Miss Strong is a great favorite in society, and is a bright and attractive girl. She is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and the Portland Academy, and enjoyed great popularity while at school in the East. Miss Strong is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Strong, and a sister of Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Walter A. Bethel, who is now with Major Bethel, who is stationed at the Presidio in San Francisco. Mr. Sladen is a popular bachelor and clubman, a son of Captain and Mrs. J. A. Sladen, a brother of Captain Fred Sladen and of Dr. Frank J. Sladen, who is one of the physicians at Johns Hopkins.

• • •

Dr. and Mrs. James Zan, the latter formerly Miss Elsie Smith, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter. The little one has been named after Mrs. Zan's mother, Mrs. S. Smith, for whom Mrs. N. E. Ayer is also named.

• • •

In compliment to Mrs. S. J. Wall, of New York, who some years ago lived in Portland, Mrs. J. G. Mr. Gilbert is a brother of Alfred C. Gilbert, of Yale, who had the distinction of breaking the world's record for pole vaulting at the recent Olympic games in London. Miss Luckey is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Luckey, and is talented musically. She is a St. Helens Hall girl, but recently returned from Italy, where she studied voice culture at the Conservatory of Bologna. In Portland she studied with Signor Lucchessi.

• • •

Mrs. H. H. Mitchell and Miss Hibben, of Cincinnati, who are making a tour of the world, are for a brief time guests at the Hotel Portland. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Schuyver.

• • •

Mrs. David T. Honeyman has had as her guest for a part of the week Miss Ruth Catlin, of New York, who some 10 or 12 years ago lived in Portland. Miss Catlin has not since visited the Coast, until the present time, but, with her mother, Mrs. W. W. Catlin, and Helen and Hoyt Catlin, has divided her time between New York and Chicago. Miss Catlin is a girl of brilliant mentality and has much charm of manner that endears her to young and old. Before visiting Mrs. Honeyman she spent a brief time with the Howes at Carlton, Or., and is now for a few days a guest of Miss Genevieve Thompson. Later she will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ladd at their handsome Riverdale residence.

• • •

On today's page is given a picture of Mrs. J. W. Matthes, whose husband was recently appointed by Queen Wilhelmina as the Dutch Consul in Portland. Beaumont, Jr., who is in command of the U. S. S. Georgia. • • •

With them are Miss Angela Kinney, who has been attending a finishing school in New York, and Master Jack Kinney. Their plans for returning are indefinite, but they will probably remain a year. Mr. Dougherty is to join them abroad in the Spring.

• • •

• • •

As there are several Portlanders who have studied music under the great American composer, Edward MacDowell, among them Mrs. David T. Honeyman (Miss Nan Wood) and Miss Ethel Rogers, of Springfield, Mass., who visited Miss Genevieve Thompson, it may be interesting to know that a bas relief in bronze of MacDowell has just been completed, over which the Eastern critics have raved. It is the work of Miss Helen Farnsworth Mears, who has breathed into her work the personality of the composer. On the medallion are the words which the musician has inscribed at the beginning of his "Norse Sonata," "Night has fallen on a day of deeds," and a bar of music from the "Sonata Tragica," which he himself designated as the lines he wished placed on the bas relief. The hands in particular are said to be wonderfully temperamental, and the artist has conveyed the delicacy of the composer's sense of touch, the infinite sensitiveness of the finger tips. Pathetic, tragic, beautiful, and yet quite simple, the figure sits in a cushioned chair, his one-time power over an artistic medium still lending strength and dignity to the stricken figure.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. George White Browne, the latter formerly Miss Fannie Brown, are for a short time guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Browne, Sr., in Tacoma, but they will leave soon for Vancouver, B. C. On Thursday Mrs. Browne gave a large tea for her new daughter-in-law.

• • •

This coming week Mrs. William Honeyman Tom Honeyman and Miss Grace Honeyman will go across the continent with Tom Honeyman's eldest daughter, Mildred, who is to enter a smart finishing school in New York.

• • •

James C. Crawford, who lived here some years ago, has again met with success in a three-act farce, "All in the Family," which was produced on August 18 at the Belasco Theater. The farce is a satire on the famous McCall Life Insurance Company, which was exposed some years ago in New York, and is said to be surprising for bright and original lines and hilarious ideas. In the cast is Dorothy Bernard, formerly with the Bakeronians. Mr. Crawford, who has written several previous successes, is still engaged in newspaper work in San Francisco. Mrs. Crawford, who is conspicuous in the prominent women's clubs, has also marked literary ability.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. William Warrens came up from the beach for a day last week, after having been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, at Gearhart Park, who were also entertaining Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord. Mrs. Warrens has since left to join her children at their North Beach cottage.

• • •

Miss Greata Butterfield, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Butterfield, left on Friday with Miss Lois Scott for Decatur, Ill., where they will enter Millkin University. They are chaperoned across the continent by Mrs. O. M. Scott. En route they will visit relatives in Kansas City and Peoria, Ill.

• • •

M. and on its summit, built a campfire, told stories and sang songs until the night was far spent, when they spread their beds in the open air. After partaking of the delicious viands the following morning they repaired to their respective homes.
