also entered. Sheppard won easily in the fast time of 24 2-8 seconds. Ralph Rose, in his first try with a 12-pound shot, broke the world's record with a put of 57 feet 8 2-3 inches.

The neglect of the committee in charge of the meet to provide pole vaulting and broad jumping events kept Gilbert and Kelly out of the meet.

In stature and build, as well as in features, Hays and Alfred Gilbert loom enough alike to be twins, and Gilbert is frequently taken for the New York boy by some enthusiast who desires to be informed whether it is possible for him to run 50 miles without tiring.

Gilbert never replies; simply smiles and walks away. He is anxious to get home, and says Tuesday will prove a most welcome day for him.

Anxious to Get Home.

Smithson is equally anxious, but Kelly would like to participate in a track meet at Newark next Saturday. He will probably decide to come West, for both Gilbert and Smithson are trying him strongly to do so. All three would like to participate in a regular track meet when they get home. All three are feeling fine and think themselves capable of smashing some Northwest records if a regular meet can be arranged.

All of the Olympic athletes are eagerly awaiting the carnival of Monday, when the entire team has been invited to spend the day with President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

SHOPOWNERS COMPLAIN

Declare at Present Lumber Rate, Vessels Cannot Make Expenses.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Ship owners on Puget Sound are complaining bitterly because of the extremely low rates at which lumber is being carried from Puget Sound to San Francisco and San Pedro, and the Government has come in for a good share of the criticism. Coastwise shipping rates on lumber have dropped to the low-water mark. Recent fixtures include two schooners to load at Port Hadlock for San Francisco at $2.75, and another from Grays Harbor at the same figure. For Southern California, about $3.50 is being offered. The Ship Owners' Association circular gives the lumber rate from Puget Sound to San Francisco at $1.25, but it is an open secret that the three vessels in question have been fixed at 50 cents less than that figure. A steam schooner which was on the Sound last week received $4 a thousand for its cargo of lumber for San Pedro, and called at five different ports on Puget Sound.

Ship owners declare that at the present rates their vessels can hardly make expenses. There is a disengaged fleet of between 15 and 20 coasters on Puget Sound at present, with small hopes of any of them getting a charter in the near future. Until the California demand for lumber picks up, the ship owners do not anticipate an advance in rates.

The Government has come in for rounds of censure by the ship owners, who allege that the officials at Washington are responsible for the present low rates. It chartered foreign tramps to bring lumber to the Pacific, and these outsiders have forced down prices by accepting almost any rate, and the American-owned vessels have no chance.

KIDNAPED, SAYS MILLMAN

Nonunionist Declares Union Miners Took Him to California.

SPOKANE, Aug. 29.—A weird story of kidnaping, involving members of the Miners' Union, is told by Frank Gillice, nonunion millman of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mine, at Kellogg, Idaho. Gillice, who disappeared mysteriously two weeks ago, and was found later in California, has returned home. He declares that on the day he disappeared two men met him in the road at Kellogg, disarmed him and compelled him to ride with them in a box car to Tekoa, Wash., watching him constantly. There he was put on a train and taken to Sacramento, Cal., where the men took $500 from him and left him.

Gillice claims he overheard the men planning to capture others in the same way, and also discussing kidnaping the baby of Manager Stanley Eason, of the Bunker Hill mine, and holding it for ransom. Gillice is the engineer who was running the hoist in the Portland mine, at Victor, Colo., when the cage dropped, carrying 14 men down 2003 feet to instant death. Friends fear this tragedy may have affected his mind.

President Commutes Sentence of Dismissal From Army.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—First Lieutenant William S. Bowen, Coast Artillery Corps, stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco, was convicted by court-martial of the charges of neglect of duty and of making false official reports, and sentenced to be dismissed from the service of the United States.

The President confirmed the sentence, but on recommendation of General Murray, Chief of Artillery, concurred in by the Secretary of War, has commuted it to a reduction of 36 files in rank.

SHOT MAY PROVE FATAL

GERMAN LABORER WOUNDED IN SALOON BRAWL.

Otto Harald Says He Fired in Self-Defense, but Witnesses Deny His Story.

An unidentified German laborer of middle age was probably fatally wounded in a saloon brawl at 7 o'clock last night in the resort at Second and Burnside streets, known as the saloon of all Nations. The shooting, so far as the police investigation has been able to reveal, was the result of a drunken row over who should buy drinks.

Otto Harald, a German, said to be a blacksmith, who admits having done the shooting, is locked up in the City Jail charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Together with him the police took into custody and are holding William Kaomann, 40 years of age, also a German laborer.

Harald would have escaped had it not been for the quick action of Alfred Lynch, who is employed at the saloon lunch counter. Immediately after the shooting Harald ran to the street, while all the eyewitnesses except Lynch took no steps to stop him. Lynch vaulted the counter and gave chase to the fleeing man who had the revolver still in his hand. Harald was overtaken by Lynch before he had run one block, and was held until the arrival of Patrolmen Anderson and Swennee, who placed Harald under arrest.

Harald maintained that he had been attacked and robbed of $17 by several men and that he shot in self defense while they were assaulting him and one was choking him. Besides Lynch the shooting was witnessed by several men in the saloon, including Gus Baker, the bartender. Those who were present in the place declare that Harald's story is untrue and that Harald got into a quarrel with his victim because the latter remarked that Harald had not done his share of the buying.

Blows were exchanged and Harald stepped behind a pool table in the center of the room. When the others advanced Harald drew his revolver, witnesses say, and fired twice. One of these shots took effect in the unknown man's right side. It penetrated the liver and left a jagged wound in the lower lobe of the lung. The victim was hurriedly conveyed to St. Vincent's Hospital, where he was operated upon by Dr. Fred G. Ziegler, the City Physician. He was unconscious when taken to the hospital, and was placed under the anesthetic as soon as he revived sufficiently. Up to a late hour he had not recovered from the effects of the anesthetic.

Harald has been in this country for about a year, and in Portland for but three weeks, according to his statements. During that time he had been working for a contractor whose name he could not remember.

As Dr. Ziegler declares that the recovery of the wounded man is extremely doubtful, Harald stands a good chance of facing a charge of murder.

Bureau covering weather conditions during the month of September for the past 28 years, show that the average precipitation for the month for that period was 1.5 inches. The greatest precipitation was 4.3 inches, which occurred in 1884. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 1.27 inches on September 20-21, 1894. The average velocity of the wind was 43 miles from the South on September 2, 1897.

PLANT TREES BROADCAST

Reforestation Cannot Be Done Without Spade, Says Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has returned from an extended trip through the Western States. "The question of getting enough wood in most of the states east of the divide," he says, "cannot be determined by planting timber to meet the requirements of the people, but the growing of something on the watersheds should be attended to, and that is being closely studied by the Department of Agriculture."

"I found that at 6000 feet elevation in the Deadwood Forest Reserve broadcast seeding on the last snows in the Springs is a success. It is out of the question to reforest the watersheds of the country with spades. There is too much to do. The work must be done in some wholesale manner, and to this the Department is giving its earnest attention."

L. H. AMOS HOME FROM NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Declares Chaffin and Watkins Equals of Nominees of Two Big Parties. Chaffin Coming Here.

L. H. Amos, Oregon's sole representative at the recent National Prohibition Convention at Columbus, Ohio, arrived home yesterday and expresses entire satisfaction with the choice of candidates made by that body. Eugene W. Chaffin, of Chicago, its candidate for President, Mr. Amos considers in every way qualified to fill that high office, and believes he is the best all-around candidate the party has ever nominated. Aaron S. Watkins, of Ada, O., the candidate for Vice-President, Mr. Amos declares is no less able. Said Mr. Amos:

"These two candidates are quite as well qualified as those of either of the other parties. The lack of interest in the contest between Bryan and Taft has contributed somewhat to the success of the prohibition cause. More people are lining up with us than ever before, and it looks as though our vote would be increased heavily this year over any previous year."

"The platform adopted by the Prohibition party is brief, but very much to the point. An unusual fact in connection with this platform is that the party believes in the things that have been put into it. Mr. Chaffin is a man of unusual powers. He possesses a magnetic and pleasing personality and is an eloquent and logical speaker. He is easily the
