

GLOSS FORFEITS RACE TO LAINJ

Refuses to Accept Terms of Astoria Regatta Committee.

QUEEN RECEIVES CROSS

Is Presented by Scandinavian Singing Societies—First of Series of Sangerfests Proves Great Success.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 29.—This was by far the most pleasant day of the regatta so far as weather conditions were concerned, although there were a few nifal showers this morning.

The principal race of the day was the double scull contest between E. O. Gloss and I. J. Waite, of the Portland Rowing Club, and C. G. Laine and Norman Sawyer, of Vancouver.

The crews got away evenly, the Portlanders having the inside course. The Vancouver crew pulled much the prettier stroke and soon drew ahead, gradually increasing the lead until at the half it was fully three lengths to the good.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

The double pleasure-boat race between Gloss and Laine, in which there was a dead heat yesterday, was not rowed over today on account of Gloss refusing to accept the committee's terms and the judges this afternoon awarded the race to Laine.

In the single canoe race, the entries were Ball, Allen and Moore, Allen won with Ball second and with Moore third, the latter captured just after crossing the finish line.

CONFESSED MURDERER OF E. E. PERDUE

Walter Johnson Now Confined in Jail at Hillsboro.

HILLSBORO, Or., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Walter Johnson, self-confessed slayer of Elmer E. Perdue, now confined in the County Jail here, is awaiting trial at the November term of the Circuit Court.

Johnson, a former saloon man and hogrower, Johnson killed Perdue on the morning of July 4, afterward robbing him of about $140. He then dragged the body several hundred yards into a deep gulch, where he covered it with brush and old boards.

Johnson then went to Portland, where he was captured. Three hours after capture he confessed to the atrocious murder.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

Johnson's wife is a daughter of Riley Thomas, a Nehalem rancher, who lives a few miles from the scene of the crime. They have one son, two years of age.

FUNDS AT LOW EBB

Washington State Institutions Face Deficiencies.

MUST PRACTICE ECONOMY

Appropriations for Asylums and State College Prove Insufficient for Requirements—Printing Fund Almost Exhausted.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Heavy deficiencies are forecasted in the appropriations for the maintenance of some of the state's principal institutions by a checking up in the State Auditor's office of the balances left at the amounts the Legislature authorized them to expend.

These probable deficiencies will be in the accounts of the Western Washington Hospital for the Insane, the Eastern Washington Hospital for the Insane, the State College at Pullman, and the Bellingham Normal School. In addition to these shortages the state printing fund is almost exhausted and it is claimed that there will be not one dollar for the printing of the departmental biennial reports required by law.

Asylums Face Deficiencies. The Western Washington Hospital for the Insane at this date has a balance left in the appropriation for maintenance of $236,812.50, amounting to $89,808.02. This balance should pay the running expenses of the institution for seven months. During the corresponding seven months one year ago this institution expended $117,000, thus indicating that there will be more than $27,000 lacking to complete the fiscal period.

The Eastern Washington Hospital for the Insane has a balance of $41,240.50 to carry it for seven months in the corresponding period of last year the maintenance of this institution cost the state $70,000, and a deficiency of more than $28,000 is therefore indicated. The appropriation amounted to $188,887.50.

With a school year about to begin the State College at Pullman has but $13,265.91 left to its credit on the state's books out of an appropriation of $217,254. The State College receives money from the Government, but to have enough to pull through the year the amount must be relied on for nearly $60,000. In the corresponding period of last year the institution paid out of the general fund of the state for maintenance $73,840.

The Bellingham Normal School is not seriously in arrears, having $26,000 with which to face estimated expenditures of $29,000.

The penitentiary has a balance of $71,654.18 to its credit, and if it expends no more this year than last year, $49,000 will run it to the end of the fiscal period.

The State University still has a call on the State Treasury for $137,858.50 and faces expenditures estimated at about $124,000. The Reform School has nearly $27,000 left of its appropriation and will expend probably $24,000.

Only $3716 in Printing Fund. All state institutions will have to bear an unexpected burden, however, from this date on, in the payment of their printing bills. Printing for the institutions, heretofore, has been paid out of the $65,000 printing appropriation provided by the Legislature. The printing fund at this date has but $3716.96 left in it with a large amount of work still unbillied, and election printing in sight, which must be provided for, that will cost about $1000.

The trouble seems to have been that the last Legislature created many more uses for printing in different departments, but made no adequate provision for the payment for the work.

WHITE SEALERS TAKEN Are Members of Crews of Japanese Schooners Seized by Cutter.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Although the two schooners seized by the revenue cutter Bear on July 23 in Bering Sea for taking seal within the three-mile limit were flying the Japanese flag, one of the vessels, the Kinsei Maru, had for her navigating officer a white man, according to mail advices from Japan.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The late George Marion Perkins, a prominent citizen of this city, died at his home here today at the age of 70.

J. G. MACK & CO. FIFTH AND STARK

THIS WEEK we are displaying in our Fifth-st. windows a number of pieces that are representative of our large stock of Bedroom Furniture. Our floors contain a large assortment of low and medium-priced bedroom pieces as well as magnificent sets in solid mahogany, Circassian walnut and Austrian oak. All of our bedroom goods are characterized by correctness and beauty of design and finish and are selected with the view of pleasing the artistic sense.

A complete stock of carpets, rugs and drapery fabrics enables us to design and execute any style of bedroom treatment, whether simple or elaborate, severely classical or quaint and picturesque.

KING KOHR WINS DERBY

DEFEATS ELIDA BY HALF HEAD ON MARSHFIELD TRACK.

Crowd Gathers Around Stand and Protest, but Judges Decline to Alter Decision.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—About 2000 people this afternoon witnessed the most exciting race ever seen in Southern Oregon, when King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, won the Coo County Derby, the big race of the Southern Oregon District Fair.

There were five entries in the race, and faces of excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

When the judges hung out their decision, giving King Kohr first money, many of the people in the grandstand protested. A big crowd gathered around the judges' stand and much excitement prevailed, but entered on the list of favorites was King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, of Roseburg, and shot under the wire half a head in the lead.

OLDTIME WATCHMAN DEAD

Edward Murphy Passes Away at His Home in Jefferson.

JEFFERSON, Or., Aug. 29.—Edward Murphy died at his home in this place August 29, after a prolonged illness, aged 62 years. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

Mr. Murphy was for over 40 years employed by the Southern Pacific Company as bridge watchman and had been retired on a pension only a short time before his death. He was married in 1872 to Miss Frances Hearn, and they have one daughter, Mrs. Glennore Smith, of Los Angeles. M. E. Hearn, of Harrisburg, is a brother-in-law, and Mrs. T. J. Hannigan, of Portland, a sister-in-law of the deceased.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.

The funeral was held under the auspices of the local lodge of Oddfellows, of which Mr. Murphy was a member for many years.