

getting her mother-tongue or family traditions. The other day she took her children down to the old homestead at Beaune, named Mont-Arden, which she still remembered personally. There had been no changes. It is right in the heart of the famous Burgundy vineyards, the Beaune, Pomare, Volnay, Savigny, etc., and the chateau has its own old vineyard. The French relations still residing at Beaune received the American cousins with hospitable cordiality.

Mr. Doech, who is a South German extraction, is one of the most eminent international exposition experts in the United States. When the writer was Commissioner for the French Colonies at the great Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y., he first met Mr. Doech, then Commissioner for Oregon. Again he met him in St. Louis, in 1904, in the same capacity. Mr. Doech has also been Commissioner to the exhibitions at Osaka (Japan), Charleston, S. C., and elsewhere. Appreciating Mr. Doech's efforts to promote the trade relations between the United States and Japan, the Mikado conferred a very high decoration on him and made him member of the Sacred Treasure. To exposition can be held in the United States without Mr. Doech's collaboration. He has been one of the early pioneers of the North Pacific Coast and has a most intimate knowledge of Oregon and adjacent territories. His children have inherited the versatility, good common sense and brightness of their parents. They are all quite talented, whether in music or sculpture, or literature, or languages. Arno, the eldest son, who married Miss Sperry, of San Francisco, has just founded at San Francisco a new monthly magazine, The Western World. Roswell, the younger son, is to study sculpture in Paris under Rodin, the famous French master.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sewall will be dinner hosts, entertaining for Miss Miriam Strong and her fiancé Harry Sladen. General John Bubb, retired, who was formerly Colonel of the Tenth Infantry and later commandant of the Department of Minnesota, has taken a sabbatical leave at the Norton for the winter with his daughter, Miss Bubb. Mrs. Sanderson Reed will give a tea on Monday in honor of her sister, Miss Gladys Phelps.

The officers and their wives, of the First Infantry, now stationed at Vancouver Barracks, have taken out for a reception and dance on September 25, in honor of Colonel McGunnagle who has just returned to his regiment after an extended leave and trip through Europe, which he took with his charming young daughter, who is an Army girl born and bred. Colonel McGunnagle will be remembered by Portland people as having been Major in the Seventeenth Infantry during its service at the Barracks in 1903. Miss McGunnagle is still in the East, visiting relatives, but will join her father later in the autumn. Mrs. Frank Vincent Du Mond and her two children returned East on Wednesday after a summer spent with her parents Dr. and Mrs. Henry E. Jones.

Of more than ordinary import will be the wedding Wednesday of Miss Miriam Strong and Mr. Harry Sladen, as both are related to many of the oldest and most prominent families who have occupied a distinguished position since pioneer days. Miss Strong is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Strong, and a connection of the Ladies of the Coast. Mrs. C. C. Strong, the Fallings, Mrs. Matthew P. Deady, Mrs. Edward Fallings, Mrs. John Collins, and a sister of Mrs. James G. Wilson and Mrs. Walter Bethel, the latter being the wife of Major Bethel, who is now stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco. Mr. Sladen is a son of Captain and Mrs. J. J. Sladen, a brother of Dr. Frank J. Sladen, now at Johns Hopkins, and of Captain Fred Sladen, U. S. A., and also of Mrs. Bradley, wife of Captain Bradley, of Vancouver Barracks.

Miss Strong is a graduate of Bryn Mawr, and Mr. Sladen is a Stanford man, a member of the Phi Kappa and most prominent of the class which included Chester G. Murphy, Dr. Edward C. Swallow and Frank Branch Riley. A luncheon on Friday was given for Miss Miriam Strong by Miss Rhoda Fallings, whose guests included Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Margaret Collin, Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Mrs. James G. Wilson, Miss Ernestine Fallings, Miss Olive Fallings, Miss Effie Houghton and Miss Christian Latta, of Scotland. Miss Kathleen Burns will entertain a luncheon on Tuesday for the bride-elect.

Guests of Mrs. Corbett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reece Hoyt, in New York. Modistes and milliners have been besieged the past week with orders for the coming Horse Show, and from appearances the gowning will be even more elaborate than that of last season. The majority of boxholders of last year have made applications for the same, while already there is a waiting list of 40 names.

Miss Rhoda Fallings will not act as the maid of honor at the Sladen-Strong nuptials, which is to take place on Wednesday at 8:30 P. M. at the First Presbyterian Church, and the two bridesmaids will be Miss Kathleen Burns and Miss Effie Houghton. Dr. Edward C. Sewall, of San Francisco, formerly of Portland, is to take the trip north to act as the best man. The ushers will be Frederick Macleay, W. B. Mackay, Arnold Rothwell, Harold Strong, Chester G. Murphy and Walter Beebe.

ter have spent the summer at the Hotel Nortonia but will leave soon for their California home. Miss Etylee Smithson, a daughter of Andrew J. Smithson, and a sister of Forest Smithson, one of the world's champions, who recently covered himself with glory in London, was married last evening to Charles W. Henry, a son of C. K. Henry, the marriage being performed by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. A wedding breakfast followed at the Hotel Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will return the 28th and take up their residence at 29 Halsey, until the completion of their new home.

On Wednesday evening Miss Grace Winifred Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Rankin, was married to Herbert Valentine Ewa, at the home of the bride's uncle, M. B. Rankin, on Portland Heights, in the presence of the immediate relatives. Dr. Clarence Trus Wilson officiated.

The First Congregational Church was taxed to its capacity Wednesday evening for the wedding of Miss Beattie Katherine Luckey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Luckey, to Harold Simon Gilbert, a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, and a brother of Alfred Gilbert, one of the Olympic champions. The bride is an accomplished girl with musical attainments, and only last year returned from Italy. Her wedding gown was a handsome affair which she brought with her from Europe. The four maids were Miss Adelle Dyott, Miss Grace Towalee and Misses Claire and Gertrude Jones, cousins of the groom. The bridesmaids in the prevailing Empire style, the costumes being of a rich yellow satin, with which they carried full length yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Elizabeth Cornack, the maid of honor, wore an Empire gown of white mesaline and carried white chrysanthemums.

Wellington Gilbert, a brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Harold Povey, Arthur Cole, Mr. Cormack and Fred Nelson. Dr. Luther Dyott performed the ceremony and Miss Margaret Fallenus gave violin selections during the ceremony. A wedding reception followed at the Northrup-street residence of Mr. and Mrs. Luckey, where the scheme of color decoration was yellow. Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, the groom's mother, wore a handsome gown which she brought from the Orient. It was of ivory crepe embroidered in pastel pink wisteria, the bodice elaborated with Maltese and Duchess lace. Mr. and Mrs. Luckey's present to their daughter was an attractive residence on Marshall street. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert left for a trip to California, the Yosemite and the Grand Canyon. A luncheon was recently given by Miss Luckey for her bridesmaids, and a dinner on Friday of last week by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert for their son and his bride-to-be.

Mrs. Frank I. Towle gave a bridge party last week at which the prize-winners were Mrs. McCord and Mrs. J. S. O'Gorman. Miss Charley Fenton, a daughter of Mrs. C. R. Fenton, has returned to school at Brunot Hall, at Spokane. For the proposed new club of Portland Heights, which is to be called "The Cliff Dwellers," the following matrons are to have control of all social affairs: Mrs. James H. Hart, Mrs. A. C. Fenton and Mrs. A. D. Charlton. The wedding of Mr. Harry Beck, of Portland, and Miss Flora Leites, of San Francisco, will take place on Thursday in the Bay City. They will return October 15 and reside at the Hotel Portland.

Miss Nancy Lee Lewis, formerly of Douglas Park, St. James, Manitoba, now of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting her brother, Fred Lee Lewis, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred E. Alexander, whom she had not seen for 30 years. They are the children of the late John Lee Lewis, of the old Hudson Bay Company.

Alfred Carlton Gilbert, who recently became one of the world's champions at the Olympic games held in London, was married last evening in Seattle to Miss Mary Thompson, of that city. Mr. Gilbert's present to his bride was a diamond pendant and necklace, the former being a diamond medal which he won in Pittsburgh just prior to sailing for Europe.

Mrs. Frank Hauser, Mrs. James H. McKibben, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Herschner, Mrs. C. M. Wight, Miss Dyer, Mrs. Harris, Virgil Harris, Miss Driver, Golda Goodell, Francis Herschner. The annual reception of the Holmes Business College was held last night in the modern quarters of this institution on the top floor of the Flinders Building. The classrooms were artistically decorated. Mrs. Holmes-Lawrence, the president, received the guests. She was assisted by a committee composed of a few members of the faculty and student body. Mrs. E. H. Taggart, Mr. G. Griffith-Jones, Miss Hazel Whitcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Bishop, Miss Lenore Younger, Miss Grace Mathews. The evening was most enjoyably spent by all present. Weber's orchestra, being much applauded. Miss Lenore Younger, favorite singer of the 1907 student body, received a hearty reception.

The Hee Hee Kalamie Club, under the auspices of its president, Miss Madge Hill, enjoyed a tallyho party last Friday. The club met in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 P. M., where a comical tallyho, drawn by six horses, awaited them, and amid songs, laughter and yells a party of about 17 enjoyed a fast drive out the White House road. The members of the club who participated in this ride were: Misses Madge and Sydna Hill, Pearl Chandler, Frankie Holmes, Martha Goldap, Margarette Ledyard, Bertha Gregor, Ada Rowell, Cora Eddy, Helen Copeland, Emma Harding, Josephine Pettinger, Ella Gibson, Mary Downing, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. E.
