TALK GOOD ROADS AT HOOD RIVER

Judge Webster and J. H. Scott Begin State-Wide Campaign.

TWO MEETINGS ARE HELD

People of New County Manifest Deep Interest in Movement. Association of Over 100 Members Organized.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Under the auspices of the Commercial Club two enthusiastic good roads meetings were held here today that are expected by Judge J. H. Scott, of Marion County, and Judge L. R. Webster, of Multnomah, to give the movement throughout the state a vigorous boost. The sentiment of the meetings showed that Hood River residents are unqualifiedly in favor of better roads, not only in Hood River County but in the state at large and are willing and anxious to join in a concerted movement to get legislation that will make it possible to get them.

The good roads delegation arrived here this morning and was met at the train by a committee consisting of Leslie Butler, E. O. Blancher, W. L. Clark, P. S. Davidson, Charles T. Early and A. J. Derby. In the party besides Judge Webster and Judge and Mrs. Scott were J. H. Albert, president of the First National Bank at Salem, and Mrs. Albert, Mr. and Mrs. R. Watson, of Tillamook, and H. B. Chapman, of the Portland City Engineer's office. The visitors were escorted to the Mount Hood Hotel where they had lunch and afterward attended the first meeting which was held at 2 o'clock.

Judge Scott Outlines Work.

The speakers were introduced by County Judge A. J. Derby the first talk being made by Mr. Scott who outlined the work of the State Good Roads Association and also gave a short practical demonstration with the aid of a rough drawing on a blackboard of how a good road should be built.

Mr. Scott was followed by Mr. Albert, who, as treasurer of the state association, told of the necessity of financing to secure the needed legislation to make good roads possible and who emphasized the point that good roads were not an expense, but an investment which benefited every community alike.

The concluding address was made by Judge Webster, who stated in his opening remarks that he came from the oldest and richest county in the state to the youngest and most progressive to get assistance in getting good roads for Oregon, and that he knew he was going to get it. He told how the association expected to go about inaugurating a good roads movement all over the state, and what it was necessary for the people of each county to do to secure the needed legislation.

He explained the various measures which the Legislature will be asked to make laws, such as providing for a state appropriation to each county of $10,000, with the stipulation that the county receiving it must also appropriate the same amount; a law providing for the employment of state and county prisoners in the construction of roads; a law providing for the organization of local road improvement districts, and an amendment to the state constitution empowering the several counties in the state to bond for the purpose of constructing permanent roads.

The bonding proposition evidently struck a responsive chord in the minds of the audience, as its mention met with hearty applause, and at the conclusion of Judge Webster's talk a preliminary organization was started with 100 names.

At the conclusion of the afternoon meeting the visitors were taken for an automobile ride in the valley and at 6 o'clock were the guests of the directors of the Commercial Club at dinner.

Evening Session Enthusiastic.

The evening meeting was largely attended and enthusiastic. It was conducted by President A. A. Jayne, of the Commercial Club. Mr. Albert, Judge Scott and Judge Webster again spoke and County Judge A. E. Lake, of Wasco County, also made a short talk. The speakers expressed themselves as very much gratified with the earnestness with which the good roads movement is being taken up at Hood River and Judge Webster stated that after reading of the apple sale which took place here yesterday he was satisfied that the ordinary road would not do for Hood River and that he expected to see it put down asphalt.

He stated that the spirit shown here could be used as a lesson to other sections of the state and that he looked to see Hood River County become the banner road-building county of the state. Within a few days it is planned to call another meeting and perfect a strong local Good Roads Association that will work in conjunction with the State Association. It was also stated tonight that the local Grange organizations will take up the good roads movement.

BRICK BLOCK FOR MILTON

Oddfellows Preparing to Erect $20,000 Structure.

MILTON, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The work of clearing the ground of buildings has begun on the lot belonging to the Oddfellows, and a fine brick building, to be used as an I. O. O. F. temple, will be built at once.

The lower floor will be occupied by the First National Bank and two mercantile establishments. The cost of the building will be $20,000, and the local Oddfellows will have one of the best lodge halls in Eastern Oregon.

THRESHERS HOLD MEETING

Firms Dealing in Farm Machinery Form a State Organization.

Representatives of firms handling threshing machinery in this territory met here yesterday and effected a temporary organization of the Oregon Threshers' Association. It will be the purpose of this association to arrange for a convention of the men actively engaged in threshing, to be held in this city next May, when the organization which has been formed will be turned over to the men who harvest the grain crops. Similar associations are maintained in many of the Eastern graingrowing states.

The purposes of the proposed association, as set forth in the constitution and by-laws, are to protect all operators of threshing machines from unfair competition, to use its influence towards the improvement of roads and bridges, and generally to create good-fellowship among the members. As reorganized when the convention is held in May, the association will be composed only of men owning and operating threshing machines. At this convention it is proposed to have in attendance B. B. Clarke, editor of the American Thresherman, of Madison, Wis.; John Stevenson, of Chicago, editor of another threshing publication, and others connected with the manufacture and sale of threshing machinery.

Officers were elected at yesterday's meeting as follows: President, A. H. Averill, of the Averill Machinery Company; vice-president, George W. Evans, manager Buffalo-Pitts Company; secretary, Philip S. Bates, publisher Pacific Northwest; executive committee, Stephen T. Dove, of the J. I. Case Threshing Machinery Company, chairman; A. J. Preston, manager Parson Band-Cutter Company; John S. Greeney, manager Gaar, Scott & Co.; Arthur B. Salmon, manager Advance Thresher Company, and Charles H. Dobson, manager Aultman & Taylor Machinery Company.

Following the business session the machinery men held a banquet last night at the Commercial Club.

STOCK RUSTLERS GUILTY

TWO CONVICTIONS SECURED IN WHEELER COUNTY.

Ezra Snabel and Neva Laird Sentenced to One Year Each in Penitentiary.

FOSSIL, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Circuit Court adjourned here Friday, after a ten-day session. The most important feature of the session was the trial of Ezra Snabel and Neva Laird, two young men charged with stealing a $40 horse from Dick Wade, of Spray. This trial was most stubbornly fought by District Attorney James E. Burdett and W. H. Wilson for the state, and Bowerman & Butler and H. S. Wilson for the defense, and so many talesmen had formed opinions in advance that it was necessary to call two special venires in order to get a jury. The verdict was guilty, with a recommendation to mercy, and the defendants were sentenced to one year each in the penitentiary, to which place Sheriff Oscar Kelsay started with them Thursday afternoon.

Jerry Vickers was indicted for horse-stealing, but is still at large.

Mark Enyart was indicted for horse-stealing, but will not be tried until the January term, so as to give him time to procure an important absent witness.

Oscar Curry was indicted for stealing a mare and colt, and was brought here from Tillamook Wednesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Cyrus Buckingham, too late for trial at this term. Curry is now in the County Jail, where he will probably remain till the January term of Circuit Court.

Judge Littlefield and District Attorney Burdett have gone to Condon to prepare for the term of Circuit Court that convenes there Monday, September 21, at which it is expected a number of "blind pig" cases will be tried.

Stockmen of Wheeler County are jubilant over the result of the session of court just ended here, and are confident that after the remainder of the stock-stealing cases are tried next January, it will be a long time before another such crusade as the present against the "rustlers" will be necessary.

ANNIVERSARY OF REBEKAH

Members Celebrate 57th Year of Oddfellow Degree.

The fifty-seventh anniversary of the inauguration of the Rebekah degree was observed last night at an entertainment in the Oddfellows' Hall on Alder street, at which the various lodges of the city were represented. A programme consisting of musical and literary numbers was rendered, preceded by the ritualistic service of the order. The principal address was delivered by Henry S. Westerbrook, who reviewed the work of the degree, showing its influence upon Oddfellowship and the work it has accomplished in exemplifying the principles of Oddfellowship, friendship, love and truth.

The speaker referred at length to the tenets of the degree, which are symbolized by the bee hive, the moon and seven stars and the lily. The fact was also presented that at the time of the founding of the degree the order of Oddfellows had a membership of 144,000, while 20 years later the enrollment was 280,000.

The ritualistic exercises which preceded the formal programme were conducted by the following:

Noble grand president, Mrs. S. A. Bradley; vice-grand president, Mrs. Elsie Recht; secretary, Mrs. Jessie Henderson; past grand secretary, Mrs. J. S. Kellisha; chaplain, Mrs. Ada Gordon.

The programme was as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. Maud Gheer; address, Henry S. Westerbrook; vocal solo, Miss Edith Stewart; recitation, Mrs. Marsters; song, Woodlawn quartet; piano solo, Miss Winona Boyd; recitation, Miss Esta Hood; recitation, Miss A. G. Hall.

PARTY ACTIVE IN MORROW

Republicans Organize Club With Charter Membership of 200.

HEPPNER, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The Morrow County Republican Club has been formed in this city with a charter membership of 200, under the auspices of the Republican State Central Committee. The officers of the organization are: President, W. W. Smead; vice-president, T. J. Mahoney, State Representative-elect; secretary, C. M. White.

There is no factionalism among the Republicans here and all are united and working for the success of the ticket. A request has been sent to State Secretary McArthur at Portland for several speakers during the campaign. Republicans are very desirous of having Senator Fulton assigned as principal speaker at one of the many rallies that will be held here before election day.

Ah Moy Accused of Insanity.

HILLSBORO, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Ah Moy, the first Chinese ever arrested here charged with insanity, is confined in the County Jail awaiting a test of his mental powers. The Celestial is charged with running demented through a Sherwood hopyard.

Moy says he is not crazy, but insists that he is very poor, and hasn't had much "chop suey." He says he had about $125 when he was taken from Sherwood.

Donkey Engine Starts Fire.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—A fire which was started by sparks from a wood-burning donkey engine has been burning at the Grays Bay Logging Company's camp on Nasel River during the past few days, but was got under control last evening. While the great bulk of the fire was over logged-off land, a small quantity of fallen timber was damaged.

DROUTH PARCHES THREE BIG STATES

Streams in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia Dry Up.

FORESTS LIGHT UP NIGHTS

Steamer Strands on Dry Bed of Ohio River, While Boys Play Baseball — Mines Suspend, Lacking Water.

Smoke from the extensive fires burning in widely-separated districts of the eastern portion of the United States and Southern Canada has enshrouded the entire section beneath a murky pall so heavy in some places as practically to obscure the sun and through a wide area to interfere seriously with transportation.

The smoke-banks extend well off the coast and enfold the routes of coast and part of trans-Atlantic shipping.

From the Canadian woods and the forests of Maine down through the Adirondack region to the Catskills and beyond to the Pennsylvania lumber regions fires are burning in the forest mountain regions.

In many places prayers are being offered up for rain.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—With forest fires destroying much valuable property; the enforced suspension of mining industries, crops ruined, livestock suffering, river navigation at a standstill and numerous small streams absolutely dry, a drouth which has practically been unbroken for over two months is fast assuming serious proportions in the western part of Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia.

During four days of this week a representative of the Associated Press visited over 30 cities and towns in the tri-state district and conditions of an alarming nature were found on account of the long dry spell.

At night raging forest fires light up miles of territory, while thousands of persons are doing everything in their power to check the flames.

Meetings are held at which prayers for relief are offered.

A majority of the smaller streams are as dry as a bone and their beds are being used as wagon roads. Near Marietta, O., the large steamboat Toronto, with a tow of barges for Pittsburg, is lying on a bed of gravel in the middle of what was the river. Boys play ball in the middle of the Ohio River bed.

Telegraph and telephone companies having cables crossing the river are digging trenches in the river-bed so the cables can be placed out of sight. Many industries along the river are suspended on account of no water.

It is said of the streams now dry it is the first time in 50 years that such a condition has existed.

In the Pittsburg harbor there are between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 bushels of coal ready to be shipped to points south and west of this city. Many of the river coal mines, employing over 15,000 miners, may be compelled to suspend operations.

To prevent an epidemic, the health authorities are flushing several streams in the Pittsburg district, and then coating the bed and bank with lime.

Forest fires in Somerset County, 30 miles from Astoria, Pa., have destroyed three lumber camps and about 10,000,000 feet of lumber, valued at $150,000. Over 1000 men have been fighting the fires for 48 hours without food or sleep. It is also believed that a number of lives have been lost at this place.

The city of Corry, Pa., is surrounded by fire. The forests on all sides of the city are ablaze and the heavy smoke makes it almost impossible to breathe.

During a recent openair prayer-meeting near here a brief thunder shower occurred. Instead of seeking shelter, the congregation remained outdoors, singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

FIRES FOLLOW LONG DROUTH

Pennsylvania Timberland Now Threatened by Flames.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Practically the entire state of Pennsylvania east of the Allegheny Mountains is suffering from one of the worst drouths in years. In some parts of the state no rain has fallen in more than two months and rivers and streams are so low that many industries have been interfered with and in some instances plants have been shut down for the lack of water. Forest fires are burning in several sections and some localities report that crops will be entirely ruined unless rain comes soon.

At Shenandoah in the anthracite coal region, the water supply is so low that farmers are bringing water to the residents in the town instead of vegetables, as there is more profit in hauling water than peddling produce. Water sells at 8 cents a gallon and many are compelled to walk three miles to get a supply even at that price. Several coal mines in that region have been closed because of lack of water to run the power plants.

At Duncannon, near Harrisburg, the Susquehanna River is lower than it has been in more than a hundred years.

In Philadelphia the Schuylkill River is lower than it has been at any time since 1869 and canal boats are stranded at different points in the river between here and the coal regions.

Forest fires, which have spread from the railroad tracks to the timberlands, are causing much excitement and considerable apprehension. A careful estimate places the area already covered by the flames as 20,000 acres and the loss will be great.

There are fires of large proportions at Cresco, Moscow, Gouldsboro and near Tobyhanna and an almost continuous string of fires along what is known as Trout Creek. In much of the region swept there is no valuable timber, but there are some areas where a considerable number of good trees have been damaged.

THREATENS HISTORIC COTTAGE

Forest Fire Burning Near House Where Grant Died.

BALLSTON, N. Y., Sept. 19.—A forest fire is sweeping over Mount McGregor and it is feared that the historic cottage where General Grant died, will be destroyed.

CORN CROP IS NOT INJURED

But Drouth May Prevent Sowing of Fall Wheat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The wide-spread drouth which is prevailing in the West and New England began August 24. It has extended over an extensive area, including the Ohio, the middle and lower Missouri, the middle and Superior Mississippi Valleys and, in a lesser degree, throughout New England.

While the lack of rain over this area has caused great hardship, officials of the agricultural bureau express the belief that it has not injured the corn crop, but has tended to mature it earlier than usual.

They say the wheat crop of next year is unfavorably affected as the ground is so hard as to make plowing very difficult.

Maine Forests Still Burning.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 19.—The devastation of great sections of timberland by forest fires continued without noticeable decrease today. Damage estimated at more than $300,000 has already been done. The hundreds of men who have been fighting the flames during the past three days are nearly exhausted.

Fires Rage in Connecticut.

CANAN, Conn., Sept. 19.—The forest fires which have been burning on the hills for the past three days, are still burning fiercely. A large force of men spent last night digging trenches around the base of Tom Mountain in an effort to check the flames.

FINDS WAY OUT OF WOODS

Woman Lost While Hunting Narrowly Escapes Death.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Word from Grass Lake is to the effect that Mrs. M. G. Davidson, of Corning, Cal., who was lost in the mountains of the wildest part of Siskiyous a week ago, found her way to a woodsman's camp last night, after four hours' of wandering, and is now recovering from her fearful experience. Mrs. Davidson is an experienced hunter, and was following a wounded deer when she became lost, near nightfall.

Searching parties were out several days but failed to find her and had given up hope, believing she had perished, when a woodsman arrived and reported her arrival at his camp. He reported she was nearly dead of fatigue and hunger and was contemplating suicide when she stumbled into his camp. She cannot be moved for several days.

Good Pianos At Little Cost

LESS THAN HALF FOR SOME. HALF PRICE FOR MANY. ALL ARE ASTONISHING BARGAINS.

This Week the Economy of Buying in the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room Stands Out More Forcibly Than Ever Before.

More and more people every month are realizing how great an opportunity these Piano Exchange and Bargain Room Sales present. Most of the pianos have been exchanged for genuine Pianola Pianos and not because they were deficient in any way. Simply their owners desired a piano that they, or any of the family, could play the music most suited to their taste and various moods—and naturally the Pianola Piona would be their choice. Others come to us in exchange for baby grands—all form an unusual group of the most reliable makes—sold in the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room at or near half value and on terms to make paying very easy.

Tomorrow (Monday) morning we will close out some thirty good pianos. If you come in time you can, no doubt, pick up just the bargain you've been looking for and, remember, few pocket-books are too small to buy here.

Steinway Uprights $185 and up, Steinway Grand $485. Smith & Barnes $195, worth $350. Fischer $245. Milton $157 and $180. Hinze $167. Bauer $250, worth $400. Very fine $650 Kimball at $376. Hardman $225, another at $175. Splendid $250 Kohler & Campbell $185. Several very fine $450 and $500 pianos at $270 to $320.

Melville Clark Apollo Player (walnut), cost $250, now $65. Cecilian, metal action (Mah), latest type, cost $250, now $120—another in oak $75. Angelus Orchestral, with organ-piano player, cost $300, now $75. Another, nearly new, at $90. Also a few genuine Pianolas, exchanged for Pianola Pianos, only $90. The above and a large assortment of other makes, pianos and players, will be ready Monday. Terms—our "Easy Pay Plan." Eilers Piano Exchange and Bargain Room, downstairs, 353 Washington St.
