

MISS BERNICE BAKER OF TACOMA, A NIECE OF MR. JOHN C. ALNSWORTH, WILL DRIVE SOME OF THE CELEBRATED HORSES AT THE COMING HORSE SHOW.

THE topic of paramount interest is the approaching Horse Show for which plans are rapidly maturing. Already the success of the affair is assured and the number of entries will greatly exceed that of last year.

As the result of a rather recent decision, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., left last week for Europe, where they will remain for many months.

On today's page is printed a picture of Miss Bernice Baker, who is one of the Tacoma belles, and who has the additional charm of cleverness.

MISS KATHERINE MACMASTER, DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. W. M. MACMASTER, WHO HAS RETURNED FROM A FINISHING SCHOOL NEAR BOSTON.

The ceremony, the bride, who is justly popular with young and old, is accomplished and has a most graceful manner. Entering on the arm of her father, Mr. Thomas N. Strong, her dainty blonde type of beauty was shown to advantage in an exceptionally handsome wedding gown, cut Empire, with full-length train.

After a delightful tour of the world, which consumed a year's time, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robertson, Miss Nan Robertson, Mary, Jane and Mary Robertson, returned home Friday morning.

Approximately "Buffalo Bills" show, which attracted much attention, Miss Wynne Coman has in her possession a handsome fan which was the result of a romantic incident connected with Colonel Cody's performance in England some 30 years ago.

In honor of Miss Miriam Strong an informal luncheon was given on Tuesday by Miss Kathleen Burns, who acted as one of the bridesmaids on Wednesday, succeeding Miss Burns' hospitality were Miss Louise Flanders, Miss Carrie Flanders, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. Frederick Byke, Miss Effie Houghton, Miss Rhoda Failing, Miss Frances Wilson and Mrs. Arthur Minott.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Meier have arrived in New York after an extended trip abroad, bringing with them their boys Harold and Allen, and their daughter Jeannette. The boys have been attending school at Obercastle, on the Rhine, while Mr. and Mrs. Meier, Jeannette and the governess have traveled and motored on the Continent.

A great deal of interest centered in the wedding Wednesday of Miss Miriam Strong and Mr. Harry Sladen, which took place at the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. William Hiram Foukes performing the ceremony. The bride, who is justly popular with young and old, is accomplished and has a most graceful manner. Entering on the arm of her father, Mr. Thomas N. Strong, her dainty blonde type of beauty was shown to advantage in an exceptionally handsome wedding gown, cut Empire, with full-length train.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Blyth entertained at dinner Tuesday the officers of the Italian cruiser Puglia. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster and Miss Dorothy Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster were dinner hosts on Wednesday at their suburban place, Ardour, when their guests included Miss Ernestine Failing, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Katherine MacMaster, Miss Gene Brownlie, Harry Failing, R. Tinsley, of Orange, N. J., and Churchman Kithridge, of Victoria, B. C.

In compliment to Mrs. Hugh Laidlaw, of Nome, Alaska, Mrs. James Laidlaw gave a luncheon Thursday at the Golf Club, which was followed by bridge. Present were Miss Susan Stott, Mrs. Lansing Stout, Mrs. Clarence Sewall, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Lillie Hill, Mrs. Thomas O'Day, Mrs. Lloyd Wentworth and Mrs. George Westworth, Jr.

Dr. Edward Sewall, of San Francisco, who came North to act as best man at the Sladen-Strong wedding, returned to California last evening. Mr. Sewall, who is a brother of Clarence, Chester and Russell Sewall, for many years lived here, where he was decidedly popular. He is a Stanford graduate and a fraternity brother of Harry Sladen, Chester G. Murphy and Frank Branch Riley. In honor of Dr. Sewall, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sewall gave a dinner Tuesday evening.

Miss Meta Buehner left last week for the East, where she will visit with some of the girls who attended school with her and Marguerite Buehner in Boston.

Mrs. A. B. Steinbach and Miss Gertrude Steinbach have returned from a visit in San Francisco, San Mateo and Del Monte. Jerome Steinbach, who recently arrived home from Europe with his father, has entered on his sophomore year at Amherst.

Roger W. Newhall has left for Washington, D. C., accompanied by his sister, Miss Dorothy, to place her in the National Cathedral School, in that city.

Tim R. Winch left yesterday for Princeton University to begin his sophomore year. Mr. Winch not only had the honor of being one of the freshmen intercollegiate football players which won against Cornell last June, but he also won the gold medal first prize for being the best debater in freshman class, Whig Hall, Princeton. Mr. Winch graduated at the Allen Preparatory School in Portland.

A number of Portlanders have spent part of the month of September in Hood River at Mrs. Howe's place and at the Cottage Farm, among them being Mr. and Mrs. John A. Shepard and Elizabeth Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wyant, Mrs. Samuel Heltshu, Miss Amy Heltshu, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Anna B. Thompson, John R. Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Wain and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dunckley.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, of Dallas, have been guests during the week of Mr. and Mrs. George Willard Brown.

Many of the Portlanders who visited the recent horse show in Seattle, made a point while there to see the Oregon State building at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition grounds, for which David C. Lewis was the architect.

Many letters of condolence have been sent Mrs. George W. Welder and her daughters over the recent death of her husband, who for years was prominently identified with the developments of Oregon and ranked as one of its most useful citizens. Of the five daughters who are thrown into mourning there are but two at home, Miss Mabel and Miss Gladys. Mrs. Welder, who is well known to the city, and Miss Mabel, who is traveling in Europe.

Miss Milla Westinger on Tuesday asked seven girls to luncheon in honor of Miss Dorothy Holbrook, who left Wednesday for the East, where she will remain until December preparatory to entering the University of Wisconsin. Miss Westinger's guests were Miss Malda Hart, Miss Marjorie Hoffman and her cousin, Miss Gertrude Robins, Miss Stella Fremont, Miss Mary Livingstone and Miss Becky Biddle.

Miss Holbrook was accompanied East by Miss Marjorie Hoffman, who is to enter Bryn Mawr, and Mrs. M. L. Holbrook took the trip with them as far as Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cotton have gone to San Francisco for a visit.

Mrs. H. W. French, of The Dalles, who was formerly Miss Annie Williams, who has been visiting in Portland with her sisters, Mrs. Russell Sewall and Mrs. George Marshall, will return again in the near future for a short stay.

Mrs. Joseph Macqueen left yesterday for Seattle.

Mr. George Bloomquist, who was a great favorite while a member of the Columbia Stock Company, is to appear this week at the Orpheum in conjunction with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Underwood. Mr. Bloomquist since his arrival has had a number of informal affairs given in his honor. He is dividing his time while here as a guest of Judge and Mrs. Thomas O'Day and Donald Bowie.

Miss Meta Buehner left Thursday to visit some girl friends in the East, where she attended Miss Laidlaw's school at Boston, where she and her sister, Miss Marguerite, graduated in '08.

Mrs. June McMillen Ordway entertained 60 guests at a tea Wednesday afternoon, which she gave for Miss Emma Strout, who returns to her musical studies shortly in South Carolina. Miss Elizabeth Hobbs contributed a musical program, and Mrs. E. H. Ingham, of Eugene, a sister of Mrs. Lachen Miller, read Mrs. Ordway's new poem, "Oregon Summer Days."

Mrs. F. N. Keuttner entertained last week at her apartments at the Nortonia with five tables of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Clark were guests of Yasuhiro Numano, the Japanese Consul, at dinner Tuesday evening at his Loveloy-street residence, prior to their departure for the Orient on Wednesday.

Miss Bertha Moore has returned from a delightful tour of Europe. In addition to the chief capital, Edinburgh, Brussels, London, Paris, Berlin and Berlin, her visit extended to many charming bypaths of England, Ireland,

A Millinery Education

A visit to Fraley's can fittingly be termed a millinery education, so varied and beautiful are the hat styles on display. Here you will see table after table of perfectly blended browns, ranging from lightest tan to dark seal. Blues in an infinite variety of lovely tints, the fascinating new Taupe (smoke gray) and the latest shades of green, while the plain blacks and whites are much in evidence.

One is especially impressed with the exquisite simplicity of the trimmings, a simplicity that is the consummation of the highest millinery art. Any amateur can pile an indiscriminate mass of trimming on a hat, but only an expert can create the effect of perfect style, combined with charming simplicity, that distinguishes a Fraley hat from any other. Your inspection cordially invited.
