

Lipman, Wolfe & Co.
CLOSED MONDAY

Closed Monday all day on account of Jewish holiday. Watch Monday evening papers for the biggest sale of the season

Demonstration
Of W. B. and La Vida
CORSETS

W. B. Reduso Corsets are the greatest of corsets for stout women—a perfect flesh-reducing corset with the correct Directoire lines, without straps, braces and other out-of-date features. Demonstrated this week by Mrs. E. D. Dean, an expert New York corsetiere.

La Vida Corsets are the finest genuine whalebone corset ever made to sell at such low prices as $5.50, $7.50, $10 and upward. Other whalebone corsets, in the same styles, cost at least double these prices.

These corsets are being demonstrated and fitted this week at Lipman-Wolfe's by Mrs. E. D. Dean, an expert New York corsetiere, who will explain the newest corset styles and show you the corset your figure requires

Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

- EXCLUSIVE AGENTS
—Pellard Tailored Suits
—Castleton Waists
—Robinson & Wells' Tailored Hats
—Knox Tailored Hats
—Nemo Corsets
—C. B. a la Sprite Corsets
—Relssem London Cape Gloves
—Trefousse French Gloves

We are justly proud of our showing of high-class "Pellard" Suits, this season—the kind that we call Paris-American, made by a New Yorker who goes to Paris every Summer for his inspiration and then comes back to produce these superb tailored suits.

Little style touches that only a woman of refinement would notice, give them a pre-eminence that ordinary suits, made in factories, do not possess. Price? Say—$50 to $200. Not extravagant for such suits as these.

Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

PERSONALITIES THAT FIGURE IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

NOTES CONCERNING THOSE WHO ARE TAKING A PROMINENT PLACE IN AFFAIRS AT HOME AND ABROAD

A collage of 15 numbered portraits and group photos of prominent figures. Captions include: 1. MISS ELISE FRENCH VANDERBILT ARRIVING IN THE UNITED STATES; 2. EARL OF CLANCARTY; 3. A. S. LAMBERT; 4. DANIEL E. SICKLES; 5. JOHN W. GATES; 6. JOHN E. REDMOND; 7. JOHN A. DIX; 8. OSCAR N. STRAUSS; 9. JOHN L. GRIFFITHS; 10. CAPT. HENRY KING; 11. MR. DANIEL E. SICKLES; 12. JOHN A. DIX; 13. JOHN W. GATES; 14. ARTHUR VORTS AND CAMPAIGN MANAGERS; 15. KEIR HARDIE.

NO. 1—MRS. ELISE FRENCH VANDERBILT—Mrs. Elise French Vanderbilt arrived in New York recently on the Mauretania. She has obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Alfred Grenville Vanderbilt, and has applied through her attorneys in the Supreme Court of this state for a final decree. It is reported that William Spencer, the handsome and debonair young son of J. Thompson Spencer, of Philadelphia, is virtually an accepted suitor of the charming divorcee. The formal announcement is expected immediately after the legal formalities of the divorce case have been settled.

NO. 2—THE EARL OF CLANCARTY.—The Earl of Clancarty is reported to be engaged to marry a wealthy New York widow. He is William Frederick La Poer-French, fifth Earl of Clancarty, Viscount Dunlop and Baron Kilconnel of Garbhally in the peerage of Ireland, Viscount Clancarty and Baron Trench in the peerage of the United Kingdom, Marquis of Hesse in the Kingdom of the Netherlands. As Viscount Dunlop he outwitted English society circles by marrying Belle Bonaparte, one of the beautiful Bonaparte sisters, who created a sensation in the English music halls by their singing and dancing. His father, the late Earl of Clancarty, first threatened to disown his son and refused to receive his daughter-in-law. He succeeded his father in 1881. Lady Clancarty died in 1898. The Earl has four sons and one daughter. He owns 2,500 acres of land.

NO. 3—A. B. LAMBERT—Another wealthy man takes up ballooning as a hobby. A. B. Lambert. He is president of the Lambert Pharmaceutical Company of St. Louis. The Aero Club of France issued a pilot license to him in March, 1908. Mr. Lambert and F. Lehmann, Sr., recently made a successful flight in France.

NOS. 4 AND 5—GENERAL AND MRS. DANIEL E. SICKLES—Mrs. Daniel E. Sickles, wife of the noted general, whose unexpected return to this country recently caused a great deal of interest among General Sickles' friends is a Spanish widow. She is the widow of General Daniel E. Sickles, who was a member of the most beautiful women who ever crossed the Atlantic. She is many years the General's junior and still shows traces of her beauty. Having lived her life in sunny Spain, Mrs. Sickles found it hard to accustom herself to the severe American winters and it was not many years before her heart again turned to the land of her birth. Her mother, who was an invalid, grieved for her daughter and begged her to return. Duties in this country prevented General Sickles from accompanying his wife back to Madrid. Her mother died a few months ago and Mrs. Sickles made arrangements to return to this country and expects to stay with her husband until death parts them. They have two children, one daughter, now Mrs. Cragden, wife of the Secretary of the British Embassy in Vienna, and Stanton Sickles, formerly Secretary of Legation to Spain, Belgium and lately to Greece.

NO. 6—JOHN E. REDMOND—The chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, John E. Redmond, arrived in New York recently on the Oceanic. From New York he went to Boston to attend the Home Rule Convention in that city. He resides in Dublin and is a member of Parliament from Waterford. He was born in 1851 and was educated in Trinity College, Dublin, and has been a member of the Irish bar since 1887.

NOS. 7 AND 8—OSCAR S. AND NATHAN STRAUSS—Oscar S. Strauss and Nathan Strauss, brothers, are two members of the Hebrew race who have brought much credit to their race. Oscar Strauss, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, is a Republican and is busy working for the election of Judge Taft, while Nathan is a Democrat and is working hard for the election of Mr. Bryan. Nathan Strauss originated and has since maintained at his own expense a system of distribution of sterilized milk to the poor of New York City, which statistics of the Health Board show have saved many thousands of infant life. He has also extended this system to Germany and other foreign countries. He was born in Bavaria in 1848 and is a merchant. Oscar Solomon Strauss was born in 1850 and was United States Minister to Turkey, 1887-9, 1898-1901. He was taken into the Roosevelt Cabinet in 1906. He has written a number of books.

NO. 9—GENERAL VON DER GOLTZ—Colmar Freiherr von der Goltz was born in 1824, at Heilkenfeld, Germany. In 1853 he became Commissary Director of Education in military affairs in Turkey, 1856-1860. General of Division and Commandant of the Prussian Fifth Division Foot; 1868, Chief of the Body of Engineers and Pioneer. It is announced that the Sultan of Turkey has engaged the services of General von der Goltz to thoroughly reorganize the Turkish army. The General has been in Constantinople since July. He is the author of several books on army matters.

York City, which statistics of the Health Board show have saved many thousands of infant life. He has also extended this system to Germany and other foreign countries. He was born in Bavaria in 1848 and is a merchant. Oscar Solomon Strauss was born in 1850 and was United States Minister to Turkey, 1887-9, 1898-1901. He was taken into the Roosevelt Cabinet in 1906. He has written a number of books.

NO. 10—CAPTAIN HENRY KING—Captain Henry King, editor-in-chief of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, has been strongly mentioned for Senator if the Republicans win in Missouri. He was born in Salem, O. He learned the printer's trade and became an editor. He has been in the newspaper business all his life, with the exception of four years which he served in the Union Army during the Civil War. He will be the principal speaker at the coming semi-centennial celebration of the Lincoln-Douglas debate to be held in Quincy, October 12.

NO. 11—JOHN A. DIX—John A. Dix is the nominee for Lieutenant-Governor on the New York Democratic ticket. Mr. Dix was one of the "home rule" Democrats who bolted Hearst two years ago and voted for the election of Hughes. He did not consider Mr. Hearst a Democrat, but this year he is for Bryan and Kern and for Chanler for Governor. Mr. Dix is heavily interested in wallpaper factories in Thomson, Washington County, N. Y., and is also in the lumber business. He is well educated and quite wealthy, and will put vim into the campaign.

NO. 12, JOHN W. GATES—Bet-a-million John Warren Gates arrived in New York recently on the Mauretania. Gates and his son Charles have retired from the stock market. He is devoting his time to the development of his Texas property. Gates was born in 1825 on a farm near Turner Junction (now West Chicago). He has been very successful in Wall street, and is worth a considerable sum of money. He has recently been in the news in connection with a recent purchase of gold plate. He will probably be nominated for Congress by Republicans in Texas.

NO. 13, JOHN L. GRIFFITHS—John L. Griffiths, United States Consul at Liverpool, arrived in New York recently on the Mauretania for the purpose of participating in the Presidential campaign. He says he will travel 10,000 miles and make 50 speeches. In October he will unveil the statue of the late President Harrison, whose biography he is just about finishing. It will be published in the Spring in America and England. Mr. Griffiths is a great favorite in Liverpool, where the people rush by thousands to hear him speak.

NO. 14—ARTHUR VORTS AND CAMPAIGN MANAGERS—Arthur Vorts, Ohio manager of the Taft campaign; Charles Nagel is the St. Louis member of the executive committee; Frank H. Hitchcock, National Chairman; Senator Dixon, of Montana, director of the speakers' bureau, are four of the hardest workers in the Republican party.

NO. 15—JAMES KEIR HARDIE—James Keir Hardie, leader of the Independent Labor party in the House of Commons, says trade unionists and Socialists united in one political party will make the political issue in America within a very few years. Mr. Hardie believes the time is so near that perhaps the next Presidential election will see this new alignment of political forces. He says that if he had a vote in the United States he would give it to Debs. He intimated that he would return to New York in January to assist in organizing the Socialist and trades union movements in America into one political force.

CAMP OUTLINES BIG GAMES

Football expert talks of season's outlook. Prospects for good contests on the Eastern fields, where big games begin October 10.

There are many people nowadays who take such an interest in football as to practically spend the Fall in following this sport, writes Walter Camp, the best known living authority on the great college game, in the Philadelphia Press. Not only to those, but to the ones who have an opportunity to see something of the game only, it may be of interest to know what dates to hold open and what games to see as probably providing excitement and sport. Up to the date of October 3, none of the games are of any great moment, unless one wishes to see how some of the material in the big teams is breaking in; but about October 10 things begin to take on a different complexion. Probably the best of the games scheduled for that day will be the Syracuse-Carleton game, at Buffalo. Carleton's work the last season was exceptionally good, but so, in fact, was that of Syracuse. They met at an early date last year and the Indians defeated them 4 to 6, although even then Syracuse put up a very strong game. This year they play on the 10th at Buffalo and the game should be one of considerable interest, and it will pay any enthusiast for the trip. Penn State vs. U. of P. will give a line on the Philadelphians, while Princeton-Yale game should give more than a modicum of pleasure to those who wish to see how the New Jersey team is profiting from practice. On the following Saturday, October 17, the West Point-Yale game affords the best opportunity for the football follower to see a good contest, for West Point always plays at the top in this game against Yale. Yale carries a wholesome respect for the soldiers from past experience. There are other games, however, on the same date. Cornell plays Colgate at Ithaca; Holy Cross plays Bowdoin at Portland, Me.; Springfield Training School plays Harvard at Cambridge; Michigan plays Notre Dame and Chicago plays Illinois. Probably, however, the Penn-Brown game will be as interesting as any of these and in the South Vanderbilt vs. Clemson. By October 24 the interesting games have multiplied. Brown-Lafayette, at Providence; Harvard vs. Annapolis, at Annapolis; Penn vs. Indiana, at Philadelphia; Princeton-Syracuse, at Princeton; Holy Cross-Dartmouth, at Worcester; an opportunity to see something of Dartmouth's heavy line, furnish enough to satisfy the most exacting. On the same day Yale plays Washington and Jefferson, at New Haven. But one who has been up to the point in the previous Saturday can have secured a sufficient line on Yale and they had better take the Penn-Indian game for excitement, or either the Princeton-Syracuse or Harvard-Navy game, to study the development of the teams. On Saturday, October 31, the Princeton-West Point will be the game of the greatest interest to those in that section, while Brown-Harvard, at Cambridge, will furnish sport about Boston and the Navy vs. Carleton, at Annapolis, for those farther South. Up in New York State Syracuse vs. Williams will give an opportunity for football enthusiasm at Syracuse, and farther West Chicago plays Minnesota in the principal game of the Western season, while Michigan plays Vanderbilt on the same day. Either the Western or Southern game will be well worth seeing. On November 7 Brown and Yale meet at New Haven. Harvard takes on the Indians at Cambridge, always an exciting event; Cornell plays Amherst at Ithaca. West Point plays Springfield Training School at West Point, Princeton plays Dartmouth (and there is strong rivalry here with memories of former games), and Penn plays Lafayette. On November 14 the game of the greatest importance toward Eastern ranking is the Yale-Princeton, at Princeton. For East vs. West, Michigan plays Pennsylvania. Dartmouth plays Harvard at Cambridge, and the Navy plays Penn State, at Annapolis. On Saturday, November 21, Yale and Harvard meet at New Haven; Michigan plays Syracuse, at Syracuse (here Jones, the former Yale and present Syracuse coach, is counting upon a great struggle). Williams plays Amherst at Amherst. On Thanksgiving day the Pennsylvania-Cornell game, at Philadelphia, is the most important in that section. Vanderbilt meets Swannee on the same day, and the St. Louis University takes on Carleton. The following Saturday, November 23, the Army and Navy meet at Philadelphia, which practically closes the Eastern season.

Both Candidates Welcomed. The fact that Bryan went over much the same course which Taft covered, and only a few days after him, gave opportunity for a comparison of the character of the reception tendered to each. The throng on the streets in Madison, for instance, and along the route from Chicago to Madison, were a bit larger and a bit more demonstrative for Bryan than for Taft, but there was no apparent difference in the crowds which heard both. In neither instance were the people especially enthusiastic. They seemed to listen attentively to both men, and then to go home and think it over. Mr. Taft was at a disadvantage, for he was in very poor voice, and at times not a quarter of the people who came could hear what he said. They seemed to enjoy, however, just seeing the candidate, while his pleasant smile, his general personality and good nature won him many friends. Bryan's speeches might have been more effective, because his voice was still strong and clear.

FRAUD CHARGES FALL FLAT

Fairfax Election Workers Cleared After Trial in Justice Court.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The case against "Joe" Mitchell and Dr. B. F. Roberts, of Fairfax, for alleged fraudulent practices in connection with the recent primary election, was thrashed out in Justice Court today and the defendants were acquitted immediately. It was shown that while the defendants may have been zealous in "getting out the vote," they had committed no wrong. Martin Messenger, the man they were alleged to have voted knowing he was not a citizen of the United States, was shown to be entitled to a vote.

LA FOLLETTE THE BIG BOSS
KEY TO WISCONSIN

Attitude of "Little Bob" is Factor in the Presidential Race.

DECLARES FOR TAFT

But Gives Republican Candidate Only Lukewarm Support, While His Brother Comes Out Openly for Bryan.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Before William H. Taft made his trip through Wisconsin, the Senator was regarded as doubtful politically. Democrats declare that it is still doubtful. Whether it is or not is largely a matter of opinion, but there is no division of opinion over the fact that Mr. Taft's appearance in Wisconsin has been highly beneficial to the Republicans. It was not particularly what Mr. Taft said, but the impression he made that is aiding the party or making his friends feel good, but his coming served to bring Senator La Follette out of the woods and line him up on the side of Taft. His coming out was accompanied with much reluctance and little enthusiasm on his part, but he put himself on record just the same, and that was what Mr. Taft's friends wanted to do, for there were tens of thousands of Republican voters in Wisconsin who wanted to know the attitude of "Little Bob" in the campaign before they made their own decision as between Taft and Bryan. Manifestly Senator La Follette made his position known and declared for Taft, whom he characterized as a "progressive," not because he likes Mr. Taft's platform, but more for party regularity, and most because he hopes four or possibly eight years from now to be the Republican nominee for President. For this reason he could not afford to bolt Taft and support Bryan, although Bryan stands for more of the things which La Follette advocates than does Taft. It was an anxious moment for the Republicans who heard him when Senator La Follette arose on the platform with Taft to make his decision known, and when he declared for Taft, the Republicans were great rejoicing, for they believe that that action at once took Wisconsin from the doubtful column.

La Follette Does Little.

Although Senator La Follette sent Mr. Taft a message of congratulation upon his nomination and a mild sort of promise of support, he has been saying little and doing still less to help him get the electoral vote of the state. It should be understood that the right word from Senator La Follette would unquestionably throw Wisconsin to Bryan. His following is so devoted to him scarce anyone doubts that if he advised them to vote for Bryan they would do so. His declaration for Taft, however, causes Republicans to believe that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division of causes for the principle may be about Wisconsin. Had La Follette remained silent during the campaign that fact would have been taken as a disapproval of political forces. He says that a large portion of his personal following will go with him, while his lukewarm support of the Republican leads Democrats to think his supporters will understand his position, stand by his principles rather than his party and vote for Bryan. While others believe that his heart is for Bryan and his cause will continue to stand for the principle. This division