HL PASO, Tex. Oct. 1.-Declaring that he would give one final review of Mr. Balley's spectacular career and then resign him into the hands of his constituents to be reverently reposed upon the vacant Democratic slab beside the late iamented Mr. Haskell, of Oklahoma," W. R. Hearst carried his fight against the junior Senator from Texas into his own state, when tonight he read in the course of a speech letters from Mr. Bailey to H. C. Pierce, a copy of a note for $800 and extracts from a speech by Mr. Bailey in defense of Joseph Sibley. Mr. Hearst said:

Answered Archbold's Summons. The Waters-Pierce transactions with Mr. Bailey took place in 1901, and Mr. Balley has claimed that he did not know at that time that the Waters-Pierce Company was a branch of the Standard Oil Company. Still on October 15, 1901, Mr. Balley received a summons from Mr. Archbold to come to New York and have a talk there, at as early a date as possible. What was the talk about?

After quoting from testimony before the Texas Legislature, Mr. Hearst read from the House Journal, page 162, a speech by Mr. Bailey in which the Texas juntor Senator paid a high tribute to Joseph C. Sibley.

REDS HURLED TO GROUND

Two Umatilla Indians Badly Hurt by Fall From Horses.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 3 .- (Special.) --As a result of hurrying out of town at too rapid a speed, Russian Minthorns and Mitchell Lloyd, two well-known Umatilia Indians, were taken to the hospital at 12:20 tonight, the former with a fractured skull and the latter with a badly shattered leg.

The Indians had mounted their horses to leave the city and started out on the run. Minthorne was in the lead, and as he turned the corner of Court and Cotton-wood streets, his horse slipped on the pavement and fell. Lloyd's horse fell over him and both riders were badly hurt, Minthorne probably fatally.

BIRDS CAUGHT IN FOG

San Bernardino Aroused by Clamor of Feathered Visitors.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 3 .-(Special.)—A tragedy of the air occurred here between midnight and 2 o'clock this morning, when thousands of birds, stormdriven from their course on a long flight to Central America for the Winter, were lost in the heavy fog which blanketed this vicinity and hundreds perished by flying blindly against trees and houses of this city, while many more, finding en-trance to barns and outhouses, churches and dwellings, were caught alive after

Never, to the memory of the oldest settier, has such a commotion aroused the town as that which awakened the residents as the birds settled down on the city. Business houses and public buildings were the first resting places and when these were crowded, the overflow alighted in trees and on private dwellings and even settled in the streets. and even settled in the streets.

Professor R. B. Herron, a prominent bird man, states the majority of the birds are Northern phalorope and night heron.

STURDEVANT SAYS HE DODGES TRIAL OF LAND CASES.

President Gives Out Letter Showing Many Discrepancies Between Governor's Statements and Facts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. - President Roosevelt today gave out for publication a letter received by him from W. L. Sturdevant, of St. Louis, in which the writer declares that Governor Haskell's statement in his letter of September 30, regarding the latter's connection with the Creek Indian lands, is so imperfect that it is entirely misleading.

The text of the letter follows: "Dear Mr. President-I notice in Gov-ernor Haskell's letter of date of September 30, the following statement:

"Yes, I believe I am a defendant as to certain Government townsite lots in one of nearly 11,000 suits that you have had brought against as many different honorable and high-minded citizens of this state during this Presidential cam-paign year, and you will not undertake to deny that petty politics for the pur-pose of Republicanizing about 20,000 in-dian voters was your sole motive for hav-ing those suits brought; and I charge you with knowing that there has been no with knowing that there has been no delay in these cases, except that occa-sioned by the court's deliberations, tak-en by himself as time he deemed neces-sary to consider whether or not there is any merit in the petition filed by your

"The above statement regarding the townsite suits is so imperfect that it is entirely misleading. All those suits in which Governor Haskell is defendant, exwhich Governor Haskell is defendant, except one, were filed in 1907, prior to the admission of Oklahoma as a state. He is charged with a direct participation in the frauds through which the Indians were deprived of their property and the bills seek to hold him personally liable for the injury thus inflicted. He has not answered to the merits in a single case, but all pleas filed by his answers are purely technical and, necessarily, dilatory in effect. Mr. Mott, attorney for the Creek Nation, and myself, have many times fect. Mr. Mott, attorney for the Creek Nation, and myself, have many times urged a hearing on the merits of the cases, and I have personally proposed several times to his attorneys of record that they file answers in the case so that a hearing might be had upon the merits and the cases disposed of. Those suggestions have never met an affirmative response and the result is that the cases have taken the regular course on a heavy response and the result is that the cases have taken the regular course on a heavy docket. We have announced several times in open court and otherwise that we are ready for an immediate hearing in any and all suits filed. This has been done with a view of obtaining a speedy adjustment of the controversies and in color to the controversies and in color to the controversies and in adjustment of the controversies and in order to give any person charged with a primary liability an opportunity to acquit himself of such a charge, if possible, without delay. This course could have been pursued without any violation of ultimate rights, as jurisdiction over the parties and subject matter cannot be parties and subject that waived in the Federal courts; out for reasons probably sufficient unto them, the defendants have not approved it."

CHILD DROWNS IN BOILER

Tot Walks Into Receptacle From Back of Porch.

HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 3 .- (Special.)-The 19-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Wunderlich, of Banks, a station ten miles northwest of here on the Pacific Rallway & Navigation line, fell into a boiler of water yesterday evening and was drowned.

The little one was in bed asleep and the parents had no thought of any danger. The boiler was left full of cold water at the rear of the house, and the little one awakened and walked to the back porch, where it fell into the vessel. The parents heard no outery, and were horrified to find the little one dead upon going to the back of the

This Gigantic Sale of Tailor-Made Suits Will Continue Until All Are Sold

Last week we advertised a sale of Tailor-Made Suits for Friday and Saturday. We announced that orders might be left for Suits to be measured later and we hoped there would be many of these orders. Our hopes were not realized in this respect for almost all buyers wanted to be measured at once. As a result we were unable to care for all who would have bought

For the benefit of those who did not get in on Friday and Saturday and for those who did, but did not select their suits and get measured, we have continued the sale this week until all Suits have been sold. Friday and Saturday made a record for the selling of Tailor-Made Suits at our store. Portland never had a sale that equalled it either for number of sales made or for the values given.

Regular $25 to $30 Suits

Here we offer a line of all-wool patterns carried over from last season, first-class in every particular. These suits will be built up in the same workmanlike manner that has characterized Columbia-Tailored Clothes. They are offered at $15.00 and $17.50. There is not a suit in the lot that is not the best bargain in the city at the price.

Regular $35 to $40 Suits

For $25.00 we offer a line of unfinished worsteds in blacks and blues that cannot be equalled anywhere for less than $35.00 and $40.00. Examine these patterns and you will readily see that it is the best value ever offered in Portland. To those who prefer black and blue unfinished worsteds, this sale offers splendid opportunities for saving.

Regular $35 Suits for

This line includes a special purchase of all-wool Cashmeres, Cheviots and Tweeds-all new, this season's latest patterns, bought at a price that enables us to save you a third on the cloth in your suit. These patterns are in the bolt and from the best mills in the country. On sale at $20.00. We also include a line of serges, thibets and black worsteds.

The reputation of the Columbia Woolen Mills Company is back of every suit sold during this sale. Every garment will be made according to our high standard, strictly to the requirements of your form and with all the interior construction that makes Columbia-Tailored Clothes stand the test of wear and weather.

FAMOUS ACTOR A VICTIM OF ACUTE MELANCHOLIA.

Runs Away From Performance at Theater and Is Found Near Louvre-Sent to Asylum.

PARIS, Oct. 3 .- (Special)-Coquelin cadet, the famous actor, who has made many an audience laugh at the Francais, has been melancholy mad for many an audience laugh at the Francais, has been melancholy mad for months past. His painful story has been known to theatergoers for some time, but it had by common consent been withheld from publication.

Now the Matin brings it out, and it can accordingly be told without indiscretion. Coquella cadet "created" the part of the joily country priest in "L'Amour Veille" ("Love Watches") last October and played it for four nights. On the fifth he was nowhere to be found in the theater just before the curtain should be raised. The portice of the Francais remembered having ter of the Francais remembered having seen him rush out in the direction of the Louvre. A search was made and he was found at last in the middle of the night huddled under the porch of the Church of St. Germain l'Auxerrois, opposite the Louvre Palace, in tears and talking incoherently to himself.

He was taken to a private asylum, whence he escaped. He was again found in tears on a bench in the Boulevard Malesherbes, just outside his own door, having apparently lost consciousness of what he was doing just as he was about to ring his bell. He has since been placed under stricter restraint in another asylum.

The comedian who has made us all laugh is suffering from acute melancholia. He is getting slowly better, but still has delusions. He is suspicious of his friends, even of his brother, M.

Constant Coquelin, who is naturally a frequent visitor, and he hardly says a word, remaining wrapt in melancholy word, remaining wrapt in metancholy dreams. At times he fancies that he has gone blind and will not be convinced that he can see. The comic actor, now an aged white-haired man with a drawn face, is a pathetic sight sitting gloomily for hours in the garden of the asylum. However, he is now better and is sometimes himself

Ac a party in the asylum lately he recited a monologue, and the old Coquelin cadet seemed to have come back to life. But there was a pathetic aptness in the title of the monologue which he chose, "The Obsession." Gradually his moments of naturalness because the country and last longer. come more frequent and last longer, and it is hoped that in time he will be completely cured.
