HILLSBORO, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Today witnessed the closing of Hillsboro's four days of street fair and carnival, with a daily attendance of over 5000. This has been the greatest fair, all in all, witnessed in this county since the closing down of the annual county fairs held in the old Fair Grounds, a mile east of town. The horse parade yesterday was a fair sample of what horsemen are doing. There were exhibits of stallions, brood mares, yearlings and 2-year-olds, and a fine array of colts, embracing offspring from Hal D., Hal B., in the standard-bred pacing and trotting classes, as well as fine shows of draft colts from the best Percherons, Shires and Belgians. Today was baby day at the Washington County Fair, and had every mother with a babe in arms or in a baby carriage entered her child in the baby show, there would not have been sufficient public buildings in town to have held them. It is estimated that there were 1000 babies in the city, and the entries were confined to 25 infants and each child was awarded a prize. Charles M. Alexander, son of Robert Alexander and wife, of Dilley, received a baby carriage as the prettiest male, and little Anna Hoskins, of Cornelius, entered by W. J. Merrill and wife, was awarded a like carriage for the prettiest female child. Every other babe was given a silver dollar, and out of the 33, the most of whom were girls, not one declined to take the coin in its chubby fist.

Three smart races ended the meet at the Fair Grounds today. John M. Wall's bay gelding won the mixed race in two straight heats, R. H. Greer's black mare getting second money and W. G. Hare's bay pacer, third. In the free-for-all pace the Buchanan mare won in two straight heats, against H. Peck's Iowa Girl; time, 2:26. Mike Wisdom, Ward Downs' racer, won the half-mile dash over Jim Brown; time, 59 seconds. Hon. W. H. Wehrung, Thomas Talbot and H. D. Schmeltzer were judges, and E. B. Tongue and J. E. Reeves, timekeepers.

CONVENIENT FOR LAWYERS

Clerk Moreland, of Supreme Court, Will Print Trial Docket.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—For the convenience of attorneys who have cases pending in the Supreme Court, Clerk J. C. Moreland, of that tribunal, has adopted the practice of printing a trial docket, which will be mailed to all attorneys having cases ready for trial. There are now 86 cases ready for trial, a sufficient number to keep the court busy for nearly nine months, if no further appeals should be taken. There are, besides, many cases on the preliminary docket, but which are not yet ready for trial. The printed docket will be issued twice a year. Cases will be tried in the order they apear in the docket, unless taken up out of their regular order for some special reason. By keeping their printed dockets on file and watching the newspapers every Friday for the list of cases set for hearing, the attorneys can determine about how soon their cases will be reached. The printed docket contains a blank space for a notation showing the date of trial and date of decision. The docket includes only cases to be heard at Salem, and not those to be tried at the Pendleton terms. The cases now ready for trial came from the following counties:

Clackamas 1, Clatsop 1, Columbia 2, Coos 2, Crook 2, Douglas 9, Jackson 2, Josephine 2, Klamath 1, Lake 7, Lane 2, Marion 6, Multnomah 37, Polk 1, Tillamook 3, Washington 1, Wasco 2, Yamhill 1.

Will Dispense With Primary.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—There will probably be no primary for the city election in Albany this Fall. City Recorder Redfield will soon issue the legal notices for a primary, but it is probable that no petitions will be filed and that after the expense of a primary is saved all candidates will be named by independent petition. This arrangement is probable in view of the fact that only three Councilmen are to be elected this Fall, all of the city officers and the other three Councilmen being chosen last year for a term of two years. The retiring Councilmen are J. L. Tomlinson, of the first ward; S. A. Dawson, of the second, and William R. Hand, of the third.

Was Native of The Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Evelyn A. Moorehead, a well-known resident of this city, died here Thursday, after a three weeks' illness of typhoid fever. Mrs. Moorehead was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Menefee, who were pioneers of Wasco County, and was born near where the town of Dufur now stands November 14, 1863. When 23 years old she was married to Hugh J. Moorehead, who died some years since. She leaves four children.

Two Indicted at Grants Pass.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Josephine County grand jury, which has been in session since Monday, has up to the present time returned the following indictments: H. C. Ackerman, accused of conducting a "blind pig"; Nat Howe, for a statutory offense. In the cases of Winfield Littlefield, held for accidentally shooting Charles Christie, and that of Mrs. E. A. Imbler for shooting trespassers in her vineyard, not true bills were returned.

Narrows Hotel Burns.

TACOMA, Oct. 3.—The Sunset Beach Hotel, on the Narrows between Tacoma and Steilacoom, burned at midnight Thursday. J. A. Hoskor and family and a few other persons narrowly escaped with their lives. The property was valued at about $35,000 and had been purchased early this year by L. L. Tallmann, formerly of Walla Walla. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

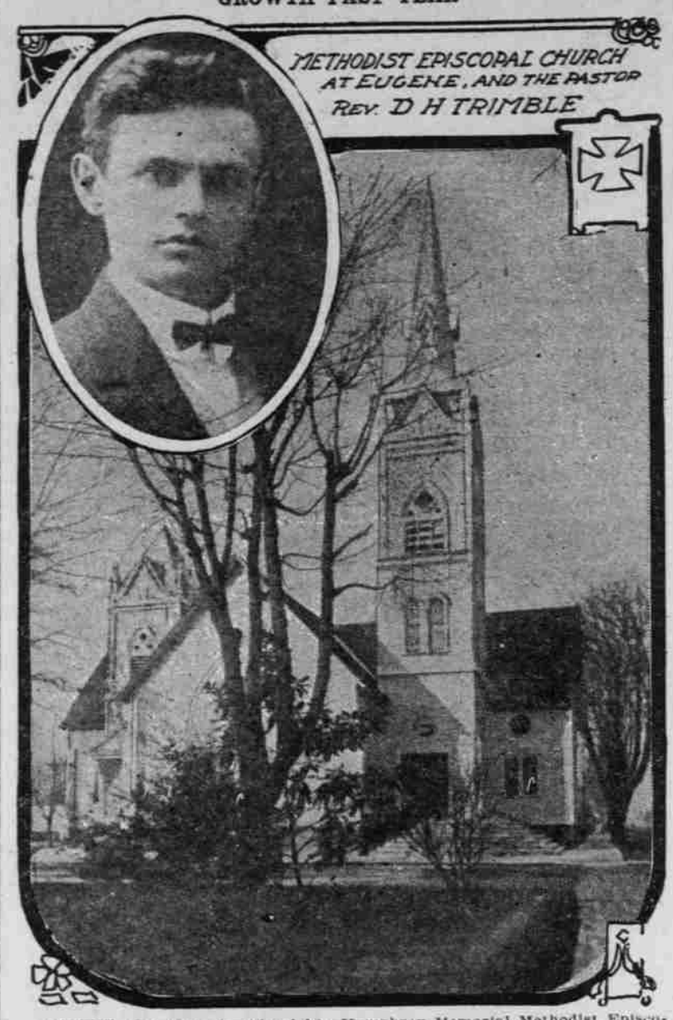
Bid on Building Reservoir.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Astoria Water Commission received eight bids yesterday for the construction of a 20,000,000-gallon reinforced concrete reservoir. The lowest bid was that submitted by Palmberg, Goodin & Mattison, of this city, in the sum of $104,356.76. The commission will meet tomorrow evening to award the contract.

Found Dead in Bed.

NEWPORT, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Mr. Chaner, a homesteader living near Siletz Bay, was found dead in his bed late Thursday by some of his neighbors. Chaner had been missed all day. Friends investigated and found him in bed with his clothes on. His wife is working in Portland.

EUGENE CHURCH WHICH HAS ENJOYED REMARKABLE GROWTH PAST YEAR



EUGENE, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Humphrey Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church of Eugene has enjoyed a remarkable growth during the last two years. The records show that some 560 persons have entered with the church during the last 23 months. After applying the disciplinary rule in the revision of the membership roll, the net increase in members has been 55 per cent in the two years.

This church now has the distinction of standing at the head of Oregon Methodism in membership and benevolent giving. The condition of finances for local church expenses, such as pastor's salary, music, deaconess, etc., is gratifying to the church, the giving to this phase of the work having advanced 100 per cent in the two years.

The members are united and enthusiastic and, under the leadership of Rev. D. H. Trimble, who has been reappointed to the work for the coming year by Bishop Hughes, expect a year of large service in this strategic center.

DESCHUTES PEOPLE OBJECT

OPPOSE SCHEME TO TURN WALDO LAKE WATER TO WEST.

Southern Pacific Company Proposes to Divert Outlet to Generate Electric Power.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company is very much disturbed by the scheme of the Southern Pacific Company to turn the waters of Waldo Lake into the Willamette River for the purpose of developing a water power. The waters of Waldo Lake now flow into the Deschutes River, from which the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company takes water for its irrigation system. While the company now has all the water it needs, it expects to need a great deal more, for it is reclaiming a large tract of land and is seeking a contract with the state to reclaim much more. The company therefore desires to use at some future time all the surplus water of the Deschutes, including that which comes from Waldo Lake.

But the Southern Pacific, which is about to build a line across the Cascades, wants the water of Waldo Lake for power purposes and has already commenced the construction of a canal which will turn the water from the east side of the Cascades to the west side, letting the water find its way eventually to the Willamette.

Manager Howard and Chief Engineer Redfield, of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Company, were in Salem today discussing irrigation affairs with State Engineer Lewis and the question of the rights of the Southern Pacific came up for consideration. It was agreed by all concerned that under the decisions of the courts of this state a water user may divert a stream from one side of a watershed to another. The company cannot object, therefore, unless it can show that its rights have been impaired. But its water supply at present is sufficient, so it has not yet suffered injury. Moreover, the water from Waldo Lake would be of little benefit unless held in storage by the construction of a dam, and since the Deschutes company has not constructed a dam its injury would be difficult to prove even if it had an immediate need for the water. Under the circumstances the Deschutes company would like to see legislation in Oregon which would prevent the turning of water from one slope to another, and which would enable the company to secure advance right to the use of water to supply its future needs. In the meantime the Southern Pacific seems likely to get control of Waldo Lake.

KLAMATH INVITES SCOTT

Hopes to Have Good Roads Booster Assist in $50,000 Project.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Oct. 3.—The Chamber of Commerce has invited John H. Scott to visit Klamath Falls and to hold a convention for the purpose of interesting the people of Klamath County in an appropriation of $50,000 to be devoted to the construction of a road to Crater Lake, thence to Odessa, over Government land, and to extend from Odessa to Klamath Falls and to Merrill, and the California State line, to connect with the California State highway from San Diego.

Phone Company Loses Franchise.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The time allowed the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone Company of Portland to accept the franchise recently granted it for an automatic telephone system in this city expired last evening. As none of the terms of the ordinance have been complied with the franchise is now void.

Heavy Assessment in Clatsop.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—While it will be several days before the exact amount of the 1908 assessment will be known, sufficient progress has been made in compiling the valuations to indicate that the total will be not less than $8,500,000, or about $3,500,000 more than last year.

May Complete Count Monday.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The State Canvassing Board has received word from all the missing counties that returns on the joint Senatorial votes are in the mails, so that this part of the canvass may be completed Monday.

DEATH CLAIMS RESPECTED OREGON PIONEER OF 1848.

The Late Mrs. S. L. Shedd, of Corvallis.

CORVALLIS, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. S. L. Shedd died at her home in Corvallis, October 2. Precious Starr was born in Ohio, February 23, 1832, and moved with her father's family to Iowa in 1839. She received her education in a pioneer log schoolhouse. In 1848 she made the memorable trip across the plains by oxteam, starting April 12 and arriving over the old Barlow trail. They came by Fort Hall and Laramie, landing in Oregon September 23, being among the first immigrants to reach Oregon after the Cayuse war. They located near Bellfountain, Benton County. The first husband of Mrs. Shedd was J. H. Caton, to whom she was married December 31, 1848. They lived on the Caton donation claim in the Belknap settlement, Benton County, until 1859, when they moved to Corvallis, where she had resided ever since. Mr. Caton died in Eastern Oregon in 1863, and November 12, 1865, his widow was married to S. L. Shedd.

Mrs. Shedd was the mother of six children, two of whom—J. L. Caton, of Monroe, Or., and Mrs. Ida Fortson, of Sacramento, Cal.—are living. She also leaves three grandchildren, the children of Mrs. Fortson. Mrs. Shedd is survived by one half brother, J. W. Starr, of Junction City; one sister, Mrs. S. A. Thorp, of Corvallis, and five brothers—S. E. Starr, of Portland; L. H. Starr, of Eugene, and M. L., S. C. and C. P. Starr, of Bellfountain.

Mrs. Shedd was a prominent member of the Grange from its early organization, and was a charter member of the Rebekah Lodge of Corvallis.

LIVING IS HIGHER

Commodities in Washington Advance 26 Per Cent.

FIGURES ON FOODSTUFFS

As Compared With 1900, 41 of 68 Articles Considered Show Advance—Labor Does Not Show Proportional Increase.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—In preparing the forthcoming biennial report of the State Bureau of Labor, Commissioner C. F. Hubbard has completed an investigation into the cost of living in Washington, the results of which tend to show that prices of ordinary household commodities have been higher during the past year than ever before. In making this investigation, the year 1900 was made the starting point, and the conclusions are based on the wholesale prices of a list of 68 articles, all of which are in every-day use. Wholesale prices were taken rather than those of retail dealers for the reason that accurate records of the former are available, and moreover, wholesale prices are not subject to artificial fluctuations, arising from local causes.

As compared with the prices for the year 1900, 41 of the 68 articles considered show an average increase of 26 per cent for 1908. Included in this list are the following: Cove oysters, canned cherries, canned raspberries, canned asparagus, canned tomatoes, coffee, evaporated cream, dried apples, apricots, currants, peaches, pears, plums, oatmeal crackers, wheat, flour, first and second grades; oatmeal, cornmeal, graham flour, rye flour, honey, rice, table salt, granulated sugar, molasses, eggs, butter, cheese, lard, ham, bacon, mutton, dressed hogs, chickens, turkeys, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, beans and canned salmon.

All of the foregoing list have advanced on the average 26 per cent over the price as quoted in 1900. Some of them, however, have undergone a much greater increase, and it is worthy of note that the highest increases are confined largely to such articles as may be termed absolute necessities. To bring this out in somewhat more concrete form, it may be said that in 1900 a barrel of first-grade wheat flour cost at wholesale, $3.25; in 1908 the price is $5.15. Second grade flour in 1900 was worth $2.95; the 1908 price is $4.65. A ten-pound sack of cornmeal in 1900 was worth 16 cents; in 1908 the price is 24 cents. In 1900 rice brought 4 1-2 cents per pound; the price in 1908 is 6 2-4 cents. Other advances per cent of like character might be cited, all of them tending to indicate an unceasing upward tendency in nearly all important food commodities.

On the other hand reports which the Labor Commissioner has been gathering covering the matter of wages do not indicate anything like a similar advance to make up for the increased cost of living expenses. It is true that most lines of skilled labor have secured advances since the year 1900, but very few of these advances have been secured during the past two years. In fact, there have been some decreases during the past year and the number of idle men has practically doubled, due in large part to the financial panic which, however, did not seem to influence the prices of food products. Rents of houses have also stiffened up and appear to show no signs of weakening.

CAME TO OREGON IN 1844

William Grant, of Dallas, Served With First Oregon Volunteers.

DALLAS, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—William Grant, who died at his home in this city Sunday, September 27, was one of the few remaining pioneers of Oregon who crossed the plains in 1844. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Grant, and was born in Jackson County, Missouri, July 18, 1841, coming to Oregon with his parents three years later.

The greater part of his life was spent in Polk County, and he was identified with much of the important early history of that locality. Elected County Treasurer in 1864, he resigned his office almost immediately and entered the First Regiment of the Oregon Volunteers for service against the Indians. He remained in the Army for nearly two years, during which he was elevated to the rank of lieutenant.

Mr. Grant was a member of the G. A. R., being past commander of Dallas post. He was also affiliated with the I. O. O. F. and several other secret orders.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Grant, and five children—U. S. Grant, a prominent goat breeder of Oregon; Glen O. Grant, N. M. Grant, Belden H. Grant, of Portland, and Viola Estelle (Mrs. C. H. Lane, Jr.).

FOREIGN FIRMS MAY SUE

Can Bring Suit Without Taking Out Business License.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—That foreign corporations may bring suit without paying the fee entitling them to do business within the state is held valid by the Supreme Court in the case of Lilly Brackett Company versus A. H. Sonnemann, of Spokane. The plaintiff, a foreign corporation, brought suit on a Massachusetts judgment. The defendant set up that the plaintiff corporation had not been admitted to business in this state and was therefore without authority to sue. The Supreme Court affirms judgment for the plaintiff, upholding the ruling that the bringing of a suit does not constitute doing business within the meaning of the law. Other decisions handed down today include these: Hattie Hilgar vs. City of Walla Walla, an action to recover for the death of plaintiff's husband, who was killed by a cave-in in the excavation for a pipe line for the Walla Walla city water works; judgment awarding damages is affirmed. William M. Cheatham vs. Frank P. Hogan and wife, of Spokane, for personal injuries; judgment of nonsuit under a fellow-servant ruling is reversed and a new trial ordered.

Ask $36,000; Are Allowed $1000.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—In the condemnation suit for the recovery of damages for the taking of a strip of ground for a right of way through an old placer claim at the junction of the Powder and Snake Rivers, the jury returned a verdict for the sum of $1000. The owners of the claim asked for a verdict for $36,000 and testified that the ground would produce $4 a cubic yard; that they could make a profit of $20 a day by working the claim and that the right of way as proposed would destroy its value for mining purposes. They failed to show by their testimony that they had ever delivered an ounce of gold to any mint, bank or broker taken from the claim.

OIL DEPOT FOR BAKER CITY

Standard Company Will Erect Distributing Station and Tanks.

BAKER CITY, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The Standard Oil Company concluded negotiations today for a tract of land for the purpose of establishing a receiving and distributing depot for this part of the state and for the adjoining trade with Idaho.

It is the purpose of the company to construct tanks for the storage of oil and to build a receiving and distributing warehouse and offices. The land negotiated for lies along the line of the O. R. & N. Railroad and within the city limits. The right to build within the city was granted to the company at a recent meeting of the City Council.

Rain Needed to Put Out Fire.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—Reports from Detroit indicate no change in the big forest fire burning 10 miles east of that town. It will require a heavy rain to stop it, as only a small force of Government Forest Rangers is available to fight the flames. That the fire, while wide in extent, is doing little damage is due to the fact that it is well up toward the summit of the mountains and is burning in timber which lumbermen generally class as "scrubby." This is the second big fire in that part of the Cascade Mountains this year, and both are remarkable for the extent they cover with so little damage. The other fire swept an old burn, destroying very little big timber.

Surgeons Tie Carotid Artery.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 3.—J. W. Sacks, thought fatally wounded in an affray or holdup at Pasco, will probably recover, physicians performing the operation late last night of tying the carotid artery in the neck. Sacks had been shot through the cheek and part of the bone lodged against an artery, stopping the flow of blood temporarily. It is claimed this is the second time in the history of medicine in the Northwest that such an operation has been performed.

Thomas Gets Till Monday to Plead.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—J. K. Thomas, who confessed to the murder of his wife on July 19 last, either by killing her with a knife or shooting her, was yesterday arraigned in Judge Neterer's court on a charge of murder in the first degree. Through counsel he was granted until Monday morning to enter his plea. Thomas claims that he shot his wife in self-defense, but the authorities believe they can prove premeditated murder.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 3.—Steamer Humboldt is lying at Cordova Bay shifting cargo into the steamer Santa Cruz to be taken to Seattle in the effort to hurry it northbound to Dawson. The weather is rough and it was concluded safer to transship the freight at Cordova Bay than bring the steamer around into Victoria harbor.
