

BEAVERS WIN ON ANGELS' ERRORS

Graney Far Outclasses Hosp in Pitching, but His Work Does Not Count.

FINAL SCORE IS 3 TO 2

Bungling of Portland Players Saves Los Angeles From Whitewash. Tab—Johnson Raps Out. Pluke Home Run.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Although Graney beat Hosp to death in the pitching line today, by five hits to ten, it required a costly two-base error to enable the Beavers to win by 2 to 1 and yet the only two runs the locals made were due to bungles by the visitors. In the first inning, Leaker, who was safe at first on Johnson's bad throw of his grounder, was sacrificed to second and scored on a wild pitch. In the ninth, with one out, Howard doubled over first, took third on Conroy's boot of Smith's grounder and was forced in by a pass ball and a hit by pitcher.

HAYES' RECORD IS SMASHED

Frenchman Wins Marathon Race in Much Better Time.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Hazel, the champion professional long-distance runner of France, today covered the course of the Marathon race, a distance of about 26 miles, in 2 hours, 27 minutes and 23 seconds, breaking all previous records for this contest. The time of John Hayes, of New York, in the Olympic was 2 hours, 25 minutes and 30 seconds. The prize was £500 given by a newspaper. There were 50 competitors, including an American named Percy Smallwood. The runners were started off by Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein. Second place was obtained by an Irishman named White. Smallwood did not get a place.

PULLMAN RUNS UP BIG SCORE

Defeats Cheney Normal School in Ragged Game, 73 to 0.

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—In an exceedingly ragged exhibition, the Washington State College eleven defeated Cheney Normal this afternoon by a score of 73 to 0. Cheney displayed absolutely no strength, but had luck at every stage and the victory is no great credit to the college. Coach Rheinhardt was not pleased with the showing made by the locals.

No Races at Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 10.—Owing to heavy rains putting the trotting track in bad condition, today's meeting was called off. An extra day, Saturday, October 17, will be used to carry out the program.

HORSE SHOW TO OPEN NEXT THURSDAY

WILLIE WALTER'S TAKING THE HURDLES ON MISS LEWIS' 'JACK O' DIAMONDS'

On Thursday afternoon the Portland Hunt Club will throw open the doors of the Oriental building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition Grounds for its second annual horse show. Everything is in readiness for the show, even to the smallest detail. On Friday night the electric lights were turned on and those who take part in the high school drill exercised their mounts under the brilliant glare of the hundreds of electric lamps. In order to protect the animals from possible cold weather, extensive heating plants have been installed and not only do the steam pipes extend along the boxes and reserve seats, but also in the gallery, where the general admission seats are located. The work of getting up a horse show is a tremendous task, fraught with endless details and disappointments. It is not an affair that can be thrown together in a couple of weeks or even a couple of months. Last year the Hunt Club officials had only a few months in which to prepare for the show, but in spite of the short time, the show was a success. Since that the officials have planned for the coming show, but the brunt of the hard work has been during the last two months. Most of the members of the club have held sheep and have had their hands in the show and has had charge of the sale of the boxes. The list of box holders which is printed, together with the seating arrangements, will show how well his work has been done. Practically all of the boxes have been sold. Mr. Cronin fully expects that before the opening afternoon of the show all of the remaining boxes will be sold. Upon the shoulders of Mr. Crutcher fell the task of putting the Oriental building in shape. He removed the promenade, which the society folk last year refused to use, and widened the ring. In order to have more boxes, he had constructed ten additional boxes. It was not necessary this year to build the stables, but the same task of allotting the stalls fell on him. Yesterday under the watchful eyes of Mr. Crutcher, the boxes and interior of the building was decorated and the whole building was made bright with the red-and-white of the club colors. Mr. Leadbetter devoted much of his time to getting entries and to getting up the catalogue, a task in itself that was full of disappointments for many days. His labors, however, have been well rewarded for in the 38 classes that are to be judged, there are nearly 600 entries. Since Mr. Crutcher threw open the show ring for exercise, that place has been the busiest in town, from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening. The ring has been alive with horses and men. Horses attached to vehicles of every description have been put through their stunts. Almost any one can ride or drive after a fashion, but when it comes down to the real 'know' of the thing, but few can do the trick right. To hold a whip properly, or to have accomplished the art of holding the reins as they should be held, is not accomplished in a day. To drive or ride a horse as if one were guiding a mud scow, may pass as driving on the street, but it gets the exhibitor nothing in a show ring, for it is impossible to show a horse at his best under such handling. It shows up the driver and handicaps the horse. Portland may not be able to boast of the best amateur whips in the country, but those who are fortunate enough to attend the coming horse show will see for themselves that the city has some exceptionally good amateur whips. This will surprise many, for it has only been within the last two years that the desire to own well-appointed stables has taken hold of those who could afford to have private stables. The Hunt Club horse show of last year is responsible for this, for up until this show was given there were not more than one or two private stables in the city, and they had nothing in the way of vehicles or horse flesh that was any better than a common livery stable outfit. Now in Portland there are many splendidly equipped stables. People who could afford this luxury have gone into this pastime in a manner characteristic of things done in this city, and the number is growing and by next year there will be twice as many as will be shown this year. The fact, if it can be called such, has taken a firm hold here and what is best of all, those who have gone in for it, are getting nothing but the best in the way of vehicles and horses. When it comes to saddlers, through the Hunt Club riders, Portland need not take a back seat for any city. Making the horses owned by the club members, they are as nice a lot of saddlers as any club in the country can boast of and among the mounts are some corking good timber toppers. Most of them are rattling good show horses also and as for the riders, some of the kiddies in the club can take the jumps in a cross country run and ride over a country that would make some of the Eastern grown ups stop and pull up. The judge of last year's show was never more surprised in his life than he was when he saw the horses shown in the hunters class and he said without hesitation that taking them as a whole he never saw as many good hunters together in all of the shows he had attended. Another thing that made him say many nice things, was the riding of the youngsters. He declared that he never saw such perfect riders, or as many who could sit a horse and make it do its work, as there are in Portland.

LITTLE BREAKS AMERICAN RECORD

Drives Italian Auto at Rate of 64.25 Miles an Hour.

RACES WITHOUT MISHAPS

First Contest on New Motor Parkway Proves Accidents Avoidable.

Only One Participant Has His Arm Broken.

LONG ISLAND MOTOR PARKWAY

Oct. 10.—By his marvelous driving of his Italian car 24 1/2 miles in 22 minutes—64.25 miles an hour—in the Motor Parkway sweepstakes for stock cars selling at $4000 or over, Herbert Lytle not only broke this country's speed record, but demonstrated the success of the new 41,000-foot speedway as a spectacle course. As a spectacle and as a crowd-gatherer, the simultaneously run five races were far below expectations. There were few spectators. Lytle hit up high speed immediately upon his release from the starting line, where cars had been sent off in single file 30 seconds ahead, and kept it up with hardly a fluctuation from the rate of 64 1/2 miles an hour. The nearest approach to Lytle's speed was Henry's in the Vanderbilt race of 1905, approximately 500 miles at the rate of 61.44 miles an hour. Europe has the world's record of 66.25 miles. Close Rivalry Shown.

Only second in interest was the close rivalry between Sharp and Bourque of the Garden City sweepstakes at the former track, which was in 129 minutes. It was a nip and tuck race for many miles. Experts praised the track. It shows wonderful advance in automobile speed track construction and the effect of the completed nine miles of 23-foot cement course is reflected in the results. The race also showed the great advantage made in car building, for all the entries were stock cars with minor changes adapting them to track work. The only accident at all serious was to Lamond, the mechanic in Miller's car, contending in the Garden City sweepstakes. He was thrown out and sustained a leg fracture. His team took a spectator on the seat and continued in the race. Karl Wright's machine was overturned in the Jericho sweepstakes, but no one was injured. There were only trifling troubles with machinery and tires and there were no collisions or even narrow escapes.

Races Almost Bloodless.

The almost unprecedented freedom from even minor accidents shows that most of the horrors of the sport can be eliminated by carrying out the plans of the builders of this track. The race also showed the great advantage made in car building, for all the entries were stock cars with minor changes adapting them to track work. The only accident at all serious was to Lamond, the mechanic in Miller's car, contending in the Garden City sweepstakes. He was thrown out and sustained a leg fracture. His team took a spectator on the seat and continued in the race. Karl Wright's machine was overturned in the Jericho sweepstakes, but no one was injured. There were only trifling troubles with machinery and tires and there were no collisions or even narrow escapes.

Summary of Results.

The Nassau, cars selling for $1000 or under, distance 93.34 miles—Car No. 3, Hugh Easter, won in 2:07.52. The Jericho, cars selling for $1000 to $2000, distance 140.4 miles—Car No. 1, W. R. Burns, won in 3:02.36. The Garden City, cars selling for $2001 to $3000, distance 187.6 miles—G. 28, W. H. Sharp, won in 3:49.24. The Meadowbrook, cars selling for $3001 to $4000, distance 211.4 miles—M. 35, H. Hughes, won in 4:03.47. The Motor Parkway, cars selling for $4000 and over, distance 234.6 miles—H. 42, Herbert Lytle, won in 3:39.10.

ROBERTSON WINS GREAT RACE

Exciting Finish of 200-Mile Contest at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—In the most exciting long-distance automobile contest ever seen in this city, George Robertson, driving a Locomobile, today won the 200 mile race over a dangerous eight-mile course in Fairmount Park. His time was 4 hours, 2 minutes, 30 seconds. 1. Patchke, in an Acmec car, finished second in 4:14.54. Ralph Mulford, in a Locomobile car, was third in 4:16.44. A. C. Maucher, in a Peerless, finished fourth. Mulford's time was 4:17.26. After the fourth car crossed the line the remaining machines were stopped and did not finish. In all, 16 cars started and only seven or eight survived, the others falling out for various reasons. There were no serious accidents.

Of last year's team, only four men are trying for positions. Mathews and Eorleski for the back field, and Matthews and Harvey in the line. Borleski, captain-elect, will likely hold over his old position at right half, and Martin at left half, although Alf Belt, of the last year's scrubs, is making a strong bid for the position. Owing to Philbrook's ineffectuality, Matthews, who last year played guard, will be shifted to tackle, and Harvey will fill the other position, which was last year held by Dimmick. Among the other likely candidates for the team are Whitney, who is showing up well in the back field, while Cushman and Proudfoot are also showing up well at halves. Schmidt, manager of Whitman's 1907 eleven, is out for quarter, but will be given a hard race by Brainerd, of last year's scrubs, while Proudfoot is also showing up well in that position. For center Clemens, a last year's substitute, seems to have the lead, although Harrah and Hughart are trying out. Morrow, Wilson, November 14, O. A. C., and Apperson, leaders for the place, were to finish in that position. Florida was running second, with Davis close up. When Robertson entered his 200 and final lap, a cheer went up and the crowd settled back to see the light between Davis and Florida. The minutes passed and neither appeared, however, and it was finally learned that both were out of commission along the course. Then last evening started the Lozier, fighting for third place. They had just gone by the grandstand when Robertson shot past, a victor, a lap ahead of his nearest competitor.

O'CONNELL TO WRESTLE HART

Multnomah Club Instructor Will Meet Michigan Man.

E. J. O'Connell wrestling instructor of the Multnomah Club, and Dick Hart, a well-known wrestler from Michigan, will meet at catch weights in Portland on October 22. O'Connell for years occupied the position of wrestling instructor at Yale University. He is confident of his ability to defeat Hart, whom he admits is a good man. Hart has been quite successful at the wrestling game. He is at present touring the West and, hearing that O'Connell was here, promptly issued a challenge, which was accepted. The arrangements for staging the bout have not yet been completed, but it is expected soon to make definite announcement. Both men have commenced training for the bout, which should add renewed interest in the sport.

same in Portland. It will be the first match of the kind in this city in years in which the opponents were evenly matched as to size and weight.

Race Results at The Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Although it has been stated positively yesterday that no races would be run Saturday, a good program was carried out today. So many protests came from the farmers in town today that the committee deemed it advisable to put on another card. The entries and results were: Three-eighths mile dash, purse $75—Letha first, Capatana second, Lady B third; time, 0:37 1/2. Mile race, purse $75—Kfng Altamont first, Jovus Altamont second, May Day third; time, 2:47. One mile pace, beat two heats in three, purse $75—Kfng first, Doris second, May Day third; time, 2:41. Half mile running race, purse $75—Yank first, Norma second, Sovereign third; time, 0:54. Half mile, boys' pony race, purse $20—Harold Maser first, Fuller second, Heebner third; time, :50. Half mile, saddle horse race, purse $75—Deck first, Dan second, Green third; time, :55.

EQUALS WORLD'S RECORD

SMITHSON DOES HIGH HURDLES IN 15 SECONDS.

Olympic Champion Makes Exhibition Run on Campus at Oregon Agricultural College.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Forrest Smithson, Olympic champion, tied his world record of 15 seconds in the high hurdles here this afternoon in an exhibition run. Conditions were very best and the champion was strong after a good rest on a ranch and in splendid condition for the trial. The time was caught by three watches and Smithson declares that the trial was fast and that he thinks the time was correct. This ties the world's record and breaks the Coast record by two-fifths of a second. It was a splendid exhibition. The great hurdler ran with perfect ease and in splendid form. It was his first appearance on the Coast since his return from London. The crowd which was assembled to witness the alumni football game did not realize until after the time had been announced that they had witnessed a world's record exhibition.

AIMING AT FIRST PLACE

Endeavors Plan Movement to Lead in Missionary Work.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—Plans to lead the Christian Endeavorers of the World in membership and missionary offerings were put forward tonight at a young people's mass meeting at the International Missionary convention of the Churches of Christ. Rev. Claude E. Hill, of Mobile, National Superintendent of Christian Endeavor, outlined the Endeavorers' campaign saying that it has resolved to make the potential aim "first place by 1909," by leading all other religious bodies in Christian Endeavor.

"We aim to stand first in number of societies, first in number of members, and first in missionary offerings. We will surely realize our aim. We are very near the top now. I suspect if that it must be so, we would occupy first place by this moment." Rev. Parker Stockdale, of Chicago delivered an address on "The Ministry in Life," in which he said that the market place is demanding that the gospel shall make demands on men. "Men must take away from churches today is because the public believes that men will answer to the heroic. A gas-lighted, flower-scattered Christianity does not meet the requirements of masculine humanity, and the pulpit might as well understand now, if it does not understand here, that it must again lift up the cross and say unto men: 'Here is your opportunity for heroic endeavor and service in the interest of humanity.'"

SAYS SHE WAS POISONED

Police, However, Discredit Story of Blanche Tonstell, Waitress.

Blanche Tonstell, a waitress who lives at the Elkhorn rooming-house, First and Jefferson streets, at St. Vincent's Hospital recovering from a dose of carbolic acid which she took some time on Thursday night. She will recover, but may be maimed in a litigation into the circumstances surrounding the case in the belief that there might have been some other cause than a suicidal attempt on the part of the girl. According to the story told by the girl, two men entered her room on Thursday night and forced her to partake of a drink which she believed contained the poison. The first known of the incident was on Thursday night, when she appeared at the house of her friend, Ruby Weniger, 235 Jefferson street, and told the story of the two men and their mysterious conduct. Dr. Gellert was called, and when he learned the nature of the case, called in City Physician Zeigler. The police are inclined to discredit her story.
