Bottom row: Miss Luile Hall.

WITH the exception of the concert at the Hotel on Wednesday and Mrs. T. L. Eliot's tea, the dull week touched the lowest ebb. It must be that one's energies are being conserved for a blaze of glory during the forthcoming Horse Show, which will be decidedly brilliant, and accounts for the present lethargic state. However, "there is hope," with apologies to the well-known advertisement.

Cards are out for a large reception which will be given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. W. S. Ladd and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett to meet the recent bride, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, who with Mr. Corbett, returned from Europe on Tuesday. The reception will be given at Mrs. W. S. Ladd's Sixth-street residence. Mrs. Corbett was formerly Miss Gretchen Hoyt, who was conspicuous in New York society.

All arrangements are practically complete for the horse show, which begins on Thursday and will continue until Saturday night, with matinees each day. Socially this will be unquestionably the premier event of the year. There has never been such a display of interest on the part of smart Portlanders. The list of entries assures the show's success from a sporting standpoint, and particularly gratifying is the large number of those from Portland. Unusually interesting promises to be the participation of juvenile exhibitors of whom there will be many. Miss Claire Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, who will drive the famous Black Chief, and little Miss Farrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Farrell, of Seattle, who will also drive, are among the most interesting. The judges, Walter Scott Hobart and E. Duplessis, Hayward, of Burlington, will arrive early in the week and will have apartments at the Nortonia. A number of luncheons and dinners have been arranged in their honor by J. Wesley Ladd. A large party of the Burlington set is expected to be here and much general entertaining will be done for them. President McGrath will entertain quite elaborately for the out-of-town guests. Members of the Hunt Club will participate actively both in the entertaining and in the equestrian events. A unique feature will be the appearance in the tandem riding class of Miss Belle Ainsworth, Mrs. James Nicol, Mrs. F. G. Buffum and Mrs. Ambrose Cronin.

Feminine members of the Hunt Club who will participate in the High School drill, led by Mrs. William Wood, are: Miss Carrie Flanders, Miss Belle Ainsworth, Miss Cronin, Miss Kierman, Miss Lawrence, Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Miss Day, Miss Monroe, Miss Leadbetter, Mrs. James Nicol and Mrs. F. G. Buffum. Riding with them will be: T. B. McGrath, president of the Hunt Club; Thomas Scott Brooke, Joseph Cronin, Dr. John Coghlan, Dr. William Wood, Ralph Jenkins, F. O. Downing, H. E. Eldridge, H. K. Skuse, Dr. W. A. Cummings, Dr. William Campbell and E. Oppenheimer.

Miss Anita Burns is to study vocal culture this winter in Paris. She is also interested in four-hand driving, in which she is being coached.

Mrs. John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, who was for years conspicuous in Washington society, is a guest at Vancouver Barracks. Mrs. Ingalls is the widow of the distinguished ex-Senator from Kansas, who is remembered as one of the most brilliant orators this country ever produced, at one time seriously considered as Presidential candidate, and who served as presiding officer of the United States Senate. Senator Ingalls was almost equally as famous for his literary efforts as for his oratory, as is evidenced by his famous poem, "Opportunity," and various other contributions to English literature.

Mrs. Ingalls is a guest at the post of her daughter, Mrs. Davis, who is the wife of Lieutenant Davis, of the First Infantry. On Thursday Lieutenant and Mrs. Davis gave a dancing party in compliment to Mrs. Ingalls, asking the officers of the barracks and their wives, and additionally Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Josephine Smith and Miss May Montgomery.

Miss Lisa Wood is expected to return this week from a year's trip abroad.

Owing to their lengthy calling list, the reception given by Mrs. T. L. Eliot and her daughter, Miss Eliot, was necessarily a large one. For years Dr. and Mrs. Eliot have been associated with the growth of Oregon, and in addition to the church, almost they have hosts of friends. Owing to this fact the ladies were served on the second floor to permit a segregation of the many guests. Mrs. Eliot was helped in receiving by Mrs. William G. Eliot, while assisting were Mrs. Hannah Robertson, Mrs. Curtis C. Strong, Mrs. William Bidlow, Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Miss Anderson, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Margaret Cattin, Miss Lane Dunlap, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. R. S. Greenleaf, Miss Geraldine Althen, Miss Maida Hart, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Lucile Parker and Miss Olive Falling. Presiding in the dining-room were Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. Lee Hoffman and Mrs. William Ladd, while the ladies were served by Mrs. Gordon Voorhies and Mrs. William Brewster.

Mrs. Eliot was distinguished in a handsome semi-directoire gown, of the new mulberry shade of satin with touches of Duchess lace on the corsage, and Miss Eliot was in a net frock over a Dresden satin. Mrs. Holt C. Wilson appeared in a becoming figured voile gown. Mrs. Lee Hoffman was in pale blue satin; Mrs. H. L. Corbett in a lovely embroidered gown, and Mrs. William Ladd in a gown of satin trimmed with velvet of Copenhagen tint.

The Honorable Alexander Kerr, who was recently made lord of four English manors, has left Paris with Mrs. Kerr and their daughter, Jeanie, and they are now in Germany. Later they will visit Norway and Sweden prior to returning home. En route West they will stop some time in Boston and Philadelphia.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grelle, Miss Kathleen Burns entertained informally at dinner Thursday, asking Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Miss Frances Wilson and Mr. Roderick Macleay.

A gloom was cast over local society by the death on Thursday of Mrs. George W. Hoyt, Sr. Mrs. Hoyt was the mother of Mrs. W. Lewis Hoyt, Mrs. George W. Hoyt and George W. Hoyt, Jr. Mrs. Hoyt was a pioneer of Oregon and for many years was identified with the best phases of Portland's social life. She was a woman of unusual charm of manner and beautiful qualities of mind and heart. Her death is a sincere sorrow to a wide circle of devoted friends.

Miss Effie Houghton, the bride-elect, will give a luncheon Friday followed by a matinee box party at the Horse Show, at which time her guests will be Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. Harry Staden, Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Hazel Dolph, Alice Strong and Miss Claire Houghton. Miss Houghton will also entertain one evening for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Staden.

Roderick Macleay last week gave the golfers of the Waverly Golf Club something to talk about when he made a score over the splendid 18-hole course that will remain for a long time to come. Previous to his play of last week Mr. Macleay held the club record, making 75 to 73 by Mr. Alex Buthe. In his play last week Mr. Macleay, who during the past year has played a great deal of golf abroad and undoubtedly improved his play, made the rounds at the Waverly links in 70, which was one point above the professional record. Recently the professional record was lowered from 75 to 73 by Mr. Alex Buthe. In his play last week Mr. Macleay, who during the past year has played a great deal of golf abroad and undoubtedly improved his play, made the rounds at the Waverly links in 70, which was one point above the professional record, but that made by Mr. Buthe as well.

On Saturday with them will be Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Miss May Failing and Mr. Roderick Macleay. They have also planned matinee parties for each of the three days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord have as their guest a charming Southern girl, Miss Grace Monroe, who is originally from New Orleans, though she has spent much time in Washington, D. C. Miss Monroe is a sister of Mr. Don Monroe.

Miss Harriet Ankeny, the daughter of Senator and Mrs. Levi Ankeny, of Walla Walla, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Harriet K. McArthur.

Mrs. William Estabrook Jones, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Durham, at the country place at Riverdale, has returned to her home in Boston. Mrs. Jones will return to Portland in December, accompanied by her husband, and together they will spend the Christmas holidays here.

Mrs. Alfred F. Sears, widow of the late Judge Sears, with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Sears, are now in Boston, where they will spend some months and the remainder of the winter in New York City.

Mrs. George S. Whiteside, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Cheever, in Dedham, Mass., has returned to Portland. Dr. Whiteside's mother, Mrs. Alexander Whiteside, of Boston, has come to visit here for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, of Tacoma, are to come over from the Sound for the Horse Show. Mrs. Jones had several informal affairs given in her honor when she visited here a year ago to be one of the receiving party at Miss Leslie Knapp's debut. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Knapp will give a box party at the Horse Show Saturday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Miss Carolyn Prentiss Greene, who was a member of the class of 1902 at Portland Academy, was recently married to George Laurie Keller, of Muskogee, Okla. Miss Greene, who was known among her associates of the Academy set as a girl of unusual charm, was very popular during the time she resided here with her parents, Colonel and Mrs. A. R. Greene.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lamont, who have just returned from a moose and caribou hunt in Alaska, have arrived for the Horse Show and the coming wedding of Mrs. Lamont's brother, Ralph Hahn, and Miss Katherine Ramsdell. Mrs. Lamont, who is an enthusiastic and skillful horsewoman, has just purchased a handsome thoroughbred animal, which she will ride at the coming show. Those acting as chaperons were Mrs. Kaufman, Mrs. Oppenheimer, Mrs. Behrman, Edna Kaufman and Clara Behrman.

An engagement which came as a complete surprise was that of Miss Frances Heading Lindley, of Los Angeles, to Joseph C. Muehe, a well-known bachelor, who is the paying teller for the First National Bank and an influential member of the Portland Hunt Club. Miss Lindley has been present with her parents at their orange ranch in Ontario, Cal. The wedding has been arranged for the latter part of January, and after that time Mr. Muehe and his bride will reside in a picturesque bungalow in Irvington.

In the near future two engagements are to be made public. Both are extremely prominent girls, and one is to be an Army wedding.

A wedding of interest which will take place tomorrow at noon is that of Miss Carlotta Parker and Arthur Honeyman, Miss Parker, who is a daughter of Charles L. Parker and a sister of Lucille and Elizabeth Parker, is a graduate of Smith College and one of the most popular girls on her class. She is a decidedly accomplished girl, being greatly interested in art and is a fine pianist. Mr. Honeyman is the eldest son of Mrs. Jessie M. Honeyman, and a brother of Bruce Honeyman and Miss Ruth Honeyman. The wedding will be a very quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Honeyman, after their trip, will live on a ranch near Ilwaco.

A great deal of zest has characterized the rehearsals the past week for the 1840 party, which is to be given Wednesday evening at Murlark Hall for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange. Mrs. Holt C. Wilson has been indefatigable in her efforts to make the affair a pronounced success and in turn the matrons have lent the heartiest co-operation. The sixteen girls who will appear in the Mariposa Danna are decidedly graceful and will make a charming appearance in their picturesque yellow tulle frocks worn by the belles of the war period. The first rehearsal for the Maypole dance took place yesterday afternoon at Murlark Hall. This will be a pretentious affair as 200 in all will take part, attired in pretty tarleton gowns of various hues which will be worn with the quaint low dressed collars. Old cameos will be resurrected for the event, which will be one of the most unique that has been given in some years. Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and Mrs. John K. Kollock will lead the Maypole dances, introducing several cotillon figures. To correct an erroneous impression, it will not be obligatory to appear in this 1840 costume, except for those taking part in the two dances. Following is a list of the patronesses: Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mrs. T. L. Eliot, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Miss Henrietta Failing, Mrs. H. L. Corbett, Mrs. Tom Kerr, Mrs. Marcus Fleischner and Mrs. C. F. Beebe.
