

change will be given tomorrow afternoon at the quarters at 133 Tenth street, which will no doubt, as in former years, be largely attended.

Mrs. R. L. Edwards and daughter Miss Eloise, of Alameda, Cal., are at the Cornelia, where they will remain for a fortnight or more. After removing from Portland several years ago, Captain Edwards and family resided in New York City for some time, where Miss Eloise specialized on the piano. Her playing is characterized by exquisite expression and great power. She will be heard at an occasional private musicale during her stay.

An honor well worth while and entirely deserved came to T. S. McGrath last week, when he was selected as presiding judge of the Spokane horse show held in that city under the auspices of the Spokane Riding and Driving Association, in connection with the Spokane Interstate Fair. The Portland Hunt Club feels itself honored in the choice of its president for this responsible position, which has proved to be decidedly advantageous to the Portland Horse Show, which opens next Thursday. The presence of Judge McGrath at the Spokane affair served to create a great deal of interest there in the Portland show and a number of guests and a considerable number of visitors are expected as a consequence.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Campbell are planning a motor trip through California.

About the middle of November the Scottish Rite Masons will begin their series of "at homes" for the season of 1908-9, a continuation of annual events which have been successful the past five years. These brethren of the thirty-second degree will have general charge; Dr. C. C. Newcomb, chairman; E. S. Josselyn, secretary; W. K. Kinzler, N. J. Levinson, H. P. Palmer, secretary; V. A. Avery, treasurer, and E. J. Jones. Following the established precedent, only members of the order and their sons will be on the invitation list. Among the entertainments for the winter there will probably be one evening devoted entirely to music, and it will not be a stereotyped concert. The affairs will all be given at the Cathedral at Morrison and Lowndes streets, an edifice that lends itself most charmingly to big social events.

Mrs. Joseph Macqueen has returned from a fortnight's visit at Seaside.

A number of Portland society people are preparing to spend the winter in Southern California—many of them going to the Del Monte Hotel, where they can play golf all winter. San Francisco society folks played "As You Like It" on the lawn yesterday to a large audience. The management of the hotel is arranging for a mid-winter golf tournament in which a number of Portland golfers will participate.
