Just how the Horse Show will close financially for the Hunt Club will not be known for several days, but whether the club has to delve into its exchequer to meet the expenses, or whether there will be a balance on the right side of the ledger when the accounts are all settled, the Hunt Club can well make the proud boast that the show it gave was the best horse horse show ever held on the Coast. This is the statement that was made by several out-of-town visitors who have attended horse shows on the Coast. Tracey C. Becker, special assistant to the Attorney-General, who has never missed a horse show in the East, said last night that the Portland show was the best he had ever seen outside of New York and Chicago and he compared it very favorably with these two great shows.

Local People Win Many Prizes.

Another thing that will please the local exhibitors. Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter leads in the list of blue ribbon winners, having 12 to her credit. Mrs. John Considine, of Seattle, whose entry list and fine driving added greatly to the show, is second on the list with 10 blue ribbons. Miss Bernice Baker, of Tacoma, and D. E. Fredrick are next on the list with eight firsts. Paul Wessinger, whose entries were in the speedway and light harness horse classes, only won six blue ribbons as did Otto Breyman, whose only entry was the clever timber topper ridden by William Walter's Frank. James Nicol, who entered many horses just to help out the saddle and hunter classes, carried off four blues and last night when Mrs. Nicol won the blue with Thistle and Laddie in the saddle tandem class and when Mr. Nicol won with the same pair in the class for pairs, the awards were greeted with the applause of the entire audience.

Little Miss Helen Wadsworth Farrell, daughter of J. D. Farrell, of Seattle, carried home with her three blue ribbons. Her riding and driving here were distinctive features of the show, just as were the riding and driving of Master J. W. Considine, also of Seattle.

It was the banner crowd of the show that visited the Oriental building yesterday afternoon and evening. Being Saturday and no school, the boxes that lined the oval in the center of the building contained children, smartly garbed and full of genuine youthful enthusiasm.

Ponies Interest Children.

What interested the kiddies most in the afternoon programme were the pony classes and harness classes driven by children. Being young and familiar with the tots who rode, they gave vent to their admiration with long and loud applause.

In the evening, of course, there was the same display of millinery, and the same dashing display of handsome horses in the ring. The evening programme was a large one, but the judges, whose work through the show has virtually been above criticism, was on the same high standard that has characterized their awarding from the beginning. One thing is sure, there was less criticism on the way the blue ribbons were distributed this year than last, especially in the classes where appointments and horses both counted in the awards.

The first blue ribbon of the afternoon went to little Miss Katherine Kerr, with her pony Peggy, and in class 51, also for ponies ridden by children, little Miss Helen Wadsworth Farrell, of Seattle, won the blue with her toppy little pony Clover. In the pair of trotters D. E. Frederick, of Seattle, again took the blue, with Hazel and Helen, two very fast and very handsome horses. In the class for saddle horses suitable to carry 160 pounds, the blue went to R. H. Jenkins, making two blue ribbons he has won with Iva J.

Miss Leadbetter Gets Another Blue.

Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter's pair, Lady Tuck and Lord Nip, was awarded the blue in the ladies' phaeton class, over the pair driven and owned by Miss Bernice Baker. Mrs. Leadbetter's handsome blacks were admirably driven by Miss Sally J. Leadbetter. Miss Leadbetter has a fine pair of hands and her handling of this spirited pair was a sight well worth looking at. Miss Baker shows to much better advantage on horseback than she does as a whip.

The judges had their work cut out for them in placing the blue in the class for pairs of trotters, for the rivalry between Samuel Elmore's pair and those owned by Mr. Frederick was very keen. Mr. Frederick won the blue, with Mr. Elmore's pair getting the red. Scott Brooke's pair was third and those driven and owned by C. W. Embody received the white.

There was also keen competition in the class for saddle horses to carry 160 pounds. This was the first time that Mrs. H. C. Wortman's new purchase, Peep o' Day, was shown. Miss Baker won the blue with Highland Gaines, and Peep o' Day, ridden by Miss Wortman, won the red, with the yellow going to Johnny Moore. Peep o' Day is an exceptionally fine animal, but she was handicapped at this show because shortly after the mare arrived from California she was taken sick. For a time Mrs. Wortman despaired of being able to show her at all.

Mrs. John W. Considine, of Seattle, captured another blue with Sunshine in class 18. Miss Helen Farrell was second with The Premier and Mrs. James Nicol won the yellow with Laddie. Mrs. Considine also won the blue with the same mare in the class for single horses to be driven by a lady.

Mrs. Leadbetter's pair of blacks, driven by Miss Sally Leadbetter, showed alone in the ladies' phaeton class, because the entries made by Andrew Laidlaw, of Spokane, failed to arrive at the show, owing to a misunderstanding about their shipping.

In the class for saddlers to carry 180 pounds, F. W. Leadbetter won the blue, with Bessie L., adding another blue to his already long list. Wallace L., owned by J. P. Porter, of Vancouver, and ridden by Dr. A. C. Froom, was another horse that has carried off all of the blues in the classes in which he has been shown, save in the jumping class, in which he won the red.

Frank, Otto Breyman's timber-topper, won the blue in the class for horses suitable to become hunters. William Walters jumped the big bay and he cleared the bars each time he was sent at them without tipping the brush as he sailed over it.

FINISH IS BRILLIANT

Society Crowds Boxes at Last Horse Show Programme.

WAGE-EARNERS IN RING

Contrast Between Jeweled Occupants of Boxes and Animals Which Make Position Possible Is Marked—Spectacular Event.

As the center of interest the work horse took the place of society's pet quadruped at the horse show last night. After an afternoon and an evening of brilliant events, the animal of real life was given an opportunity to show what he could do in the ring and his feats proved one of the main attractions of the show. A number of rigs were entered by local firms, and were driven by the men who manipulate the reins for a livelihood. The skill of drivers was never better shown than in the handling of the lines within the small enclosure, and applause was frequent.

A feature of the matinee yesterday was the number of children's parties. Groups, chaperoned by mothers or other adult members of the respective families, occupied most of the boxes and a number were in the balconies. Several parties of young people also occupied boxes last night.

Those occupying boxes at the afternoon programme were as follows:

1 and 2—Mrs. C. J. Hutchinson, Mrs. W. L. Archambeau, Mrs. R. McBride, Miss Hutchinson, Miss Lawffer, Miss W. Chance.

HIT WHITE SLAVE TRADE

Noted Women Physicians Decry Startling Things They Vouch For. Bill of Health Needed in Marriages.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The statement that a report in course of preparation to be submitted to the United States Government will reveal tremendous vested interests which deal with the white slave traffic, was made at the afternoon session of the American National Woman's Suffrage Association today by the Rev. Anna Garlin Spencer, of New York.

"There are persons high in the governments of several countries," declared Mrs. Spencer, "who have had shady transactions in the traffic of which I speak."

Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton, a Delaware representative from the American Society for Sanitary and Moral Prophylaxis, described the terrible inroads of scourges due to immorality and the necessity of instilling into the minds of the youngest children a pure conception of the truths of life.

Mrs. Charlotte Gilman, of New York, said that every marriage certificate should be accompanied by a bill of health from a physician under state authority.

Mrs. Florence Kelley, of New York, thought there should be a stricter enforcement of the laws already on the statute books. "It is a pitiful, a shameful thing" said Mrs. Kelley, "to see the reluctance with which the court officials and prosecuting attorneys of the state take up cases wherein the victim has been a girl of tender years."

HOPE OF NORTH CAROLINA

Republican Candidate Tells Taft Effect of Visit.

SALISBURY, N. C., Oct. 17.—Judge Taft today put much courage into the breasts of J. Ellwood Cox, banker and manufacturer, of High Point, nominee for Governor on the Republican ticket, and C. F. Toms, of Hendersonville, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor.

"Your visit to North Carolina gives me the firm belief that not only will you carry the state, but that the state ticket will be elected," was what Mr. Cox told Judge Taft as he and his running-mate joined the Taft special. "We are sure of electing two, and there is a possibility of electing one more Republican Congressman," he added.

In outlining the situation to Mr. Taft, Mr. Cox said that he was nominated unanimously, and that he had made a campaign of the state, making business the strict issue.

"The negro question has been eliminated," he added, "by an amendment to the state constitution, which it is estimated will limit the negro vote to 5000 in the state. This was the action of the Democrats, who declared that they were not disfranchising the negro by enfranchising the whites."

This information caused Judge Taft to add an expression of satisfaction that he had taken his Southern swing. He spoke briefly at Statesville and at this place, and during the day and evening will address meetings at High Point and Greensboro, in this state, and at Danville and Richmond, Va.

At Statesville Mr. Taft said:

"Complaint is very often heard on the part of your people that North Carolina is not given her part in the administration of the Government. She is not. She has able men, but as long as you are going to vote for the Democratic ticket and the Republican party is in power, I don't see how those gentlemen who do the voting can expect to share in the power. In other words, let them vote as they think and then we will wipe out sectional lines."

At Salisbury the candidate argued that many of the industries of the state would be destroyed "unless we continue to have a protective tariff."
