MARRIAGE NOT IMMINENT

Abruzzi's Visit to Friend at Turin Starts False Alarm-Reports of Early Wedding Declared Premature.

TURIN. Oct. 24 .- Representatives of TURIN. Oct. 24.—Representatives of the press are keeping close watch on the movements of the Duke of the Abruzzi. They are practically besigning the Cisterna Palace, where he resides, in the fear that he may get away without their knowing it.

This moraing the Duke left the palace in a motor car. Immediately the rumor spread that he was going to hoard a train at a small Italian town near Turin and that he actually had begun his secret journey to the United States. As a matter of fact, the Duke went to visit a personal friend, a member of the Senate, with whom he remained for several hours.

An excellent authority today characterized as premature and positively incorrect the report that the marriage of the Duke with Miss Catherine Eikins was imminent.

Three Warships as Escort.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—The Rome corres pendent of the Times says in a dis-patch that a division of three battle-ships, including the Regina Helena was ships, including the Regima Holena was at present being formed to visit France, to be used estensibly for the purpose of maneuvers. It is believed in Rome, however, that the real purpose of this naval mave is to have the ships conduct the Duke and his future wife from New York to Italy.
