

PICTURES BY PORTLAND ARTIST EXHIBITED AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Collection of Works of Louis Akin, Now Famous Painter, Has Attracted Attention Throughout Country.

LOUIS AKIN.

FEW of the many art lovers of Portland are aware that a collection of pictures which has attracted the greatest attention throughout the art centers of the United States, has been on exhibition here for the past two months.

Not all of those who have seen the pictures know that a Portland boy painted them, and that he has won for himself a high place in the field of art.

Louis Akin, whose name is familiar to many Portlanders, left here 13 years ago to take up the study of art in New York and the Eastern schools.

enjoying the well-deserved praises of critics all over the country. His large canvases are being exhibited in New York's most exclusive galleries.

Mr. Akin left his New York studio five years ago to live among the simple people of the desert, the Pueblo Indians, and he has devoted his time to making a study of them and the country in which they live.

His studies of the Hopi Indian, the handsome people who for centuries have lived in the same simple, happy way, are exceedingly interesting, and show how the tribe exists today, preserving its ancient traditions and prehistoric customs.

Mr. Akin's pictures, which hang in the rooms of the Portland Commercial Club, will be sent to Chicago early this week for the Fall exhibits, and it will be well worth the while of those who have not had an opportunity of seeing them heretofore, to do so now.

For the Newest in Wearing Apparel Visit "the Style Store"

"-if it's in town the 'Style Store' has it"

This is heard so often regarding the very newest apparel creations that it is coming to be proverbial. And it's not only that the "Style Store" has the handsomest stock of very latest garments, renewed continually week by week from the East, but that the customers find the store so roomy, light, airy and pleasant, the salespeople so efficient and obliging and the entire house system so conducive to satisfaction that shopping becomes a pure delight.

Dressy Gowns

We've done your dress thinking, all you've to do is to come and make your selection. A glorious sight for woman's beauty-loving nature is the new shipment of princess dresses and princess effects in messaline and satin Duchesse, also in soft wools, such as panama and challis. The yokes, and in many cases the sleeves, are lace embellished—the latter, the charming mousquetaire style. All dainty neutral tints, and suitable for both afternoon and evening wear.

Millinery to Correspond

Unless you've seen these very newest hats, you've no idea how lovely the winter styles are to be. Particularly good and wholly different are those with the new broad flat crowns. Plumes and Persian trimming are used effectively on the dress hats of satin and velvet.

FRENCH FELT STREET HATS: Match your new costume with one of these and be perfectly dressed; we have all the new shades, in innumerable shapes, with fancy leather or wing trimming—every one distinctive.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS WAY DOWN: If you've any wants in this line, take advantage of our conclusion sale—still on—3 1/3 to 50 per cent discount all through.

HORSE SHOW AWARDS MADE

HUNT CLUB DISTRIBUTES CUPS TO MANY WINNERS.

Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter Heads List With Eleven Trophies and Mrs. J. W. Considine Is Second.

The work of distributing the cups that were won by the exhibitors at the Portland Hunt Club, was completed yesterday by President T. S. McGrath and A. M. Cronin. One part of the task that was assigned to President McGrath and Mr. Cronin was the fact that they were able to give a cup to each of the blue ribbon winners of a program that contained 83 entries and all of them filled except two classes. The fact that each winner, in addition to a blue ribbon, also was awarded one of the handsome silver trophies, speaks well for the splendid response made by private in-

WINS FAVORABLE NOTICE IN COMPETITION WITH BEST HORSES IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

DR. B. E. WRIGHT'S MULLIGAN, RED-RIBBON WINNER AT PORTLAND HORSE SHOW.

Dr. B. E. Wright was one of the many exhibitors at the second annual Hunt Club Horse Show, and while he did not win the highly-coveted blue ribbon with his splendid pacer Mulligan, he was more than pleased with the showing that his horse made. The class in which Dr. Wright exhibited Mulligan was made up, not only of the crack pacers owned in Portland, but by those of D. E. Frederick, of Seattle, and they were indeed a classy lot. The blue went to Paul Wessinger's Hal B., and Dr. Wright had the pleasure of having the red ribbon pinned on Mulligan. Dr. Wright's roadster is a handsome brown and is a horse of splendid individuality.

Golf All Winter at DEL MONTE CALIFORNIA

The Paradise of the Pacific. 125 miles south of San Francisco. Affords every facility for golf, tennis, riding, driving, motoring, and all other sports, under ideal conditions. Superb climate; beautiful scenery. Every luxury and convenience of the best city hotels. Stopover privileges on all through railroad tickets. Illustrated literature on request. Chester W. Kelley, special Northwestern representative, Savoy Hotel, Seattle, until October 20. Rates and reservations made. H. R. WARNEE, Manager.

Dominant Waist Styles

The separate Waist remains the same serviceable and attractive standby, though the styles are distinctly different, as evidenced by the characteristic superb modes now shown at "The House of Tone."

The materials are soft silk, messaline and satin; the colors the new blues, greens, rose, navy and black. Each Waist gracefully suggests the refinement of good taste, together with a newness and freshness of style features wholly pleasing. Long mousquetaire sleeves are much in evidence.
