ADELA VERNE, WHO HAS WON HIGH PRAISES IN THE EAST.

ONE of the most interesting events of November will be the invitation to the Scottish Rite Masons at their beautiful cathedral on Morrison and Lowndale streets. It is, perhaps, one of their most ambitious undertakings, for the star of the occasion will be the brilliant pianist, Adela Verne, who has recently set the New York critics agog with her unusual playing. Miss Verne is on tour through the Northwest and her only Portland appearance will be at the music on November 12, Thursday evening. She opened the season in New York and of her splendid work the Musical Leader said: "Whatever else the New York Association may be debited with, there will always remain to its honor the credit of presenting Adela Verne to the Eastern public, and it can be stated without reserve that here is the most amazing woman pianist that America is likely to see next season or for many seasons ahead. She created a veritable sensation at the concert which closed the season."

For versatility of powers and natural endowments Miss Verne approaches the uncanny something called "Gehnu." The extraordinary arrangement of programs alone would have betokened that here was some one out of the ordinary in piano playing. Miss Verne opened the concert with a profoundly impressive reading of the organ prelude and fugue of Bach, arranged by Liszt, and she gave it with such a splendid poise and mastery of grip of its dignity and grandeur, that members of the audience involuntarily turned to one another in wonderment as to the identity of this new pianist.

Williams, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Miss Lola Stannard, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and Dan J. G. Gill, of Lebanon, as best man. The bride was charmingly attired in white messaline trimmed with baby Irish lace and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, while the bridesmaid looked beautiful in pink messaline and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.
