WAS POWERFUL IN DEBATE

E. R. Skipworth, One of Few Opponents Able to Turn Laugh on Hayden and Secure Prompt Victory Before Jury

SALEM, Or., Oct. 31.—(Special)—Benjamin Hayden, whose death occurred in this city last Thursday, was one of the last of that small band of pioneer lawyers who were known as the circuit riders.

He was the quickest man at repartee I ever knew and about the best judge of character. He never hit over the heads of his jury. This statement by Ex-Judge W. P. Lord sets forth one of the secrets of Hayden's remarkable success at the bar.

His Farm His Law Office. The work he chose for himself and for which he was best fitted was that of trying questions of fact before a jury.

Invincible in Debate. Hayden's mind was one of the strongest and most vigorous Oregon has ever known.

Hayden's power as a debater was frequently demonstrated during the legislative session of 1870, when he was speaker.

to call some other member to the chair and take the floor himself in support of the views he entertained.

Democrat, but Loyal to Union. He was not only honest in business affairs but was intellectually honest.

Through Mr. Hayden was scarcely excelled by any man in the power to use vituperative language effectively.

Wins by Attack on Attorney. Many years ago one Jeff Matley was on trial accused of the murder of Bartholomew Coffey.

Outgeneraled by Skipworth. After all the evidence had been introduced Skipworth began his address to the jury.

How I Got Back My Strength

BY A. WELLMAN

"These are the worst symptoms of weakness," said Dr. Soakem, after I told him of my condition.

I had come to his office hoping to get something that would relieve me of the suffering which took all pleasure out of my life.

"Here is some medicine that will fix you up," said Dr. Soakem. "This stimulant will give you energy and take away that tired, debilitated feeling of which you complain."

"You will find directions on the bottles, and after you have used all the medicines you can have the bottles refilled at the drug store."

Needless to say, I made many trips to the drug store getting those bottles refilled. But the medicine "fixed me up" all right.

The stimulant gave me energy for a while, but after I had taken it for a few days I had to double the dose to get the same effect.

I had become disgusted with drugs and was determined to try something else before I gave up.

While reading a paper one day I came upon an advertisement of a doctor who cures by electricity.

This book is one of the most interesting works I have ever read, and deals with human life in a readable way.

After reading his book I called on Dr. Hall, whom I found only too willing to give me all the information desired.

Dr. Hall showed me letters of praise from all classes of people whom he had cured with his Electro-Vigor.

I was so told you of the good work Electro-Vigor has done for me.

Characteristic language and line of argument as well. From his position in the hall Hayden heard the beginning of the prosecution and then warned the jury of the arts which Mr. Hayden would employ in an effort to mislead them.

"I commenced with Electro-Vigor about five weeks ago, and as a consequence am getting stronger every day.

"After three months' use of Electro-Vigor the losses are completely stopped and my power has returned. I will increase your treatment at any time."

I used Electro-Vigor just thirty days, and followed Dr. Hall's rules closely for diet and exercise.

The nerve medicine relieved all pain for a time, but like the stimulant it, too, lost its power.

I had become disgusted with drugs and was determined to try something else before I gave up.
