tained at dinner on Friday evening in honor of Mr. William R. Moore, of New York. Mr. Moore will be well remembered for his artistic exhibit for the Heinze art metal shops at the Lewis and Clark Centennial, at which time he made many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Platt's guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Miss Monroe, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Kathleen Burns, Mr. Walter Beebe, Sigfried M. Unander and J. C. Carson.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage Wednesday afternoon in Oakland of Miss Bernice Bishop Aldrich to Richard Stafford Bosworth. Mr. Bosworth is a nephew of Mrs. Richard Loring, with whom he lived for many years. The bride was married at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Dunning, of Oakland. She is a sister of Arnold Aldrich, who motored north last Summer with Mr. Bosworth, and a niece of Mrs. Willard Barton, of San Francisco, whose husband was formerly the president of the Bohemian Club of that city, and one of its most famous raconteurs. Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth left for a motor trip through Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raley, of Irvington, have returned from a 7000-mile motor trip through the East, which consumed about three months. Mr. and Mrs. Raley purchased their touring car in South Bend, motoring from there through the New England states, and on their return as far west as Des Moines, Ia. Particularly interesting was the tour through the White Mountains and the Adirondacks, through the Berkshire Hills, New York, Atlantic City, Newport and up the Hudson. The roads from Maine to Boston were especially enjoyed, as they are practically like one long boulevard.

A matinee benefit in honor of the distinguished American actress, Rose Eytinge, is to be given at the Heilig Thursday, November 19, at which time many of the most prominent local artists will appear. Mrs. Minn Crollius Gleason is arranging the performance, which will no doubt tax the capacity of the house. Owing to the popularity of Rose Eytinge, a brilliant woman, who was acknowledged as the greatest emotional actress of her day, success is a foregone conclusion.

EVENTS OF WEEK.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club fet with Mrs. William F. Amos, 853 Hawthorne avenue. "Dickens" was the study. Quotations from Pickwick were given in response to the roll call. Mrs. H. J. Jackson gave a paper on "Dickens' Life and Personality." Mrs. A. A. Bailey gave a critical sketch of Pickwick Papers, with readings as illustrations. Mrs. L. M. Miles gave a carefully prepared study of David Copperfield. Mrs. Merwin-Pugh gave an excellent critical review of the same work, which was illustrated by reading of chapter I, given by Mrs. H. L. Verse. The club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. A. J. Stiles, 827 Gantenbein avenue, at 2 o'clock. Take U car, get off at Failing street.

"La Gale Douzain," (Five Hundred Club), gave a Halloween party at the home of Miss Laura Van Horn, 392 East Taylor street, Saturday night, October 31. The parlors were arranged with Autumn leaves, ferns and an abundance of pennants, while the dining-room was a profusion of yellow and green streamers, Autumn leaves and jack o' lanterns. The table was beautifully decorated with roses, apples and popcorn. Covers were laid for 24. The centerpiece was a huge pumpkin, filled with red apples. Gipsy fortune telling, games and music made an enjoyable evening, followed by a luncheon of pumpkin pie, Oregon sweet cider, apples and candy. The prizes were awarded to Ethel Stiles and Earl Knowles. Those present were: Misses Era Strickler, Edith Bern, Lilla Winters, Persis Billings, Ruby Gilbaugh, Bertha Brehaut, Isabel Gilbaugh, Lenta Stahley, Eva Mulkey, Laura Van Horn, Ethel Stiles, Messrs. Guy E. Dobson, Wescott A. Carpenter, Earl Knowles, Edward Cable, William Mohr, Dugan Maris, Claude Patty, Bartlett Cole, John Tees, Edward Wedemeger, Loyal McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn.

On Thursday, November 5, an interesting concert was rendered at St. Helens Hall by the two new instructors, Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Abbott. Miss Abbott is a pupil of the eminent Australian pianist, Ernest Hutcheson, with whom she has studied in Baltimore. Her playing was a revelation to the audience, who did not look for the poise, musicianship and finish displayed. Miss Abbott has a rich, velvety tone, ample temperament and technique. The Brahms Ballade was most satisfying. The Liszt arrangement of "Hark, Hark, the Lark," and the Paginni Etude were enthusiastically applauded. Miss Abbott responded with Glaen's "Papillons."

Mrs. Lindsay has a lyric soprano voice of great sweetness and pleasing timbre and contributed materially to the enjoyment of the evening. Her songs were selected. Perhaps none was better received than "Lend Me Thy Fillet, Love," by Howard Brockway, a rising young American composer. Mrs. Lindsay's interpretations of the Dell'Acqua Villanelle was especially charming. It is to be hoped that these two young musicians may often be heard in Portland.

Following is the programme:

(a) Prelude and Gavotte from Suite, in D minor, for piano.....D'Albert
(b) Ballade in G minor.....Brahms
Miss Abbott.

(a) "Come Sweet Morning," for soprano.....Old French
(b) "Songs My Mother Taught Me".....Dvorak
(c) The Dandelion".....Salter
Mrs. Lindsay.

(a) A Serenade, for piano.....Brockway
(b) "Hark, Hark the Lark".....Schubert-Liszt
Miss Abbott.

(a) "Lend Me Thy Fillet, Love," for piano.....Brockway
(b) "Villanelle".....Dell'Acqua
Mrs. Lindsay.

Etude in E flat, for piano...Paganini-Liszt
Miss Abbott.

One of Dr. Emil Erma's very successful piano recitals was given on Friday, at which time Miss Jennie Rasmussen, who belongs to the Erma Amateurs, presided. Following is the programme given:

Fantasie in D minor (Wilhelm Stenhammer, 1871), Swedish; mazurka (Camille Saint-Saens, 1835), French; serenade (Eduard Lassen, 1820), Danish; variations sur en theme original (Cecile Chaminade, 1861), French; romanze (Louis V. Saar, 1868), Dutch; fantastic dance (Eduard McDowell, 1861-1908), American; fragments from opera "Salome" (Richard Strauss, 1864), German; concert study (Anton Strelski, 1820), English; humoresque (Peter Tchaikowsky, 1840--1893), Russian; Solvejgs song from "Peer Gynt" (Eduard Grieg, 1843-1907), Norwegian; lyric piece (Eduard Grieg); paraphrase on two "Parsifal" motives (Wagner-Enna); burlesque on the waltz, "Ach Du lieber Augustin" (Emil Enna); "March Militaire" (Emil Enna).

The Alumni Hall on Grand avenue and Clackamas street was opened to the public on Friday evening, when a large audience witnessed a fine performance of "Nino's Revenge," presented by the Lilliputian stock company. This company is composed of five talented young girls—Nita Philip, Rose Philip, Josephine Burns Hoben, Helen Southard and Dorothy Connolly. They responded to several curtain calls. Mrs. W. L. Philip managed the stage and Miss Elizabeth Hoben played several charming piano numbers between acts. At the close of the last act a programme of specialties was given, one number being particularly pleasing, the song, "When Love Is Young," from "Brown of Harvard," by Miss Nita Philip, soloist, and chorus. The costuming was very effective. Miss Philip was in white with pretty hat, while the chorus girls were in red. Before leaving the hall the girls were asked to give another performance in the near future for charity. After the entertainment refreshments were served by the Ladies' Altar Society of Holy Rosary Church.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church was entertained last Wednesday afternoon by the president, Mrs. E. Waldfogel, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Gray, at their home, 621 East Washington street. After devotional exercises, led by Mrs. B. F. Morden, the regular business of the society was transacted, followed by a short programme, given by Mrs. E. P. Northrup, Mrs. J. B. Candlish, Mrs. O. G. Hughson and Mrs. J. O. Goltra. Mrs. W. H. Saylor, who was a guest of the society, gave an interesting account of the annual branch meeting at Spokane, in October. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, the pastor, spoke encouragingly on the beneficial effects of the missionary spirit in a church. A song by Miss Ethel Ballard followed. Later the hostess served refreshments and the 40 ladies present spent a delightful social hour before adjourning to meet next month at the home of Mrs. Wilson, mother of Dr. Wilson.

A delightful birthday party was given by Miss Grace Baird to celebrate her 16th birthday on Thursday evening, in the Y. W. C. A. parlors. The Club of Mayflowers, of which Miss Baird is a member, was all invited with a few young men friends. The decorations were all in red and yellow streamers, bright Autumn leaves and pumpkins. The light was furnished by strings of Chinese lanterns festooned about the room. Music and lively games with a grand march led by I. L. Larrimore, one of the directors of the club, made a delightful evening.

Mrs. Baird, mother of the young hostess, who was herself most gracious and cordial, and Miss Hutchinson, one of the club directors, helped the young girls receive their guests. At 10 o'clock dainty refreshments were served—ice cream and cake of several kinds. After this the party broke up with some lively cheering for Miss Baird, to which the girls responded with their club yells.

The members of the Portia Club spent a delightful afternoon with Mrs. H. M. Cake at her home, 673 Hancock street, last Tuesday. A pleasant hour was devoted to entertaining topics of discussion, including the recent visit of Mr. and Mrs. Cake to the Orient. Many interesting features of the trip were related by the hostess, and the guests learned much that was new and entertaining about the quaint customs and dress of the almond-eyed Orientals. Five hundred was played as usual, Mrs. John Manning carrying off the first prize, a beautiful vase, and Mrs. W. M. Cake being a close second, for which she received a brass candleholder. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. W. M. Cake. The club will be entertained on November 17 by Mrs. G. B. Cellars at her home, 324 East Eleventh street North.
