NOVEMBER WHEAT SHIPMENTS BEGIN

British Ship Wynnstay Takes Full Cargo for United Kingdom.

MARKET IS FALLING OFF

Exports, Foreign, for This Month Will Be Short—Schooner Crescent Takes Lumber for Guaymas Mex.—Marine Notes.

November shipments of grain, foreign, opened yesterday with the clearance of the British ship Wynnstay, Captain Williams, for the United Kingdom with 90,377 bushels of wheat, valued at $85,860. The vessel is outbound for orders and is the first one on the list for November exports of wheat. The regular Pacific liner Nicomedia got away the second day of the month with upwards of 53,000 barrels of flour.

There has been a considerable falling off in the grain shipments since October. This is largely due to the fact that prices are lower in Liverpool and London than in Chicago and also to the extraordinary amount set afloat during October. During that month ships were loaded and cleared as fast as they were ready.

Offshore lumber business opened with the clearance of the schooner Crescent, which is loaded with 1,701,698 feet, bound for Guyamas, Mexico. There has been a great falling off in this business of late but the coastwise business has been picking up and there is a bright outlook for good lumber trade to California during the next six months.

C. Jolivet, of the French ship-broking firm of C. Farvacque & Company, has returned to Portland from San Francisco. Mr. Jolivet reports shipping conditions at the Bay City as practically the same as at Portland. There is still for shipment in California about 120,000 tons of barley and charters have been made for only about five or six cargoes. He looks for a revival in charters to California ports shortly. In that case there will be a brightening of the local market.

RATE WAR ON TO ORIENT

Japanese Line Will Reduce Freight Rates 17 Per Cent.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 7.—Japanese shipping companies have failed to make any agreement with regard to trans-Pacific freights, and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha has withdrawn from the Japanese conference and decided to make its own rates.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha will make a general reduction of about 17 per cent under the rates charged by the other steamship lines on the Pacific.

Short Catch for Whaling Fleet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—No vessel of the whaling fleet succeeded in getting north of Point Barrow, and the catch this season was, in consequence, the smallest in years. The steamer Beluga, carrying 15,000 pounds of whalebone, the yield of five bowheads, arrived yesterday from Unalaska, bringing the information that the five remaining vessels of the fleet now on the way had a total catch of 19 whales. For weeks the Beluga was in the midst of Arctic gales in a sea thickly filled with ice, and the other vessels encountered very bad weather. May 15, while pursuing a whale, a boat was smashed by a leviathan's tail.

Ship's Carpenter Is Paid Off.

W. W. Roberts, carpenter of the British ship Leyland Brothers, Captain Morgan, was paid off yesterday, and in custody of an immigration officer left for Seattle, where he will embark for Australia. Roberts is suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis. He shipped at San Francisco in January, 1907, and had coming to him on discharge over $500. He recently came into an estate in Australia.

MONTESANO, Wash., Nov. 7.—(Special)—The schooner May Dodge, which has been laid up at this port for some time, sailed yesterday for San Pedro, Cal., with a cargo of 400,000 feet of lumber from the docks of the Montesano Lumber & Manufacturing Company.

WOMAN MAY BE BIGAMIST

Countess Rathlou, Arrested in St. Louis, Has Shady Record.

The divorced wife of Dr. R. A. Collins, of Portland, who was arrested and "mugged" by the St. Louis police for attempting the "badger" game on a drummer at St. Louis in co-operation with Count Rathlou, of Denmark, who claims to be her husband, may be guilty of bigamy if she is really married to the Count. She eloped from Portland last July with the fellow. Dr. Collins got a divorce only a short time ago in the Circuit Court, alleging cruelty. If the woman did not get a divorce in some way before marrying the Danish nobleman, then she is liable to prosecution.

The divorce was granted on the grounds that the woman was of a most jealous nature, that she treated Collins in a cruel manner and that she did not take proper care of their 4-year-old child. The "royal" pair escaped prosecution at St. Louis only because the drummer wouldn't wait to prosecute the case, as stated in Friday's dispatches on the subject.

FEES MAY BE FORFEITED

Justices, Under Law, Cannot Keep Receipts From Marriages.

Attention has been called of the County Commissioners and County Auditor to the fact that under the statutes all justices of the peace must turn in money received in marriage fees. In the event it is decided to force payment of such fees received in the past and not turned in, a sum aggregating several hundred dollars would be secured, Mr. Brandes believes.

Money could be collected for a period extending back as far as the statute of limitations would permit, some six years. Justices of the Peace Bell and Olson would have to produce substantial sums, as would ex-Justices Reid and Seton and District Attorney Cameron, for the period he was Municipal Judge. The sum it is possible to collect in fees for each marriage is $5 and in many instances the magistrates have done the work for much less.

CLOSE STORES TO SEE GAME

Corvallis Business Men Will All Attend O. A. C.-Whitman Contest.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—It will be impossible to get into a place of business in this city Wednesday afternoon without the use of a kit of burglar's tools and a stick of dynamite. The occasion for the suspension of business on this day is the O. A. C.-Whitman football game. An agreement to that effect was signed today by every business man in the city.

The game to be played next Wednesday will be the only championship contest that will be fought out on the local field, and is therefore attracting much attention. This interest has been augmented by the news of the decisive victory which Whitman won over Idaho.

HOPE TO SAVE BOY

Every Effort Made to Secure New Trial for Reid.

CAREER MAY BE BLIGHTED

C. M. Idleman Declares That Lad Who Killed George DeMars Had Bright Prospects and Good Reputation.

Application for the arrest of judgment and motion for a new trial have been filed with the State Circuit Court in behalf of Jackson Reid, the 12-year-old boy who was convicted by a jury, Thursday, of being delinquent because of shooting George De Mars at the Exposition grounds last August.

Every effort is to be made to save the lad from confinement in the State Reform School, the penalty that applies to his case if the jury's verdict is allowed to stand. It is being contended that such action will blight what promises to be a bright future for the boy, as arrangements had been made to send him to his grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Reed, at Chattanooga, Tenn., where his education was to be provided for. It had been planned to send him to college when he had finished high school at Chattanooga.

Says Verdict Was Unjust.

The motion for a new trial and for arrest of judgment will be heard before Circuit Judge Gantenbein on Wednesday. C. M. Idleman, attorney for the boy, says that the verdict cannot stand, as it was clearly outside the evidence. And in addition, the boy was never indicted by grand jury, whereas the new amendment to the state constitution provides that indictment by grand jury is necessary.

"The jurors, in returning their verdict, did so in order that the boy might be held under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court," said Mr. Idleman, in discussing the case yesterday. "I have talked with two of them and they told me that they did not think the boy a bad boy, but felt he was surrounded by bad influences on Government Island at the Exposition grounds, where he lives with his mother and stepfather. The verdict these jurors handed down says 'guilty as charged,' and that practically brands the boy as a murderer. He is charged in the District Attorney's information with being a delinquent because of having shot and killed George De Mars, the crime being designated as murder in the first degree."

DeMars Running Toward Boy.

The testimony in the case clearly showed that De Mars was running toward the boy when the fatal shot was fired. And while the boy should not have been allowed to handle a gun, so it is admitted by all parties concerned, yet he was trying to defend himself and did not have vicious intentions.

A number of letters have been received by Mr. Idleman showing the good reputation which the Reid boy had at Chattanooga. Letters from United States Senators H. Clay Evans and J. B. Frazier, County Judge Seth M. Walker, Rev. J. W. Bachman, Major C. R. Evans and other prominent Chattanooga people speak of the boy in the highest terms. The Reids came here from that place three years ago. As in Portland, Jackson Reid attended Sunday school there and was studious and well-behaved at school. His father died five days after arriving in Portland and the mother remarried. The boy's grandmother, on his mother's side, Mrs. C. A. Reed, is spoken of in the communications referred to as a leading woman of Chattanooga. She has written here stating her willingness to take charge of the boy.

Acquitted of Assault Charge.

J. A. Hogan, a man of 55 residing at Sellwood, was acquitted of a charge of assaulting 5-year-old Irene Richardson, when the case was heard before a Circuit Court jury, yesterday afternoon. The child identified him as her assailant but Hogan set up an alibi, proving by three men that he was carousing in a saloon at the time the assault occurred.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW OF PUBLIC MARKET PORTLAND OREGON.

THE PORTLAND PUBLIC MARKET

The breaking of ground for this building marks the beginning of a new era for the people of Portland in the matter of the purchase of household supplies.

It likewise means greater opportunities for dealers in the various lines.

The experience of other cities shows conclusively that such institutions have become almost public necessities, and that where properly conducted are uniformly successful enterprises.

In the neighboring city of Seattle a Public Market was opened less than one year ago, and one has only to see how it is now continually crowded with patrons, and to learn that stall space is already at a premium, to be convinced that such an institution is not only needed in Portland, but that it will be an unqualified success.

The Seattle Market occupies a remodeled and incommodious building, which, moreover, is located in a place not easily accessible from all points, while the new Portland Market will be in a modern, commodious, fireproof building erected for the special purpose and after the most approved plans, and will be located where it can be easily reached from everywhere. It will cover the block bounded by Fifth, Sixth, Glisan and Hoyt streets.

The basement will contain 800,000 cubic feet of space and will be devoted to cold storage.

The first floor will comprise 208 stalls, all to be occupied by dealers in provisions.

The second story Arcade, which will be reached by moving stairways, will be arranged for the handling of all kinds of household supplies, other than eatables proper, and this feature will further appeal to all housewives and to dealers in all additional lines as well.

Detailed information may be had at the offices of the company and reservations of space may now be made. Although a large number of stalls have been taken, many good locations may yet be had if applied for at once.
