WILL RECOVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Calmed by the assurance that Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney, who was shot yesterday in Judge Lawlor's courtroom while in the performance of his duty, will recover from his wound unless some unforeseen condition developed, public opinion was turned today toward the possibility of Heney's recovery.

Continue Trial Under Guard

The trial of Abraham Ruef, which was interrupted by yesterday's shooting, will be resumed Monday. It has been decided that the incident in the courtroom did not prejudice the rights of the defendant, the jury not having been present.

Keep Ruef in Custody

It is estimated that Judge Lawlor will confine Ruef in custody during the trial. Precautions have been taken to protect the judge while he is confined in the County Jail.

CAREFUL GUARD OVER TRIAL

Crowds Turn Wrath on Hearst

So relentless was this opposition that the public finally came to believe that Hearst really desired to see the prosecution fall and the grafters escape punishment. Therefore, when Haas shot Mr. Heney, the local managers of the Examiner really decided to see the part of wisdom was to prepare for attacks.

Changes Tune Completely

In this morning's Examiner, in the same editorial columns where Mr. Heney was held up to scorn or savagely lampooned, this curious editorial was printed: "Quick justice for Heney's would-be assassin—quick justice for the grafters."

Quick and Speedy Punishment

"And there must be quick and speedy punishment for the would-be assassin, for the bootlickers and grafters as well. The speed with which punishment is meted out to the man who struck down Heney will blazon to the world which which punishment shall be meted out to the grafters who made the name of San Francisco a by-word the world over."

—thinking of a Black Suit for this Winter? An Opportunity—

You cannot help but need a black suit for the Winter—appropriate for all occasions.

You want it made to your own measure—snug, clinging collar, full shoulders, draped along graceful lines to conform to your individual figure, built up with hair cloth and shrunken French canvas so that it will hold its shape in all kinds of weather.

A tailor-made suit of Black Thibet or Unfinished Worsted can be had from us this week for $20. The same quality of materials and workmanship could not be found in any shop in Portland for a cent less than $35. This is a strong statement, but it can be borne out to the letter.

One word—Columbia Tailored Clothes are hand-tailored throughout, made by the best tailors in Portland, are worn by the best dressers and give the best and most satisfactory service of any clothes ever put on a man's back.

Stop in and see the quality of these Black Thibets and Unfinished Worsted for $20.

himself at his home last night. He had retired about 11 o'clock and was awakened about an hour later by a telephone call. The receiver swung on a little stand at the side of his bed and he picked it up, fastened to a hook, hung his revolver. The arrangement was so that he could lie in bed and talk.

The Henrotin Hospital superintendent was at the other end of the wire telling Mr. Burmeister of the death of a woman patient and asking that he send for the body. Mr. Burmeister was replacing the receiver when he accidentally knocked the revolver from the hook. The weapon struck the floor, there was a flash and report and Mr. Burmeister sank back dead on his pillow beside his wife.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—"Scorn to those guilty of any foul practice in your sport," said President Roosevelt today to the students of the Episcopal High School of Virginia, near Alexandria, where he and Mrs. Roosevelt had gone by automobile to visit the school's youngest son, Quentin, at attending this winter. Standing on the muddy athletic field, with the sleet pelting down on him, the President, rebuffed the athletic events of the annual field day and before leaving made a few remarks to the schoolmaster of his son. He told them he believed in sports with all his heart and had advised the boys to play hard when they played, but do it in a fair way," said the President.

Giles.

"Mrs. Dunphy borrowed the money of Giles and gave him jewelry worth several thousand dollars to secure the loan. My sister gave Giles $2500 every week. She has paid the debt and it was right here in Missoula, at my house, that she returned to her the jewels and I am sure that everything was settled. I am positive that Mrs. Dunphy does not owe anything to Giles."
