

KAISER'S ACTION STILL DOUBTFUL

All Germany in Suspense Over Meeting With Chancellor.

HE MUST SOLVE PROBLEM

Failure of Reichstag to Act Leaves Decision With Sovereign Alone.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Emperor William is at Donaueschingen, as the hunting-guest of Prince von Puersteinberg. He is due at Kiel Monday at noon to greet a number of naval recruits.

While the agreement of the Chancellor with the position of the Reichstag and the federal government is now clearly known, the Emperor's attitude is greatly in doubt, as a result of divergent predictions.

Makes Excuse for Von Buelow.

The Greenboten, a monthly political review published under the supervision of the Foreign Office, has taken up the defense of Chancellor von Buelow, and in the current issue says:

"Consideration of German interests does not permit us to judge the oversteer of a trusted statesman as we would similar action by a clerk whose error in such a case would be unpardonable. It would be the height of absurdity to expose the Chancellor personally to examination and censure every man. The misfortune is that such a conversation ever occurred."

Decision Rests With Kaiser.

The Cologne Zeitung says that from the meeting of the Emperor and Chancellor it will be learned how far the Emperor agrees with von Buelow's viewpoint, or whether any agreement has been reached. The Reichstag has not arrived at any formal conclusion in this matter and the solution of the crisis lies today with the Emperor, upon whom all eyes are turned.

Baron von Janssch, who is a kinsman of Prince von Buelow, is in the Emperor's suite as representative of the Foreign Office. He is a man of calm and quiet judgment, to whom the Kaiser is personally attached.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN CRIES

upon runs through tackle and around the ends and line plunges. It was during one of these desperate dives by Coy, when Yale was within striking distance of the Princeton goal that Captain Dillon was struck and rendered unconscious.

Yale, as is her custom, simply played Princeton off her feet in the second half. The Orange and Black were unable to make any impression on the Yale line, while the latter players, Coy in particular, simply tore the Princeton line to pieces. The play was fast and fierce, as is shown by the number of men who were called upon to replace the regulars in Princeton's line.

Coy's Great Work.

Read tried an on-side kick, but Hilda received the ball and ran to Princeton's 45-yard line. Coy, with wonderful interference, dashed through Princeton's line, carrying the ball to within 15 yards of the Orange and Black goal. Dillon was carried off the field and Bergen took his place. Coy dashed through the Princeton line for a touchdown, but Hobbs missed goal. The score was then:

Yale 11, Princeton 0.

Soon thereafter the game ended. Both teams were covered with mud and it was almost impossible to hold the ball. The line-up:

Princeton: Pugh, H. B., ... Yale: Dowd, ...

Harvard Wins Fierce Game

Crimson Takes Stubbornly-Contested Battle in Last Half.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14.—Harvard's offensive work overcame the stubborn Dartmouth defense in the second half of their annual football match today, and by a splendid demonstration of all forms of attack the Crimson won, 8 to 0. Dartmouth fought fiercely and during the first half the rival eleven appeared evenly matched, but in the second half the superior weight of the Crimson team enabled it to pierce the Hanoverians' line for substantial gains.

The story of Harvard's single touchdown is a story of onslaught that could not be resisted. Receiving the ball on their own 25-yard line the Crimson carried it right down the field to the Dartmouth goal line.

The brunt of the work of the victorious eleven fell on the men behind the line, eight of whom played in the game. Corbett distinguished himself at left half-back, and when he had used all his strength in telling places and repeated the performance. White and Long also were ground-gainers, while Kennard's punting and Verwilt's line play were notable.

For Dartmouth, Marks at fullback played a splendid game. Repeatedly he was hurled at the Crimson line and again and again he came back to his feet. Pollard, who replaced Hawley, was also a great ground-gainer. Nearly 3,000 persons witnessed the struggle. The line-up-up follows:

Harvard: ... Dartmouth: ...

FIGHT ITHACANS TO TIE

Chicago and Cornell Play One of Season's Greatest Games.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Chicago fought an even battle with Cornell today, the score being 5 to 5 at the end of the greatest game played in the West this season. That Chicago was fortunate in its opponent was the opinion even of the most enthusiastic admirers of Stagg's athletes.

Outwheeled and outplayed on straight football in the first half, Chicago won the exhibition of speed and involved play in the second that bewildered the Ithacans and sent the ball across the Cornell goal. A triple pass negotiated by Steffen, Page and Schomberg tied the score and sent the Chicago enthusiasts into a frenzy. A heavy snow fell, coming in the second half, and seemed to disconcert the Cornell players.

KICKS FROM 53-YARD LINE

Utah Captain Adds Big Sensation to Sensational Game.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 14.—Utah's light football eleven overpowered the University of Colorado eleven this afternoon in a game remarkable for its sensational plays, including a place kick from the 53-yard line by Captain Conville, of Utah. At the end of the first half it looked as though Colorado would win easily, as two place kicks from the 25 and 42-yard lines respectively had given them an eight-point lead for the Colorado University, while Utah had failed to score.

In the second half, however, Utah played the victor's game, and in a touchdown drive five minutes after play was started and following it soon after with another Colorado, in the meantime, had secured a long forward pass and two hard line bucks, but Utah clinched the game with the same play. Conville's 53-yard place kick followed. Both sides used forward pass frequently.

MICHIGAN BADLY WHIPPED

Pennsylvania Wipes Up Field With Ann Arbor Eleven.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 14.—Pennsylvania defeated Michigan today, 29 to 0. Year's men were beaten at their own game. Pennsylvania used the forward pass with more accuracy and more effect than did Michigan.

The climax of Michigan's sorrow came when Schultz, the giant captain-center, was taken from the game in the second half. This was the first time in four years that Schultz ever left the field with the game incomplete.

Pennsylvania outclassed Michigan at every point. Michigan's defense was weak and the offense erratic.

FLY ACROSS CONTINENT

Balloons Preparing for Long Aerial Voyage.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—The two gigantic balloons, American and United States, which will start at 2:30 tomorrow in a race across the continent, are partially inflated tonight and are pulling and hauling at the strong, tarred ropes which hold them at the Chatterbox Park. The inflation of the monster gasbags is to be completed tomorrow morning, and an immense crowd will gather to witness the start.

The weather is ideal for ballooning, according to Manager Ed Eckman, who has the principal promoter of the race. Reports from the districts through which the balloons are expected to pass all bring the same word: "Weather just right."

There will be two occupants in each basket. The America will be piloted by Horace E. Wild, and he will have Frank Leroy as his assistant. Captain Augustus Mueller will pilot the United States and will be accompanied by J. K. Hutchinson.

Arrangements have been made to drop messages from the two balloons at stated intervals and to collect these messages and get the facts contained in them regarding the direction and speed of the two racers to Los Angeles as soon as possible.

FEAR RENEWED ATTACK

Mrs. Phipps' Friends Keep Guard. Mrs. Read Not Bond Swindler.

DENVER, Nov. 14.—Owing to the belief that others may have been implicated in the plot to dynamite Mrs. Genevieve Phipps besides Mrs. Allen E. Read, the honor of the woman whose life was placed in immediate jeopardy is now guarded night and day to prevent any repetition of the attempt to blackmail her by persons who may have conspired in the crime or who may have been directly implicated in the plot.

Mrs. Read is reported very ill. That Mrs. Read could not possibly be identical with Mrs. Alice Cheney Brown, the woman who on November 7 attempted to swindle a firm of brokers out of bonds valued at $20,000, was asserted today by Miss Jessie Campbell, Mrs. Read's sister, who arrived in the city from Rochester, N. Y., yesterday evening. Miss Campbell said it had been ascertained that Mrs. Read did not leave Buffalo for the West until November 12. Miss Campbell is convinced that Illinois and the use of morphine have unbalanced her sister's mind.

Taft Dedicates Martyr's Column

Imposing Monument to Prisoners Who Died in British Ships.

KILLED BY UTTER NEGLIGENCE

President-Elect Exonerates British Commanders—Horrible Sufferings of Thousands of Revolutionary Soldier-Prisoners.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—With military pomp and impressive ceremony the monument in Brooklyn to the martyrs of the prison ships in the Revolutionary War was dedicated this afternoon. President-elect Taft made a special trip from Hot Springs, Va., to deliver the oration. Secretary of War Wright, on behalf of the Government, made the presentation address and Governor Charles E. Hughes, on behalf of the state, accepted the memorial. Preceding these ceremonies at Fort Green Park, where the monument had been erected, was a brilliant military, naval and civic parade in Brooklyn, in which detachments of the Army and Navy, National Guard, Grand Army of the Republic and patriotic societies took part.

Cruelty Not Premeditated.

In his tribute to the 10,000 men who sacrificed their lives in the prison ships Mr. Taft said he did not wish to be understood as charging that the horrible conditions which obtained on the ships were due to premeditation of the English commanders, commander-in-chief or any one in authority.

"Such charges would make the British commanders human monsters," said he. "The conditions were the result of neglect, not design."

He contrasted the treatment of prisoners of war in those years with that of recent times. The conduct of both Russian and Japanese prisoners during the recent war in the Far East was pointed to by Mr. Taft as an example of the remarkable progress which had taken place since the days of the Revolution.

Washington Not to Blame.

He defended Washington against the charge which has been made that upon him should be placed at least a portion of the responsibility for the ill-treatment of the ship prisoners as a result of the conditions which obtained on the imprisoned American sailors for imprisoned British soldiers. He said that the conditions which prevailed made it absolutely essential for Washington to retain his British soldiers prisoners.

"What should be emphasized," said he, "is that the refusal of Washington and the American authorities to accept the proposed exchange was not the slightest justification for the neglect and cruelty with which the prisoners of war upon the prison hulks were treated."

An imposing Doric column of granite, 270 feet high, surmounted by a funeral urn and a staff, rises above the tomb at Fort Greene Park, Brooklyn.

Martyrs Long Neglected.

The vicissitudes of the remains of the soldiers and sailors who died of fever and starvation or rotted in the lime in four years' play that Schultz ever left the field with the game incomplete.

With passing years the structure fell into decay, the bones became exposed and children played with them. Public feeling became aroused and in 1875 the city of Brooklyn removed all that could be collected, several and buried them to a tomb at Fort Greene Park under the stars of the entrance, where they had been until work had been done on the monument.

The experiences of the prison ship martyrs constitute one of the most frightful chapters in American history. Eleven thousand sailors and soldiers died in the Jersey alone, a ship constructed to accommodate only 400 men, into which more than 1000 prisoners were usually crammed. Many were kept there for years. A survivor, Captain Thomas Dring, vividly depicted the scenes of the horrible incarceration.

Horrors of Prison Ships.

Registered and sent below, newcomers suffered terribly from the intolerable heat and foul air, and when they sought the narrow air-holes they found them blocked by others, who fought with all their strength for even the faintest breath of the precious air.

Of the bread furnished the prisoners, the Rev. Thomas Andros wrote in his account: "I do not recollect seeing any that was not full of living vermin, but that was not all that was to be feared. The inside of the copper in which the prisoners' meals were cooked had become corroded to such a degree that it had become lined with a coating of verdigris. All the fish which accumulated from upward of a thousand men was daily thrown overboard, and would remain there until carried away by the tide, the ship being so impurely that the water could not be conceived, and in this water our meat was boiled."

Mr. Taft arrived at Jersey City at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon and immediately boarded a tug which took him to Brooklyn. He was met at Jersey City by his brother, Henry W. Taft, Timothy L. Woodruff and several representatives of

Pekin and been published around the world. The Emperor of China is dead. The report from London of his improvement probably referred to a temporary change only. This Peking message is the first unqualified statement to come from the Chinese capital and it gives specifically the time of the Emperor's death.

The regent is Prince Chun, the Emperor's brother, and if he is accepted by the government he is considered as the Emperor's successor. The likelihood of any revolutionary outbreak in China will be reduced materially.

JAPAN WILL USE CAUTION

Mikado to Consult Nations Before Making Move in China.

TOKIO, Nov. 14, 6 P. M.—In this city the report of the death of the Emperor of China is generally accepted as true. The news of his passing is accompanied by a rumor that the Emperor Dowager is also gravely ill, while this is not given general credence, it is understood that she has been seriously ill for several weeks.

The Associated Press has excellent grounds for believing that the situation in China, in the event of the Dowager's death, will not be made the occasion of any summary move on the part of Japan, but that the Japanese government will await an agreement of all the powers.

It may be said it is not Japan's intention, in the event of disorder or disorganization in Chinese territory, to take any step whatever until there has been a consultation of all the interested nations and until a satisfactory arrangement has been determined upon.

Whatever may develop, Japan has determined that there shall be laid at her door no charge of bellicose or aggressive action. This may be regarded as absolute and authoritative.

In all circles the situation is eagerly discussed. The Associated Press has been given to understand that there is a fair possibility of avoiding any trouble with China if the new Emperor is accepted and approved by the Nation prior to the death of the Dowager.

All the newspapers here are publishing extras dealing with the possibilities of the Chinese situation.

HAS NO FEAR OF UPRISING

Mrs. Conger Does Not Expect Trouble in Chinese Empire.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 14.—"I do not think that an uprising would follow the death of both the Emperor and the Dowager Empress of China," said Mrs. E. H. Conger, widow of the late United States Minister to China, when seen today at her home here and informed of the death of the Emperor and the Dowager Empress.

"I have been a bit skeptical concerning the reports of the Emperor's death," she continued. "You know there have been so many reports to that effect and they have all heretofore proved untrue, but if he is dead the reins of power will remain secure in the hands of the Dowager Empress."

"If she dies, the present Empress will ascend the throne. I knew her quite well when we were in China. She has been untried except in the domestic affairs of the court, but always seemed very capable. The present Empress was frequently in attendance at receptions and other affairs of state, although following the recall of the court to Peking with him on all state occasions. He never spoke to strangers, but always appeared to follow the conversation intelligently."

DISPATCHER IS SET FREE

Court Absolves Operator From Responsibility in Fatal Wreck.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 14.—A special to the Miner from Plains, Mont., says: Justice Bowman today discharged the court dispatcher, E. M. Ringer, who was charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the recent wreck on the Northern Pacific at Olive, in which five lives were lost. The case against J. H. Kealy, the second dispatcher, and Operator Mitchell will be called for trial November 27.
