

GOMEZ WILL WIN CUBAN PRESIDENCY

Liberal Ticket Scheduled for Victory in Today's Election.

CONSERVATIVES ARE LOSING

American Army Officer Heads Force to Keep Down any Demonstration Likely to Arise in Cienfuegos.

HAVANA, Nov. 12.—On the eve of the Cuban national election the outlook for the election of the ticket headed by General Gomez, candidate for President of the republic, within 24 hours there has been marked depression in the outlook for the election of the conservatives, with a corresponding feeling of assurance of victory by the liberals.

The polls will open at 7 o'clock this morning and close at 8 in the evening. In Cienfuegos, always a political storm center, where General Menocal, conservative, complained recently of the hostile attitude of the police, tranquility is assured by the action of Mayor Figueroa. While denying General Menocal's charge against the police, he requested Governor Magoon to place an American Army officer in charge of his force. Governor Magoon has detailed Captain Whiteside of the Fifteenth Cavalry to act as supervisor.

CUBAN POLITICIAN IS SHOT

Ex-Mayor of Cienfuegos Kills Edwardo Prieto, Liberal.

CIEINFUEGOS, Nov. 12.—General Garcia Veto, a Conservative ex-Mayor of Cienfuegos, shot and killed Edwardo Prieto, a Liberal, last night. Veto alleges that Prieto insulted and attacked him. It is not known whether the quarrel had its origin in politics.

Governor Magoon, of Santa Clara province, in November, dismissed Veto from the Mayoralty. Veto was a strong Moderate and was bitterly opposed by the Liberals for alleged complicity in the murder of Alvaro Villaverde at Cienfuegos. Villaverde was killed in a fight with the police. It was said that a store of arms had been deposited in the hotel in which Villaverde lived and the police were sent there to make an investigation. Ascending the stairs, a party of Liberals, it was said, fired on the police, killing their chief, Senior Allireno. The police returned the fire and Villaverde was slain.

BECAUSE HE WAS OUTCAST

HAAS GIVES REASON FOR SHOOTING OF HENEY.

Says Henev Caused Ostracism and Pronounced Own Death Sentence by Exposing Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—For more than an hour Morris Haas, who shot J. Henev, was interrogated by Captain Duke and W. J. Burns last night. Haas made a rambling statement, declaring one moment he had been determined to kill Mr. Henev and saying in the next that he had nothing against him, but, disgustedly maintaining that neither Ruf nor his attorneys had anything to do with getting him on the jury in Ruf's previous trial or with his attempt to assassinate the Assistant District Attorney.

"My name is Morris Haas," said he. "Yes, I shot Henev. He ruined my life. Henev pronounced his own death sentence when he denounced me in court. I have had no business at all since that time. It was an outrage of Henev to do that. I am the outraged party here. People ostracized me, they would not even look at me any more. Henev had no right to do that. My conviction and serving in the penitentiary was public record. Why didn't he look into that?"

"My God! I have a wife and four children. Do you think I would have brought those children into the world to have them branded that way through Henev's exposure of me in that way? I don't care what becomes of me now. You can hang me or do anything you want with me."

Haas asked Mr. Burns to take some cigars from one of his pockets, retain one himself and give him one, as he could talk better then. He also asked respectfully that the handcuffs be taken from his wrists, saying, "I won't hurt you."

He developed from Haas' replies to questions the theory that the first time that he was in the courtroom in Carpenter's Hall and the third time that he had attended Ruf's present trial.

He said that he had spent some time today in a nickelodeon on Fillmore street, saying that he "went there to hide because it was dark," and went home about 2 o'clock feeling "miserable." At 2:30 he left his home and walked to the courtroom, arriving there a little after 4 o'clock, just after a recess had been taken.

Pressed again and again by his interrogators as to why he had shot Mr. Henev, Haas said:

"I will give you the reason. I did it just for humanity's sake."

"Why didn't you shoot Ruf for humanity's sake?"

"Because Ruf did not denounce me that way. Oh, what I have suffered, but I don't talk. I had to do it. I didn't take any revenge upon Mr. Henev. I absolutely didn't."

VOTES FOR INDEPENDENCE

Porto Rico Elects Unionists in All Seven Districts.

the history of the annual intercollegiate football games between the rival institutions. Each team is credited with one goal from placement. Idaho's counting after ten minutes of play in the first half on a well-directed kick by Small from the 37-yard line and Washington State College following ten minutes later in the same half on a goal by Hahn from the 30-yard line.

The game attracted a large crowd from almost every town within 50 miles. The total attendance was 999. It was the greatest game, the biggest crowd and the most widely exciting scenes among the rosters that either Pullman or Moscow has ever known.

The game was intensely close, dauntless and fiercely fought. Only three times was time taken out for an injured player and only one player was removed from the game, Galbraith, who entered it against advice of physicians and coaches with three rib ligaments torn loose and who fought weeping as he was dragged off.

The teams played fiercely at top speed from one whistle to the last with scarcely a moment's rest. Officials ran themselves out of breath following the progress of the ball and actually gave it up toward the last. Idaho never had a possible chance for a touchdown, but Washington State College twice got almost within striking distance.

BOMB BLOWS UP TAXICAB

WOMAN WRECKED MACHINE ON NEW YORK STREET.

Hires It and Places Dynamite Where It Blows Vehicle to Fragments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The explosion of what is supposed to have been a dynamite bomb in a taxicab in front of the Grand Central station, on Forty-second street, created excitement in the vicinity at midnight. The car was wrecked, but so far as is known no one was hurt. According to the police, the machine was hired by a woman in front of a Broadway restaurant and she is supposed to have placed the bomb.

MURDERED IN DEPOT

Wealthy New Jersey Man Killed by Former Employee.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—In view of hundreds of persons in the Pennsylvania depot in Jersey City today, Walter Ammon was shot three times in the head and body and died on the way to the hospital. The man who did the shooting was quickly caught. He gave the name of Andrew McGrath, but refused to make any statement. Mr. Ammon was a member of the daily firm of Ammon & Person.

McGrath said that he had been employed as a salesman by Ammon & Person and had been discharged. At the office of the firm it was said that the attack on Ammon was the result of trouble over business matters.

The ordinary license requires that the game laws be strictly observed. These laws, say New Yorkers who have hunted in Africa, give him permission to kill only the following animals and birds: Two male elephants, two rhinoceroses, 10 hippopotami, 21 antelopes, including two kudu, two gazelle and one bongo, two earth hogs, two earth wolves, 10 chevrotines, two muskdeer, two marabou storks, two ostriches, two egrets and one chimpanzee.

Roosevelt will be forbidden to shoot giraffes, wild asses, eland, zebra, female or young elephants, vultures of any species, owls of any species, saddle-billed storks, white-headed storks, crowned cranes, okapi, female buffalo, female or young ostriches, and specklestragthupus, female.

There are no restrictions placed upon the number of lions, leopards and crocodiles that he may wish to slaughter. There is no closed season in Africa for these animals and reptiles.

BAN ON ALL FRATERNITIES

Berkeley Superintendent Issues Ultimatum to High School Students.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 12.—No such ultimatum to the high-school fraternities has ever been issued in this state as was uttered yesterday by Superintendent Frank J. Bunker, of the Berkeley schools. The students were told that unless the charter of every fraternity and sorority in the school is returned at once to the National headquarters, they would be summarily expelled from the schools. In a lengthy denunciation of the societies, which have existed in spite of several rulings of the Board of Education, Bunker declared that the fraternities not only disrupted the school, but also aroused a false social feeling by the promotion of cliques. In addition, he contended, membership was an interference with studies.

HENEY USED OWN MONEY

Told Salem Attorney Grant Cases Had Cost Him $20,000.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 12.—(Special)—"Mac, I have spent over $20,000 of my own money on these graft trials—in fact, practically all the available money I have has been put into this thing," Francis J. Henev said to Attorney L. H. McMahon, of Salem, when the latter visited Henev in San Francisco some months ago, according to McMahon. McMahon says Henev expressed doubt that a man is justified in giving the best years of his life and most of his earnings in the cause of the public.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST THREE

Cooper, His Son and Ex-Sheriff Sharp Indicted for Killing Carmack.

YOUNG COOPER RECOVERING

Youth Who Fired Fatal Shots Will Soon Be Removed From Hospital—Six Defendants' Names in Bill.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 12.—The grand jury of Davidson county returned a true bill yesterday in which Colonel R. Cooper, his son, Edwin R. Cooper, and ex-Sheriff John D. Sharp are jointly charged with murdering ex-Senator E. W. Carmack and in which Sharp is indicted also on the charge of being an accessory before the fact.

The names of six witnesses appear, as follows: Mrs. E. W. Carmack, Mrs. Charles Eastman, Carey Folk, Dr. Wittenberg, Mrs. Martha Morgan and Mrs. Mary Skiffington. The Mrs. Carmack in the list is the widow of the ex-Senator. It was Mrs. Eastman to whom Mr. Carmack spoke just before the shooting. Carey Folk is Deputy Insurance Commissioner and passed along the street near the time of the killing. Mrs. Morgan lives diagonally across from the scene. Dr. Wittenberg runs an optical establishment in the west end of the arcade through which the Cooper accompanied by Sharp, are alleged to have passed shortly before the tragedy. Mrs. Mary Skiffington is State Librarian. The names of S. C. Carter, the author of the slain man, appears on the indictment as prosecutor.

Physicians attending young Cooper, who was wounded in the shoulder by a ball from Carmack's revolver, said tonight that their patient was doing as well as could be expected. Cooper will be able to be moved within several days.

DECLINES SPECIAL PERMITS

Roosevelt Will Follow Regular Channels on African Hunt.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt having declined the offer of the British Foreign Office to grant a special license, entitling him to the freedom of the African game preserves when he makes his hunting trip in the Spring, his bag will be carried by the law which applies to every sportsman shooting in that country.

The ordinary license requires that the game laws be strictly observed. These laws, say New Yorkers who have hunted in Africa, give him permission to kill only the following animals and birds: Two male elephants, two rhinoceroses, 10 hippopotami, 21 antelopes, including two kudu, two gazelle and one bongo, two earth hogs, two earth wolves, 10 chevrotines, two muskdeer, two marabou storks, two ostriches, two egrets and one chimpanzee.

$5000 TO MEDIUM

Reward if Supernatural Beings Can Pass Test.

SOCIETY OFFERS MONEY ARTISANS COMPOSE CHOIR

Shades Would Be Required to Count Correctly Oranges Passed From Sack Held by Investigator.

Spirits, if such there be, who communicate with the denizens of this world have a chance to win $5000 for some deserving medium by responding to a simple although crucial test applied by the Metropolitan Psychological Society, such, for instance, as counting oranges, oakleaf, female buffalo, female or young ostriches, and specklestragthupus, female.

"It is the fundamental assertion of modern spiritualism," runs the society's circular, which was made public yesterday, "that disembodied spirits communicate frequently and at considerable length with mortals through mediums. As a part of that claim it is further stated that spirits enter our houses and see the objects displayed in the rooms."

"When a medium announces that a spirit is in the room who can see us we will not only see a few oranges upon the table behind the medium so that the cannot see them. We shall also keep our eyes in another direction so that we shall not see them, thus eliminating the question of telepathy. The oranges can communicate the number to the medium. If the spirit does this often enough to render coincidence improbable the medium will receive the money."

It is intended by the society that the medium shall be seated with her back to the table, although not blindfolded. She will be in a semi-circle of other persons, and on each side of her will be two members of the society, who will make sure her head is not turned and that her glasses do not wander. There will be all the daylight or gaslight needed. The fruit is to be placed in a bag and carried by two men to the table. Although the medium is referred to as "she" in the circular, the offer is open to men as well as women.

So-called spiritistic phenomena have been attributed, first, to fraud; second, to connection between the minds of the living, and, third, to the actual communication of spirits with this vale of tears.

"In order to find out which is the true way," said W. S. Davis, secretary of the society, yesterday, "we apply a procedure of elimination and devise a test which at once strikes at No. 1 and No. 2. So if phenomena occur under such elimination the spirit theory stands in bold relief."

"Put Off With 'Subterfuge.'"

"When we try to get a medium to communicate briefly with a spirit on a subject which the spirit knows about," says the circular, "human sources of information being eliminated, we are put off with the apparent subterfuge, that phenomena cannot be evoked at will. Inspirational mediums, automatic writing mediums, planchette, table tilting and trance mediums usually obtain phenomena in great abundance, but the instant we disconnect human sources of information there is always an embarrassing collapse of the medium's power."

Officers of the society are James L. Kellogg, of 229 Broadway, president; David Goldberger, of 717 East One Street and Sixty-ninth street, treasurer, and W. S. Davis, of 22 Spruce street, secretary. Those wishing to enter the com-

FIGHT FOR JONES' SEAT

OREGON MAY LAND ON RIVER AND HARBOR COMMITTEE.

Washington Congressman Will Leave Vacancy When He Begins Senatorial Duties Next March.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 12.—When Representative W. L. Jones, of Washington, takes his seat in the Senate on March 4 next, he will leave behind him a vacancy on the committee of rivers and harbors, which will be a bone of contention among the Congressmen from Oregon and Washington. It has been conceded for many years that the Pacific Northwest States are entitled to representation on this committee, but no Speaker has been willing to allow both states to be represented at the same time, and it is improbable that Speaker Cannon will establish a precedent in the coming Congress.

Representatives Cushman and Humphrey will be the senior Congressmen from the Northwest States in the next Congress, and that fact will operate in their favor in the selection of a successor to Representative Jones, but Mr. Cushman is already a member of the committee on interstate commerce, which outranks rivers and harbors, and the Speaker may be unwilling to give him Jones' place for that reason. Representative Humphrey, on the other hand, would prefer a place on the naval committee on the place on rivers and harbors because of his interest in the Puget Sound Navy-Yard.

Under these circumstances, one of the chances of getting the coveted place on the river and harbor committee. It is impossible to tell which one will be chosen if the Speaker determines to give this place to Oregon. In the event that either one would be chosen, he would have to give up his present committee assignment, but either would be willing to make that sacrifice to get on this important committee.

As Idaho is sending a new Congressman next session, that state stands no chance whatever of being represented on the river and harbor committee.

TAKT OFF FOR BROOKLYN

Will Speak at Monument Dedication, Then Visit Roosevelt.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Nov. 12.—President-elect Taft left here last night for Brooklyn, where this afternoon he is to deliver the principal address at the unveiling of the monument erected to the prison ship martyrs.

Jersey City will be reached at 12:30 o'clock today, when the Taft party will board a Navy-yard tug which will land them at a Brooklyn wharf nearest the monument. The return to Jersey City will be made in the same manner in the afternoon, when Mr. Taft immediately will begin his journey south. He will stop over in Washington Sunday to visit President Roosevelt. The President-elect and Vice-President-elect and a number of others were guests at a luncheon today given by Governor-elect Draper, of Massachusetts, at the Oaks. After the luncheon Mr. Taft held an extended conference with Mr. Sherman and later with William L. Ward, National committee-man from New York.
