MISS ARLINE DAVIES
WHOSE KIDNAPING TO MR.
BRUCE K. O'BANON WILL TAKE PLACE SOMETIME IN DEC.

MRS. GEO. MC BRIDE, WIFE OF EX. SENATOR
MC BRIDE, FROM A PASTEL PAINTING
BY LILLIE V. O'RYAN.

THE past week heralded the homecoming of many families who have been abroad, and the approaching holidays of Thanksgiving and Christmas are bringing their usual quota of relatives and friends from distant parts. Apart from the matinee complimentary to Rose Elyng on Thursday, and the benefit for St. Agnes' Baby Home, the affairs social have been confined to bridge parties and several theater parties. On Thursday almost everyone went to the Heilig to do homage to "Lady Rose," and there were many in the audience who paid her tribute 40 years ago. Miss Elyng occupied a box, looking most distinguished in a handsome black gown with lace fichu, and was the recipient of much attention.

Programmes and candy-boxes were sold by Misses Dorothy Morrison, Lila Wessinger, Ethel Chamberlain, Lea Todd Bingham, Frances Wilson, Lila Wood and Barbara Crocker. Miss Scott, Miss Houghton, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett and Mrs. Harry Stinson Sladen have been the chief motifs for entertaining during the past week.

The directors of the Assembly Club have recently decided that their parties in the future will become a permanent institution. Their first party this year will be given at the Hotel Portland on December 16. Roderick Macleay is the president of the organization, Henry L. Corbett the vice president, and Tom Robertson the secretary and treasurer. Three parties in all will be given during the winter.

Thomas Scott, Brooks left last week for San Francisco, where he will meet the transport Buford, on which will arrive Major and Mrs. Parke and Miss Genevieve Parke, who are returning from the Philippines.

At last accounts Mr. and Mrs. George P. Russell and Miss Nan Russell were having a delightful trip through Spain.

Heleen McKenny, Bertha McKenny, Irma Clifford, Baker City; Clara Caulfield, Nieta Harding, Edna Caulfield, Mary Gray, Jean Gray, Mary Steiver, Vivian Holmes, Constance Covell, Edith Woodcock, Jessie Hurley, Gertrude Holmes, Ruth Dunaway, Ruth Hansen, Biancho Huston, Helen Beach, Pearl McKenna, Javin Stanford, Grace Gray, of Portland, and Sara Reed Hammond, of Gold Hill, Or.

Mrs. Walter F. Burrell has returned from a trip to California, where she received many courtesies. Mrs. Burrell went south with Miss Hazel Dolph, going down to attend the wedding of Miss Katherine Brown, of Oakland, to William White. She also attended the celebrated Ned Greenway birthday dinner.

The friends of Miss Lella Lane Shelby will regret to learn that, owing to illness, she will be forced to leave on the immediate future for Eastern Oregon. She will probably be out of the city a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Chapman will visit with Mrs. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hill, during Thanksgiving week, and on their return to their home on Lewis street will be accompanied by Miss Judith Scott for a fortnight's stay.

Mrs. William MacRae gave an afternoon bridge party on Wednesday, with 15 tables. Prizes were given to Mrs. Roger B. Sinner, Mrs. T. W. R. London, and Mrs. Robert Davis. Miss Ella Stephens assisted the hostess.

The first of the subscription dances which are being arranged for this year by Miss Claire Houghton, Hawley Hoffman and Antoine Labbe, will be given on November 24 at Marlark Hall. These parties are being looked forward to with keen anticipation. The patronesses are Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. John K. Kollok, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and Mrs. William H. Warrens. Other parties of this series will be given on December 15, January 16 and February 19. The patronesses of the subscription dances are delectable that the parties will be of an informal nature and that the matrons and girls appear in afternoon gowns and the men in dinner coats. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd will entertain at a supper following the dance Tuesday, at which covers will be laid for 24.

Mrs. Clyde Hixon Reed, who will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Helene White, will arrive this coming week to stay over Thanksgiving and the week end with her mother, Mrs. Walter F. White. Mr. Reed will arrive later to accompany Mrs. Reed home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Teal and Miss Ruth Teal will leave next Saturday for a short Eastern trip, probably to be gone until the first of the year.

Mrs. Lou von Zoll Clarke is leaving this week for Eugene, where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her son Dudley, who is a popular student at the University of Oregon and is prominently identified with football, being full-back on the team.

Miss Susan Stott, the bride-elect, was the honor guest at a bridge party given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Freeman. Prize winners were Miss Effie Houghton and Miss Inez Harrett.

A quiet though pretty wedding which took place in Salt Lake City on Tuesday, November 17, was that of Miss Grace G. Reed, of Boston, and Morris Homan Whitehouse, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Whitehouse. The wedding took place at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rev. C. E. Perkins officiating.

At a banquet given this month at Hotel Astor in New York, at which the guest of honor was Baroness de Baux, three former Portlanders participated in the musical programme which followed. Many Portlanders will recognize the names of Mr. N. C. Zan, Miss M. Healy and Olive Stott Gabriel.

Mrs. Walter M. Cook and her little daughter, Margaret, have been in Wallace, Idaho. They are now visiting in Walla Walla, Wash., the guests of Mrs. John Robb.

were beautifully decorated in smilax and huge yellow chrysanthemums. Much of the woodwork in white and the color scheme, yellow and green, against the white grounds was wonderfully light, airy and effective. The same color scheme was carried out in the other rooms.

The wedding ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Bishop Paddock, of Eastern Oregon.

First in the wedding procession came Lieutenant Converse and Lieutenant Hume, of the Fourteenth Cavalry. Next the bridesmaids, Miss Sarah Winans, of Walla Walla, and Miss Genevieve Thompson, of Portland; Miss Winans in blue messaline and silver, Miss Thompson in pink embroidered net. Then came the matron of honor, Mrs. John Ankeny, in her wedding gown of white satin and lace. The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a gown of white satin trimmed in rare old lace, cut princess, with demi-cour train. Mrs. Levi Ankeny, mother of the bride, wore white chignon satin with lace, ornaments, diamonds.

At the wedding reception immediately after, those in the receiving line assisting Mrs. Ankeny and Captain and Mrs. Pope in receiving their guests were the bride party and Mrs. Harriet H. McArthur, of Portland, aunt of the bride.

In the dining-room the same color scheme was carried out. The room was resplendent with tiny electric lights concealed in the smilax, which was festooned from ceiling to table. Supper was served by Mrs. Thomas H. Brents and Mrs. Burford.

At 9 o'clock Captain and Mrs. Pope left for Portland. After their return they will be at home at Port Walla Walla, where the captain is stationed.

Captain and Mrs. Pope spent Thursday at Mrs. McArthur's home in Portland and left for San Francisco that evening.

Miss Hazel Dolph returned the middle of the week from a delightful three-week visit with Mrs. Eleanor Martin in San Francisco. With her came Mrs. Susan Mills, president of Mills College, California, who will visit for two or three weeks with Mrs. C. A. Dolph.

Attracting much attention is the annual tea given as a benefit for the Children's Home by the Board of Trustees. The tea will be held on next Tuesday from 2:30 until 6 o'clock, and promises to be one of the most interesting affairs of its kind. Miss May Felling will preside in the dining-room, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. J. N. Teal, Mrs. Gustave Simon and Miss Lou Pfanders. The ladies of the board will be assisted by Mrs. T. L. Elliot in receiving, Mrs. A. F. Bloor and Mrs. Harry Allen will be in charge of the candy booth and will be assisted by a bevy of prominent girls.

Chester G. Murphy is being extensively entertained in Los Angeles by his cousin, Mrs. Milo M. Potter, who is well known here.

Miss Ernestine Felling entertained on Wednesday for Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Corbett. In addition to bridge, various games were played, for which 15 prizes were given. The hostess and her mother, Mrs. Edward Felling, received in handsome black net gowns. The drawing-rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and Cosmos. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry
