MISS ELIZABETH DOOLY
WHOSE ENGAGEMENT HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED TO WILSON
WARNER CLARK

A GREATER part of the social activities of the past week have been family gatherings and clanish affairs, which, while particularly delightful and of interest to the partakers themselves, constitutes little of news value. Scattered members of Portland families have gathered at festive dinner parties in honor of the season of thanks, and most of the entertaining done has been of a quiet nature. The football game on Thanksgiving between Multnomah and Oregon brought out an enthusiastic crowd. Boxes were filled and a great many of them were occupied by hand-dressed women. Several dinner parties were given later. Aside from a subscription dance on Tuesday night by the younger set, and the Thanksgiving Alumni college dance, there has been very little prominence given to social features.

All society was interested in the annual tea and candy sale held prior to Thanksgiving at the Children's Home. The board has had under advisement plans for the establishing of a kindergarten, and are taking steps to make these plans an actuality. The members of the board are Mrs. H. L. Pitcock, Mrs. W. B. Roberts, Mrs. Bertha Lowenberg, Mrs. James D. Hart, Mrs. C. W. Burrage, Mrs. A. J. Meier, Mrs. M. C. George, Miss Sallie Lewis, Mrs. Richard Koehler and Mrs. Max Fleischner. The president of the society is Mrs. P. J. Mann. Yesterday afternoon the big, well-lighted rooms at the home were most beautifully decorated for the tea and the tables were handsomely appointed. In charge of the candy booth were Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. W. S. Biles and Mrs. Julius Ippert, who were assisted by a bevy of girls—Miss Madia Hart, Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Amy Hottel, Miss Ernestine Felling and Miss Lowenberg. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Miss Sallie Flanders, Mrs. Gus Simon and Mrs. J. N. Teal. The hostess of the afternoon was Mrs. T. L. Elliot, first vice-president, who was assisted in receiving by several officers of the society.

Miss Lily Shelby (Nancy Lee) is at present at the North Pacific Sanatorium, where she is improving, and will leave later for Eastern Oregon. A reception and musicale was given Sunday afternoon, November 22, in Brooklyn, N. Y., to Mrs. Warren E. Thomas and Dr. W. A. Cumming, of Portland, by Mrs. Sienna Cumming, at her residence, 51 St. Paul's Place. The following well-known artists were present: Janet Spencer, Herbert Witherspoon and Henri Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis have returned from their summer home at Medford and are now visiting his mother, Mrs. C. E. Lewis, before moving into their own home for the winter at the corner of Nineteenth and Flanders.

Mrs. F. B. Lindholm and two children, Alexander and Louise, spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. E. B. Wilson, who is visiting her son, Bruce Wilson, at his place in Medford.

Mrs. Charles Francis Adams has cards out for a reception at her Flanders-street residence on Wednesday, December 2.

since that time has been continuously occupied with its work. Many prominent Portland women have been pupils under Mrs. Mills, and have finished their college course at Mills College. Among those may be numbered Mrs. Frank Warren, Mrs. George Willott, Miss Grace Gilbert, Miss Emily Gilbert, Mrs. Ralph E. Moody, Mrs. Fred Page, Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mrs. C. H. Gantenbein, Professor Luella Clay Carson, of Eugene; Mrs. Walter V. Smith, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph and her daughter, Miss Hazel Mills Dooly.

An interesting engagement which has just been announced is that of Miss Elizabeth Dooly, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dooly, to Wilson Warner Clark. Miss Dooly is prominent among the younger set and is a former Portland Academy student, though in latter years she has lived with her parents in Sacramento. She is now residing at the Guillemet with her sister, Miss Lucille Dooly, Mr. Clark, who is an Easterner, and a student of the Michigan University, and also a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity, came out West two years ago, being interested in lumber. He has been very popular since his arrival and has frequently been host of house parties at his pretty bungalow near Linnton, where he entertained many parties over the week-end last summer. Miss Dooly is an attractive girl with a pleasing personality, and is accomplished musically, having spent some time in Chicago studying both vocal and instrumental. She is a sister of Frank D. Dooly and Maurice Dooly. The wedding will take place the latter part of January.

Mrs. Homer Nelson and her daughter, Miss Frances, are guests this week of Mrs. Don J. Zan, Miss Nelson, who is a popular University of Oregon girl, was greatly admired at the alumni hop on Thanksgiving evening. Her peculiar type of ethereal blonde loveliness was enhanced by a gown of lingerie over palest blue chiffon.

Much interest is expressed in the opening of the new Portland Heights Club, which held its informal opening Thanksgiving evening in the handsome new clubhouse. Only members participated, as the formal opening has been postponed owing to the nonarrival of the bowling alleys, until the Christmas holidays. It is contemplated that the opening will be in the nature of a party on New Year's eve, a reception on New Year's day, to be followed by a dance in the evening. The patronesses for the year's affairs are Mrs. A. D. Chandler, Mrs. A. C. Pantan and Mrs. James D. Hart.

Mrs. J. C. Flanders will spend the Christmas holidays in Southern California, visiting Santa Barbara, the Catalina Islands and Los Angeles. At a smart luncheon this past week at the Portland Mrs. Norman Lang entertained for her sister, Mrs. Orestes Pierce, and Mrs. George W. McNear, Jr., of Oakland, who are en route to their homes in California. Besides the honor guests, there were present Mrs. John C. Almsworth, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Walter P. Burrell, Mrs. J. Allen Lewis, Mrs. C. E. Wood, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, and Miss Carrie Flanders.

Synonymous with the account of the wedding of Miss Inez Cumming of Portland, to Harold Perpal of New York, comes the interesting announcement of the engagement of Miss Veda Cumming, the second daughter of Dr. W. A. Cumming, to Louis L. Leadbetter, of this city. Miss Veda acted as bridesmaid at her sister's wedding, and the engagement was announced at the wedding breakfast that followed. Miss Cumming is an accomplished equestrienne and is well liked among the younger set. Mr. Leadbetter is a member of an old and prominent Portland family.

The dancing party given on Thanksgiving night by the alumni of the wealthy of Oregon was a thoroughly delightful college affair. The hall at the Masonic Temple was beautifully decorated with pennants of various institutions, and the orchestra was screened with palms. Many prominent chrysantheums, too, were in evidence in the decorative scheme. The patronesses of the evening were: Mrs. Pounce Lucian Campbell, of Eugene; Miss Luella Clay Carson, of Eugene; Mrs. George E. Chamberlain, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur, Mrs. John C. Almsworth, Miss Kate Holman, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. William D. Fenton, Mrs. A. J. Giesy, Mrs. Henry W. Goddard, Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. Zera Snow. President and Mrs. Campbell, of the university, led the grand march. Mrs. Campbell, who is a recent bride, was attractive in a pale gray crepe de chine in empire lines, with effective falls of Duchess lace on the bodice. Mrs. George E. Chamberlain was in a pale blue chiffon cloth gown, with trimmings of point Irish lace and satin bands. Mrs. Cyrus Dolph was gowned in black Chantilly lace over white chiffon, and wore handsome diamonds. Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur wore a black net gown over taffeta, embroidered in jet passementerie. Mrs. William D. Fenton was in pale blue satin, with princess lace and net. Mrs. A. J. Giesy wore a handsome cream-colored robe, with white lace. Mrs. A. A. Morrison wore white silk, cut on extremely simple lines and touched with rich lace. Mrs. Zera Snow was charming in a net gown of hydrangea blue with cream lace. Many other handsome gowns were worn and the assemblage was a brilliant one. The out-of-town guests, especially from Eugene, numbered many.

The coming Assembly dance to be given December 15 is being eagerly looked forward to. The party will be given at Hotel Portland, and the series of three which will follow later will become a permanent feature of all future seasons' programmes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer entertained with a dinner on Thanksgiving to which were asked Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Hanley, Richard Koehler, E. B. Linticum and Dr. H. C. Jeffers. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd entertained at a supper on Tuesday evening following the subscription dance at Murlark Hall. The table appointments were very handsome, the centerpiece being a beautiful Japanese art cloth, embroidered in cherry blossoms, and the flowers used in decoration were also blooms of the Flowery Kingdom. Covers were laid for 24. Enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Ladd's hospitality were: Misses Erlie and Claire Houghton, Miss Leslie Knapp, Miss Margaret Walter, Miss Alta Smith, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Monroe, Miss Webster, Mr. and Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Maxwell Wood, Elliott Corbett, Plowden Stott, Tony Labbe, Marion Dolph, Hawley Hoffman, Mr. Wernicke and Mr. Bradley.

Mrs. Holt C. Wilson was hostess on Saturday afternoon at a luncheon party at which 12 covers were laid.

The first one of the series of subscription dances to be given by the younger set was held on Tuesday evening at Murlark Hall, under the management of Miss Claire Houghton, Hawley Hoffman and Antoine Labbe. The affair was entirely informal and the guest list numbered 206. The patronesses were Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. David T. Honeyman and Mrs. William H. Warrens. Mrs. Ladd followed the dance with a supper of 24 covers at her home.

At the Maud Powell concert, Mr. and Mrs. Hanley had as their guest the well-known artist, Childe Hassam, whose recent exhibitions of Eastern Oregon paintings attracted such universal attention. In the party were also Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood and Maxwell Wood.

Mrs. David M. Dunne entertained with cards on Wednesday afternoon for her sister, Mrs. Frank Whelan, and Miss Florence Whelan, who are guests from San Anselmo, California. There were five tables. Decorations of Oregon grape and chrysantheums were used very effectively. The prize of the afternoon was won by Miss Beah.

Mrs. Clyde Hixon Reed, of Los Angeles, has arrived to be a guest of her mother, Mrs. Walter F. White.

Miss Gaeta Ivorda Wold is entertaining her sister, Miss Clara Wold, of Eugene, who came up for the Thanksgiving week.

Mrs. F. A. Nitchy and daughter, Lois, have returned from a two months' trip East, visiting in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Chicago and Denver.

The Irvington Dancing Club gave its initial party of the season Thanksgiving eve, at the Irvington Clubhouse. The club has been most successfully organized for the year by the committee in charge, Messrs. W. H. McMonies, Robert L. Aldrich, C. H. Hoag, R. P. Graham and J. C. Mann, and the membership, which consists almost entirely of Irvington people with a few West Side friends, is limited and is nearly filled, owing to the size of the hall. The decorations of white greens and Oregon grape were most effective. Some very handsome gowns were worn in spite of the informality of the dances. The club will give its next party on Thursday, December 10.

Among the guests registered at the Hotel del Coronado, Coronado Beach, California, is Frank Towle.

Much pleasurable anticipation is heralding the dance to be given on Tuesday evening, December 8, by the Trinity Mission Guild, formerly the King's Daughters. The party will be given at the parish house and is looked forward to by the older young set with great pleasure. Miss Luella Hall will give a solo dance during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, with their daughter, Miss Ruth, will leave on Saturday for Eastern points and will spend several months in Washington and New York.

It is learned with much pleasure that Harold Chamberlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chamberlin, who has spent the last year in Eastern Oregon, is looked for home the first week in December. Mr. Chamberlin is a popular club and frat member and a social favorite among the academic set.

Mrs. M. L. Holbrook and Mrs. C. W. Sherman, of Willamette Heights, are spending a month in New York City. They are staying at the New Astor.
