Great Basso to Sing Here

George P. Walcker to Be Heard at Masonic Temple Next Week.

Portland music-lovers have in store the pleasure of hearing one of the greatest of present basses, George P. Walcker, who comes here direct from the Royal Opera, Berlin, will appear at Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening, February 17, in concert recital. The programme is a notable one and will appeal most strongly to discriminating people. The distinguished basso has appeared in this country but once since his arrival from Berlin, at Carnegie Hall recently, when he was assisted by Maud Powell, the violinist, and Clarence Eddy, the organist. The following programme has been decided upon:

George P. Walcker, the Distinguished Basso-Profundo.

Henry Purcell (1658-1695)—Bass aria from "Dido and Aeneas" (1691).
George Friderich Handel (1685-1759)—Aria, "Smiling Bacchus" from opera "Serse" (1726).
Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756-1791)—Aria "Tuti Sogno" from "Il Flauto Magico" (1791).
Carl Loeve (1790-1829)—"Der Feind" (the enemy).
Franz Peter Schubert (1797-1828)—"Der Wanderer," "Ungeheuer" (Hörner).
Richard Strauss (1864)—"Die Götter" (the gods).
Johannes Brahms (1833-1897)—"Liebliche Wägen," "Auf dem Kischhofe," "Verrath." (Schiller).
Richard Strauss (1864)—"Das Thal." (Schiller).
Sir Alexander Campbell Mackenzie (1847)—"Spring Song."
Alfred Philemann, the famous musical critic of the Berliner Tageblatt, said recently in reviewing one of Mr. Walcker's appearances in the German capital: "Herr Walcker possesses a magnificent base voice of extraordinary compass. The volume and sonority of the lower tones are phenomenal. Whether upon the stage or in the concert hall his voice seems equally effective."

on East Stephens street. Mrs. George Howell and Mrs. McCarthy were the prize-winners. The club will next meet with Mrs. Frank Brown.

The Peerless Twelve Five Hundred Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Elmer Walker, 64 East Thirtieth street on Wednesday afternoon. Forty hands were played, the prizes being awarded to Mrs. Lena Gill and Mrs. Lillie Dalsiel.

The Jolliest Club on Earth gave their third of a series of dancing parties last Friday evening at the Knights of Pythias Hall. Ninety couples were in attendance and a very enjoyable evening passed.

The Entre Nous gave another popular dancing party at the Homesteaders' hall, East Burnside street and Grand avenue, last Friday evening. The dance was largely attended.

WEDDINGS.

Lauterman-Boise.

A quiet but impressive ceremony was that which united in marriage Mr. John Henry Lauterman and Miss Mae Elizabeth Boise, of this city, on Wednesday, February 1, at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. P. Boise. Miss Boise is the daughter of the late Judge R. P. Boise, who was formerly connected with the early history of Oregon, having served for over 30 years on the Supreme and Circuit Bench. Mr. Lauterman is one of Salem's progressive business men. The ceremony was solemnized by Dr. J. R. Omer, of this city, a friend of the groom. Immediately preceding the ceremony the solo, "Oh, Promise Me," was beautifully rendered by Miss Annie McCulloch. Mr. and Mrs. Lauterman will reside in Salem and have the good wishes of a host of friends. No cards.

Moll-Meyer.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Meyer, on the Section Line road, South Mount Tabor, when Michael Moll and Miss Rose Meyer were united in marriage by Father Kilpatrick, of Montavilla. The house was decorated in white, pink and green. The wedding march was played by Miss Lena Ertl. The bride was dressed in cream silk and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. Her veil was held in place with orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Celia Moll, was dressed in a delicate blue gown. August Meyer acted as best man. Only near relatives and intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Moll left for a trip to California and will be at home in South Mount Tabor after March 1.
