The wedding of Miss Louise Katherine Cuddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Cuddy, to Oscar F. Fulkerson will take place on Tuesday, March 2.

John Jay Harrison was the host at a dinner of 14 covers on Friday night at the Commercial Club in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, who have appeared in the leading roles of Kerry Gage at the Baker Theater. Miss Anna Lichter, the prima donna who appeared at the Orpheum, Mr. Harrison's guests were members of the newspaper fraternity.

Mrs. Samuel B. Schwab and her two daughters will leave soon for a nine-months' trip abroad. They will sail from New York on March 11 on the "Koenig Albert," the same steamer on which the President sailed for his African trip, and also Dr. and Mrs. Ray Matson.

Miss Ida and Gene Spear, of Spokane, are guests for a week of Miss Lullie Hall, visiting here on route home from a several months' motor tour through Southern California. Miss Hall has visited the Spear girls on several occasions, at Lake Mead, in Idaho and at Bremerton, where their brother, Paymaster Spear, is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cookingham entertained on Tuesday evening at the attractive Miss Bertie Baar, of Vienna, it being Miss Baar's birthday anniversary. Instead of bridge, hearts was played, with the men alone progressing. Mr. and Mrs. Cookingham's guests were Major and Mrs. James Canby, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Meers, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. The prizes was a carved silver frame, which was won by Miss Baar.

Mrs. J. Ernest Laidlaw and Miss Nona Lawler gave a programme of child's songs at an open meeting of the Progress Club last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Laidlaw's clear, simple tone and distinct enunciation made her work a delight. The group of old French chansons and the Kipling-German numbers were particularly enjoyable. These last were heard for the first time in Portland, and the refreshing fun of Kipling's rhymes, set to music of real dramatic and dramatic power, produced a most unusual effect. Miss Lawler sang pleasingly the dainty nature songs of the kindergarten. Her voice is a clear soprano, and is especially charming in the light work which is the goal of so many singers.

Mrs. William M. Kapus has returned from a two-months' visit with relatives in Alameda, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Herdman, Jr., were hosts at a dinner on Friday evening, entertaining for Mrs. Herdman's sister, Miss Jager. Covers were laid for 12.

GRANDSON OF PROMINENT OREGON PIONEER TAKES BRIDE

Mrs. MILTON B. CHILDERS.

An extremely pretty, though simple, wedding took place at St. Mark's Church Tuesday evening, when Miss Isabel France, youngest daughter of Mrs. Felix St. Martin and the late Captain Felix St. Martin, was united in marriage to Milton B. Childers, grandson of one of Oregon's most prominent pioneers, Rev. J. E. H. Simpson officiating.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Victor St. Martin, and was preceded up the aisle by her mother, Mrs. Felix St. Martin, and Mrs. Arthur King, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor. At the altar they were met by the groom, attended by Percy Morgan. The bride was given away by her brother, Victor St. Martin.

The bride was attired in a white lace empire gown, and wore a veil which enveloped her entire figure. She carried white carnations. The matron of honor wore yellow organdie over white silk, with a large black picture hat. She carried daffodils. Arthur King and Laurence Hodges acted as ushers.

After the wedding ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served to the immediate friends of the bride and groom at the home of the bride's mother, 267 Twelfth street. The house was prettily decorated with daffodils and carnations. At the conclusion of the supper the Misses Harwar delighted those present with a number of out-of-town friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Childers will be at home, after March 15, at their new residence, 965 East Alder.

Hood River; Miss Ruth Honeyman, Miss Olive Failing, Miss Ernestine Failing and Louise Carey.

Mrs. H. C. Eckenberger left last week for Fresno, Cal., where she will visit her mother for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Simpson, of Coos Bay, are guests at the Hotel Portland.

Miss Charlotte Sherlock gave a tea at her residence on Tuesday first at Washington streets for the benefit of the All Saints Mission, an institution in which she has long been interested.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fieischer, with their guests, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stoltz, and Miss Hilda Jacobs, spent several days last week at their beach residence.

Mrs. Frederick Eggert, with her sister, Mrs. Avery, is spending a month in California.

On Tuesday evening, February 23, Miss Winifred Rhoda Rankin, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Barrett Rankin, and Frank J. Golechur, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Portland Heights, Dr. Clarence True Wilson reading the service.

Mrs. Herbert Ostram, of Seattle, was the motif for a small bridge party on Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren as the hosts.

Mrs. John A. Keating entertained on Monday noon at the Portland Heights Club for the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Decorations were elaborate and appropriate to Washington's birthday. Mrs. Clyde R. Alchison was the soloist for the afternoon, and Mrs. Sylvia McGuire presented some interesting negro dialect recitations of her own composition. The hosts and her assistants were the becoming costumes of colonial days, and little Percy Lee Menefee and Virginia Menefee, recently from Texas, impersonated George and Martha Washington. The following officers of the D. A. R. received with Washington's birthday: Mrs. Wallace McCamant, regent; Mrs. Hughes, of Salem, vice-regent; Mrs. A. E. Rockey, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. John A. Keating, Mrs. Frances J. Bailey, Mrs. John Hall and Mrs. William H. Chapin. Mrs. William H. Chapin and Mrs. Frances J. Bailey were assisted by a number of young girls.

Decidedly the most brilliant event of the college year was the Kappa Sigma party given on Saturday, February 20, by the Gamma Alpha Chapter of Kappa Sigma at the University of Oregon, in Eugene. A pergola in the center of the floor of Mr. Arnold's concealed the orchestra and was elaborately twined with garlands of vines, which ran to the balcony. In the balcony tele-a-tete tables were arranged for supper. Nibbled among those present were Professor Luella Clay Carson, who was gown in pale blue silk with rose point; Mrs. Irving Glen in gray pompadour silk; Mrs. Zera Snow in white messaline; cut director's lines; Mrs. H. A. Nelson in a gown of oyster white satin; Mrs. Lou von Zoll Clarke in an attractive pastel blue gown; Mrs. E. Cox in old rose broadcloth; and Mrs. Robert Forbes in a gown of blue messaline. The invitation list included Mr. and Mrs. Zera Snow, of Portland; Professor and Mrs. L. M. Glen; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nelson, of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. R. Forbes, of Wendling; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burden; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Cox; Professor Luella C. Carson, Mrs. Lou von Zoll Clarke, Mrs. S. W. Thompson, of Salem; Miss Flora Mason, of Albany, and many members of Portland's younger set. The hosts were John Randolph Latourette, Gordon C. Moore, Herbert F. Clarke, William H. Wood, Robyn H. Nelson, C. McCormick, Berkeley Snow, Dudley Frederick J. Whittlesy, Victor W. Voigt, Norwood Charman, Harold E. Bates, Harry A. Swart, Curtis H. Coleman, Ronald Macenzie, Cecil J. Eddy, Varnel Beach, Gerard Eastham, Chester A. Moore, Earl F. McIntosh, Earle C. Latourette, John M. Hickson, Ralph D. Moore and Henry A. Biagen.

Many people are interested in the dramatic clubs among the business young men and women of our Eastern cities. Although in most instances untrained, the members of these clubs frequently display exceptional talent. Such a dramatic club has been organized at the People's Institute. The Young Women's Club is under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Sawyers and the young girls' club under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. On March 12, in the Institute auditorium, will be given a joint production by these two clubs. Mrs. Corbett's class will present excerpts from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" as a curtain raiser, preceding the burlesque given by the club under Miss Sawyers' direction. This farce was written especially for the club by Miss Sawyers and is called "The University of the Princess." It is on the idea of Tennyson's "Princess" and higher education for women. To disclose her plans and give operation the Princess Ida invites many of the leading women of fiction to her
