BODY—Made from heavy grade blue planished steel, double and inter-lined with asbestos where exposed to the direct action of the fire.
CASTINGS—Made from Kemi-Test metal, the smoothest, toughest and longest lasting iron ever placed in stoves.
RIVETING—All rivets are driven cold by hand.
FIRE BOX—Extra large and lined with sectional, easily removed, heavy heat-resisting linings.
GRATE—Our famous JEWEL duplex, made without track or frames to warp and crack; can be quickly removed without disturbing the fire-box linings. When reversed forms a perfect wood fire bottom.
POUCH FEED AND GRATE DOOR—The entire left end of the range in front of the fire-box is cast iron. The pouch-feed door lifts for feeding coal, and the grate door, when dropped, exposes entire front of grate for cleaning the fire.
OVENS—Made square, full size, with Dean's patented non-buckling oven bottom. Top protected by special cast plate. Oven thermometer furnished.
TOP PLATE—Cast in sections to insure against warping or cracking. Six cooking holes provided. Covers and centers of trussed design.
ASH-PIT—Extra large and equipped with heavy steel balled ash-pan.
STYLES AND SIZES—Made in six styles and six sizes, with 14, 16, 18 and 20-inch ovens. SEND FOR 1909 CATALOGUE.
